READER'S GUIDE TO THE PENNSYLVANIA BULLETIN AND PENNSYLVANIA CODE

Pennsylvania Bulletin

The Pennsylvania Bulletin is the official gazette of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is published every week and includes a table of contents. A cumulative subject matter index is published quarterly.

The Pennsylvania Bulletin serves several purposes. First, it is the temporary supplement to the Pennsylvania Code, which is the official codification of agency rules and regulations and other statutorily authorized documents. Changes in the codified text, whether by adoption, amendment, repeal or emergency action must be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. Further, agencies proposing changes to the codified text do so in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Second, the Pennsylvania Bulletin also publishes: Governor's Executive Orders; State Contract Notices; Summaries of Enacted Statutes; Statewide and Local Court Rules; Attorney General Opinions; Motor Carrier Applications before the Public Utility Commission; Applications and Actions before the Department of Environmental Protection; Orders of the Independent Regulatory Review Commission; and other documents authorized by law.

The text of certain documents published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin is the only valid and enforceable text. Courts are required to take judicial notice of the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

There are no restrictions on the republication of official documents appearing in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Adoption, Amendment or Repeal of Regulations

Generally an agency wishing to adopt, amend or repeal regulations must first publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. There are limited instances where the agency may omit the proposal step; they still must publish the adopted version.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking contains the full text of the change, the agency contact person, a fiscal note required by law and background for the action.

The agency then allows sufficient time for public comment before taking final action. An adopted proposal must be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin before it can take effect. If the agency wishes to adopt changes to the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to enlarge the scope, they must re-propose.

Citation to the Pennsylvania Bulletin

Cite material in the Pennsylvania Bulletin by volume number and page number. Example: Volume 1, Pennsylvania Bulletin, page 801 (short form: 1 Pa.B. 801).

Pennsylvania Code

The Pennsylvania Code is the official codification of rules and regulations issued by Commonwealth agencies and other statutorily authorized documents. The Pennsylvania Bulletin is the temporary supplement to the Pennsylvania Code, printing changes as soon as they occur. These changes are then permanently codified by the Pennsylvania Code Reporter, a monthly, loose-leaf supplement.

The Pennsylvania Code is cited by title number and section number. Example: Title 10 Pennsylvania Code, § 1.1 (short form: 10 Pa.Code § 1.1).

Under the Pennsylvania Code codification system, each regulation is assigned a unique number by title and section. Titles roughly parallel the organization of Commonwealth government. Title 1 Pennsylvania Code lists every agency and its corresponding Code title location.

How to Find Documents

Search for your area of interest in the Pennsylvania Code.

The Pennsylvania Code contains, as Finding Aids, subject indexes for the complete Code and for each individual title, a list of Statutes Used As Authority for Adopting Rules and a list of annotated cases. Source Notes give you the history of the documents. To see if there have been recent changes, not yet codified, check the List of Pennsylvania Code Chapters Affected in the most recent issue of the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

The Pennsylvania Bulletin also publishes a quarterly List of Pennsylvania Code Sections Affected which lists the regulations in numerical order, followed by the citation to the Pennsylvania Bulletin in which the change occurred.

Printing Format

Material proposed to be added to an existing rule or regulation is printed in bold face and material proposed to be deleted from such a rule or regulation is enclosed in brackets [] and printed in bold face. Asterisks indicate ellipsis of Pennsylvania Code text retained without change. Proposed new or additional regulations are printed in ordinary style face.

Fiscal Notes

Section 612 of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 232) requires that the Office of Budget prepare a fiscal note for regulatory actions and administrative procedures of the administrative departments, boards, commissions or authorities receiving money from the State Treasury stating whether the proposed action or procedure causes a loss of revenue or an increase in the cost of programs for the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions; that the fiscal note be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin at the same time as the proposed change is advertised; and that the fiscal note shall provide the following information: (1) the designation of the fund out of which the appropriation providing for expenditures under the action or procedure shall be made; (2) the probable cost for the fiscal year the program is implemented; (3) projected cost estimate of the program for each of the five succeeding fiscal years; (4) fiscal history of the program for which expenditures are to be made; (5) probable loss of revenue for the fiscal year of its implementation; (6) projected loss of revenue from the program for each of the five succeeding fiscal years; (7) line item, if any, of the General Appropriation Act or other appropriation act out of which expenditures or losses of Commonwealth funds shall occur as a result of the action or procedures; (8) recommendation, if any, of the Secretary of the Budget and the reasons therefor.

The required information is published in the foregoing order immediately following the proposed change to which it relates; the omission of an item indicates that the agency text of the fiscal note states that there is no information available with respect thereto. In items (3) and (6) information is set forth for the first through fifth fiscal years; in that order, following the year the program is implemented, which is stated. In item (4) information is set forth for the current and two immediately preceding years, in that order. In item (8) the recommendation, if any, made by the Secretary of Budget is published with the fiscal note. See 4 Pa. Code § 7.231 et seq. Where "no fiscal impact" is published, the statement means no additional cost or revenue loss to the Commonwealth or its local political subdivision is intended.

THE COURTS

Title 201—RULES OF JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

[201 PA. CODE CH. 7]

Rescission of Former Rule 703 and Adoption of New Rule 703; No. 180; Doc. No. 1

Order

Per Curiam:

And Now, this 28th day of January, 1997, in collaboration with the Pennsylvania Conference of State Trial Judges, former Pennsylvania Rule of Judicial Administration No. 703 is rescinded and new Pennsylvania Rule of Judicial Administration No. 703 is adopted as follows.

To the extent that notice of proposed rulemaking would be required by Rule 103 of the Pennsylvania Rules of Judicial Administration or otherwise, the immediate adoption of such new rule is hereby found to be required in the interest of justice and efficient administration.

This Order shall be processed in accordance with Rule 103(b) of the Pennsylvania Rules of Judicial Administration and the new rule shall be effective immediately, with the first report due on or before July 21, 1997.

Annex A

TITLE 201. RULES OF JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

CHAPTER 7. ASSIGNMENT OF JUDGES

SUPERVISION AND ASSIGNMENT OF JUDGES

Rule 703. Reports of Judges.

(A) Policy Statement.

It is the policy of the unified judicial system that any matter at any stage of a proceeding be brought to a fair conclusion as promptly as possible, consistent with the character of the matter and the resources of the system. The requirements of this rule further specify and implement this policy in keeping with the Court's constitutionally mandated responsibility to oversee the prompt and proper disposition of the business of the Pennsylvania courts.

(B) General Rule.

(1) Every judge shall keep a record of each matter that has been submitted to the judge for decision and which remains undecided.

(2) Every judge shall compile a semi-annual report stating whether the judge has any matter that has been submitted to the judge for decision and remains undecided for ninety days or more as of the last day of the reporting period. Each report shall include matters listed on prior reports which remain undecided.

(a) Decision includes the grant or denial of a pretrial, post-trial, or post-sentence motion or petition, non-jury verdict or decision, entry of an order or judgment, imposition of a sentence, or the filing of an opinion. A matter is submitted for decision even though briefs, transcripts, or reports have been ordered but have not yet been filed.

(b) Judge means a judge of a court of common pleas or a judge of the Philadelphia Municipal Court, active or senior, commissioned six months or longer.

(3) If there are no matters submitted to the judge which remain undecided for ninety days or more, the report shall so state.

Official Note: Under this rule, judges must take inventory of matters in chambers, evaluate their status, and determine the steps needed for timely disposition. Judges must also take an active role in ensuring the timely preparation of documents, such as notes of testimony or psychiatric reports.

(C) Form and Content of Report.

(1) The report shall be prepared on a form supplied by the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts or generated by the computer system of the judge's court in the same format as the form supplied by the Administrative Office.

(2) The report shall be signed by the judge.

(3) For each matter which remains undecided ninety days or more, the report shall state:

- (a) the type, caption, and number of the case;
- (b) the nature of the matter;
- (c) the date of submission to the judge;
- (d) the specific reason(s) for the delay; and
- (e) the specific steps taken to remedy the delay.

Official Note: Specific reasons for a delay might be the filing of additional briefs, a change in the representation of the parties, ongoing settlement negotiations at the request of the parties.

(D) Filing.

(1) The report covering the preceding period of July 1 through December 31 shall be filed on or before January 20, and the report covering the preceding period of January 1 through June 30 shall be filed on or before July 20.

(2) Whenever January 20 or July 20 falls on Saturday or Sunday, or on any day made a legal holiday by the laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States, the date for filing shall be the next business day.

(3) The judge shall file the original report with the Court Administrator of Pennsylvania, and shall file copies of the report with the president judge and the district court administrator of the court on which the judge serves.

Official Note: The requirement that judges file copies of their reports with the president judge and district court administrator will better enable those officials to monitor their dockets in order to address problem areas promptly. If decisional delay persists, the president judge should take strong corrective action. Such action may include providing the judge with additional support or educational resources as may be reasonably available; restructuring judicial case assignments, non-decisional assignments, or work schedules; or any other supervisory action designed to assist the reporting judge in becoming current.

(4) Senior judges or active judges serving in more than one judicial district shall file one consolidated report with

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Title 52—PUBLIC UTILITIES

PENNSYLVANIA PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION [52 PA. CODE CHS. 65 AND 69]

Line Extensions

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission (Commission) on October 3, 1996, adopted a revised order promulgating final-form regulations regarding line extensions. The final-form regulations will require water utilities to provide line extensions without a customer contribution where the annual expected revenues equal or exceed the annual estimated operating and maintenance expenses, plus annual book depreciation and debt expenses associated with the extension. Each company will figure variables appropriate for its own use and will apply these variables into the formula created by the regulation. The contact person is Susan D. Colwell, Assistant Counsel, Law Bureau (717) 783-3459 or 783-3190.

Executive Summary

The Commission instituted a rulemaking proceeding at this docket at the November 19, 1993, public meeting to provide a public forum for discussion and resolution of the problem areas and uncertainty associated with the present main line extension policy in § 69.171. The advance notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin on December 18, 1993, with comments due on or before February 19, 1994.

The proposed regulations were adopted by order entered July 1, 1994, which proposed to require water utilities whose depreciated plant in service amounts to more than $10 million to fund ordinary line extensions without customer contribution where the expected annual revenues equal or exceed annual depreciation expense of the extension computed consistent with the utility's Commission-approved book depreciation rate. These were published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin on October 8, 1994, with a 45-day comment period. Due to an early sine die by the Legislature, the comment period was extended to January 22, 1995.

The Commission entered a final order adopting regulations on December 28, 1995, which will require water utilities to provide line extensions without a customer contribution where the annual expected revenues equal or exceed the annual estimated operating and maintenance expenses, plus annual book depreciation and debt expenses associated with the extension. Each utility will figure variables appropriate for its own use and will apply these variables into the formula created by the regulation.

On April 12, 1996, the Commission elected to temporarily withdraw the regulation from formal Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) review to consider some additional issues raised by IRRC staff, and notice was published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. This final order, adopted October 3, 1996, and entered October 7, 1996, reflects our consideration of the IRRC staff comments, a recent change to Federal income tax law applicable to customer advances, and some language changes to the regulation itself for clarification.

Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Commission submitted a copy of the final rulemaking, which was published as proposed at October 8, 1994, 24 Pa.B. 5103, and served on September 23, 1994, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of House Committee on Consumer Affairs and the Senate Committee on Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Commission also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Commission has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees and the public.

No action was taken on these final-form regulations by the House Committee on Consumer Affairs prior to sine die. The final-form regulations were approved November 13, 1996, by the Senate Committee on Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure, and were approved by IRRC on November 21, 1996, in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

Revised Order

By the Commission:

I. HISTORY OF THE PROCEEDING

This rulemaking was initiated at public meeting held November 10, 1993, to provide a public forum for discussion and resolution of the problem areas and uncertainty associated with the present utility service extension policy as it appears in § 69.171. The advance notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin on December 18, 1993. By notice published February 4, 1994, the comment period was extended from 45 to 60 days.

The advance notice was served on the utility associations and concerned governmental offices seeking detailed answers to a series of specific questions which would be used to evaluate the present policy statement and to draft proposed line extension regulations. Respondents were also encouraged to submit draft regulations and to offer recommendations which they believed would solve controversies.

Following review of the comments and the applicable Pennsylvania case law, the Commission adopted a proposed rulemaking at the June 16, 1994, public meeting, entered July 1, 1994. The proposal was published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin on October 8, 1994, commencing a 45-day comment period. Again, numerous comments were received, many of which provided specific answers to the questions we had set forth in the proposal.¹ Although the public comments are too numerous to discuss individually here, each was carefully reviewed and considered, and we thank each commentator for the cooperation and information forwarded to us. In addition, by letter dated February 22, 1995, we received comments from IRRC regarding the proposed-form regulation.

Based upon our consideration of these comments to the proposed-form rulemaking, the Commission adopted a final-form rulemaking at the December 7, 1995, public meeting, entered December 28, 1995. However, given the nature of some additional issues raised by the IRRC staff on April 8, 1996, regarding §§ 65.1, 65.21(b), 65.22 and 65.21(c), the Commission elected, on April 12, 1996, to temporarily withdraw the regulation from formal IRRC review in order to give further consideration to those issues. Notice of the temporary withdrawal and of the issues raised by IRRC's staff was provided to all parties; a notice was also published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin on April 27, 1996, at 26 Pa.B. 2061. Further comments were due on or before May 3, 1996.

The only further comment filed in response to the Commission's notice was from the PGA which reaffirmed its position that natural gas utilities should be excluded from the scope of this line extension rulemaking. Accordingly, the further changes in this revised order will reflect our consideration of the April 8, 1996, IRRC staff comments, a recent change to Federal income tax law applicable to customer advances, and some language changes to the regulation for clarification purposes.

II. Discussion

Under section 1501 of the Public Utility Code, public utilities are obligated to provide "reasonable service" to the public, including the obligation to make line extensions "to such service and facilities as may be necessary or proper for the accommodation, convenience, and safety of its patrons, employees, and the public." 66 Pa. C.S. § 1501. At the same time, Pennsylvania case law has recognized that a public utility's duty to provide line extensions is not unlimited and, therefore, will not obligate the public utility to make line extensions for which there is no "public need" Colonial Products Co. v. Pa. P.U.C., 188 Pa. Superior Ct. 163, 146 A.2d 657 (1958), Airlines Transportation Co. v. Pa. P.U.C., 63 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 298, 437 A.2d 1283 (1981), or to make line extensions which are uneconomic or unreasonable. Sherman v. Public Service Commission, 90 Pa. Superior Ct. 523 (1927); Ridley Township v. Pa. P.U.C., 172 Pa. Superior Ct. 472, 94 A.2d 168 (1953).

In Colonial Products, for example, the court explained this limitation on the general obligation to make line extensions as follows:

A utility rendering reasonably adequate service should not be subjected to unreasonable expenditures, or the consuming public unduly burdened because of the unusual or extraordinary demands of one customer.

Id. at 173, 146 A.2d at 663. More recently, in Lynch v. Pa. P.U.C., 594 A.2d 816 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1991), the court explained that in order to obtain a line extension, the applicant must show (1) that there is a "public necessity for the service requested" and (2) that the extension will result in "a return of investment for the utility." Id. at 604. In other words, the claim of an individual seeking the line extension must be balanced against the right of the public utility to remain financially viable and the right of existing customers to avoid subsidizing uneconomic line extensions for new customers.

Determining exactly how this balance should be struck has been the subject of considerable uncertainty and litigation over the years before the Commission.² Thus, the purpose of this rulemaking is to create a fair, reasonable and predictable economic standard to address this regulatory problem that will eliminate uncertainty and greatly reduce the litigation in this area.

At the same time, the Commission recognizes that the electric and telephone industries are not subject to the same level of uncertainty and litigation regarding line extension issues as are the water and gas industries. See PEA Comments, pp.1-3 (recommending that the electric utility industry be excluded given the existing regulations for electric utility line extensions in § 57.19 and the lack of controversy in that industry); PTA Comments, pp. 3-4 (recommending line extension requirements of 500 feet on private property and 2,640 on public rights-of-way).

In addition, for the natural gas industry it has become increasingly clear that, in the residential energy market, the ready availability of alternative fuels and electric utility service make natural gas largely a matter of customer choice. See PGA Comments, pp. 1-3; Columbia Gas comments, p. 3. As such, it appears that in most circumstances, a request for a natural gas line extension would be deemed to be a request for "special utility service" — that is, a service request which exceeds that required for ordinary residential service or a service request that does not involve a "public necessity for the service requested" given the existence of a safe, adequate and competitively priced alternative. See Bonneau v. North Penn, Docket No. C-946274 (Order entered June 23, 1995); Babyak v. Peoples, Docket No. F-218963 (Order entered November 29, 1994); Lynch v. Pa. P.U.C., 594 A.2d 816 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1991).

Under these circumstances, it is better to target the real problem area, and we are no longer proposing that the line extension regulation apply across the board. Rather, the new proposal is limited to water utilities and has been placed in the appropriate chapter in Title 52 of the Pennsylvania Code. We will not hesitate to institute a similar rulemaking in the future, however, if the kinds of problems that we see in the water industry begin to occur regularly in electric, telephone and gas line extension cases.

Moreover, even in the absence of mandatory regulations for the electric, telephone and natural gas industries, we suggest that the proposed water regulations serve as the appropriate economic concept and provide guidance for line extensions in the other utility industries. These regulations reflect the Commission's view regarding line extensions and may prove instructive in adjudicating complaint cases involving line extensions in any industry.

In preparing our present proposal, staff consulted informally with industry representatives, as well as with the Offices of Consumer Advocate and Small Business Advocate. Although not all concerns and viewpoints can be satisfied, we believe that we have developed a predictable Pennsylvania Chapter (NAWC-PA), Pennsylvania-American Water Company, Philadelphia Suburban Water Co., York Water Co., George S. Emmons, Representative Teresa E. Brown, Office of Consumer Advocate, Green Valleys Association, Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors, South Coventry Township Board of Supervisors, French & Pickering Creeks Conservation Trust Inc., and 22 individuals who filed form letters expressing their concern that the regulation would result in the imposition of public water and sewer in historic watershed areas near the French and Pickering Creeks. Since the regulation does not address the way in which a public utility defines its own service area nor does it require an extension of a service area, then these fears are unfounded.

²According to Law Bureau Prosecutory Staff, as of February 1994, there were between 50 and 75 formal line extension cases currently pending before the Commission, and "many more on an informal basis." Law Bureau Prosecutory Staff Comments, p. 11.

economic standard which treats all parties fairly and satisfies the requirements of Section 1501 and Pennsylvania case law.

III. Summary of Proposed Regulation

As in the proposed-form regulation published October 8, 1994, these regulations establish the duty of each public utility to provide line extensions without a customer contribution where the annual expected revenues equal or exceed the annual expenses and capital costs associated with the new line. Based on the comments to the proposed-form regulations, we have made a number of refinements to the revenue, expense and capital elements that may be included in this economic test, most notably the inclusion of debt costs as recommended by several commentators. See PEA Comments, pp. 5-6; PGA Comments, p. 5; NAWC-PA Comments, p.3.

The overall concept behind this regulation, however, remains the same: a public utility's obligation to make line extensions is not unlimited and, accordingly, it will not be obligated to make a line extension that is uneconomic or unreasonable absent an appropriate customer contribution. Pursuant to this regulation, if the economic analysis indicates that annual revenue will equal or exceed the company's operating and maintenance expenses, depreciation and debt costs for the new line, no customer contribution will be required.³ Alternatively, if the annual revenue will cover only a portion of the line's annual costs, a contribution may be required in proportion to the annual costs of the line not covered by the annual revenue.⁴

The basis of this customer contribution is that, absent a reasonable contribution to the line extension's construction costs, the utility would experience a negative (less than zero) equity return on the line extension. Indeed, it appears to us that a line extension that yields a negative equity return, representing an economic loss on the transaction, is one that begins to "materially handicap the utility in securing a fair return on all of its operations," Ridley, 172 Pa Superior Ct. at 497, 94 A.2d at 171, as well as one that unfairly asks existing customers to subsidize the costs of serving a new customer. Accordingly, the application of this regulation should ensure, as recommended by IRRC, that utilities will "fund all line extensions that are appropriate for the level of service to be purchased by the new customer without requiring the utilities and their existing customers to incur the costs of unreasonable line extensions. IRRC Comments, p.2.

The following discussion will summarize the further changes and refinements made to the proposed-form regulations published October 8, 1994.

Section 65.1—Definitions. In addition to the definitions for "bona fide service applicant" and "special utility service" set forth in the proposed regulation which appeared at 24 Pa. B. 5103, we have added definitions for six other terms which now appear in the body of the regulation and need to be defined. All of these definitions are specific to the subject of line extensions and, accordingly, are not to be viewed as controlling for ratemaking purposes or in other regulatory contexts.

Annual line extension costs. This specifies the cost elements which may be included in comparing line extension costs to the annual revenues of a particular line extension. The cost elements include the additional annual operating and maintenance costs, debt costs and depreciation charges associated with the line extension. Equity return has been specifically excluded as a cost element.

Annual revenue. The definition specifies the method of calculating the revenue which a utility may count as expected for a line extension. We note here that if for the purpose of determining "annual revenue" there are no existing customers "similar in nature and size to the bona fide service applicant," the utility may use the service applicant's projected average annual usage based on customer-specific factors such as dwelling size, location and appliances.

Bona fide service applicant. This term provides the answer to the threshold question of which persons or entities within a public utility's service are entitled to line extensions. It includes the individual seeking service for his own primary residence or place of business, provided that the level of service to that primary business does not exceed that of a residence.

Debt costs. The definition is needed because the term is now included in the definition of "annual line extension costs." Debt costs are the utility's additional annual cost of debt associated with financing the line extension investment; the annual amount is determined by multiplying the proportion of line extension investment financed by debt times the utility's debt cost rate. Due to the infrequency of base rate cases for some companies, we have decided to use a company's current debt cost data. The cost of preferred stock, however, has been specifically excluded since it is a relatively minor component of any utility's cost of service and would needlessly complicate the economic standard for a line extension.

Depreciation charges. This defines another expense element which is allowed under the definition of "annual line extension costs." The annual depreciation charge allowance will be line extension-specific to recognize the differing capital costs of the various sized main line extensions necessary to provide service.

Operating and maintenance costs. These are costs associated with serving an additional customer, including customer accounting, billing, collections and costs specific to the water industry.

Line extension. Defined as "an addition to the utility's main line which is necessary to serve the premises of a customer," the term is meant to differentiate between a line extension within the meaning of this rulemaking and the addition of a service line.

Special utility service. The economic test provided in this rulemaking for whether a customer contribution may be required, will not apply to the request for any residential or business service which exceeds that required for "ordinary residential purposes" or service for which there is a "safe, adequate and competitively priced alternative" to meet the applicant's utility needs since these circumstances would not involve a public necessity for the service requested. The special service needs of one or a few customers should not be borne by the public at large within the utility's service territory.⁵ For special utility service, the rates, terms and conditions set forth in a utility's currently effective tariff will control. Thus, for a water service applicant seeking special utility service, the ³Implementation of this economic test may require the use of reasonably-developed company averages and/or expense allocation; in other words, we will not require companies to determine customer-specific operating and maintenance expenses.

water utility's tariffed terms and conditions will control treatment of the incremental costs incurred by the water utility to provide the special service needs.

Section 65.21—Duty of public utility to make line extensions. A utility is required to include in its tariff a rule spelling out the conditions under which the utility will extend its facilities to an applicant. The remainder of the regulation sets out the circumstances under which extensions to bona fide service applicants shall be constructed.

Section (a). Where the projected annual revenue from the line extension will equal or exceed the utility's annual line extension costs, as defined above, the extension shall be made without requiring contributions from the applicant.

Sections (b) and (c). These sections set forth the circumstances under which a utility may require (a utility is not obligated to require) a customer contribution in order to extend a main for service and a formula for calculation of the customer contribution amount. The formula is designed to take into account the utility's cost of construction, as well as the annual expenses and expected revenues from the line extension.

Thus, to avoid the subsidization of uneconomic line extensions, the regulation will permit utilities to require a contribution where the annual revenue from the line extension will not equal or exceed the utility's annual line extension costs. The amount of the customer contribution will be determined by subtracting the utility's minimum required investment for the line extension from the total construction costs. The utility's minimum level of investment for the line extension is that portion of the total investment which causes the utility to incur annual line extension costs equal to the expected annual revenue from the line extension. We believe that this formula will result in the applicant bearing only those costs of his or her line extension which will not pay for itself through annual revenues.

We note here that the April 8, 1996, comments of the IRRRC staff recommend replacing the word "may" with "shall," which would result in the creation of a rule requiring a utility to charge a customer contribution in all circumstances if the formula reveals that the projected annual revenue from the line extension will not exceed the utility's annual line extension costs. In developing this regulation, we intended to create a rule which sets the minimum dollar amount which utilities must pay toward the cost of a line extension. However, it was not our intention to limit the utility's ability to fund more of the line extension costs if, for legitimate business reasons, the utility desires to do so.

Although we perceive a real need to protect bona fide service applicants from overly zealous utilities which would prefer to charge the entire cost of a main extension to the applicant in each instance, we have not perceived a need to protect utilities from themselves. Utilities do not, as a rule, make uneconomic or irrational business decisions by offering to fund their own line extensions when they are permitted to ask for a reasonable customer contribution.

Further, a mandatory customer contribution amount would serve no useful purpose since it would create a situation where a utility which desires to fund more of a given line extension than is contemplated by the formula must come before the Commission and ask for a waiver of the rule. It would be the creation of a burdensome regulation which places undue restrictions on the regulated community and would be contrary to Governor Ridge's Executive Order 1996-1, which states that a regulation should be promulgated only after a determination that it is necessary to address "a compelling public interest." The minimum line extension funding requirement on utilities does address a compelling public interest, that is, ensuring that the bona fide service applicant pays only for that portion of the line extension which exceeds the utility's annual line extension costs. However, changing the minimum requirement to a hard and fast rule would mean that companies wishing to be more generous would have to seek a waiver of the rule and, in our judgment, make this regulation unnecessarily burdensome and inflexible, contrary to the principles outlined in EO 1996-1. Realistically, these companies would probably not bother, and it is the bona fide service applicant which would end up paying more as a result.

Lastly, given President Clinton's signing on August 20, 1996, of H.R. 3448, contributions in aid of construction and customer advances are no longer taxable to the utility; thus, the gross-up factor to account for this tax referred to in our earlier orders is no longer necessary. This change in Federal income tax law will substantially reduce the cost of line extensions to bona fide service applicants.

Section 65.22. Customer advance financing, refunds and facilities on private property.

Section (a). This section provides that utilities which have $10 million or more in gross annual revenues shall give the applicant the option of paying the customer contribution over a period of not less than 3 years following the service connection, given the potentially large cost of some line extensions.⁶ Our original proposal required all utilities to offer that option, but after consideration of the many comments we received in protest and after realizing that many of the smaller companies are unable to raise the necessary capital to allow them to exercise this provision, we are limiting the requirement to those utilities which have over $10 million in gross annual revenues. Furthermore, in order to mitigate the risk to the utility, we are adding two provisions: (1) the utilities may require a deposit in advance in an amount up to one-third of the total contribution, and (2) the utilities may recover financing costs equal to the cost of debt associated with initially funding the construction.

With these additions, we do not believe it to be necessary to provide that a failure to honor the payment plan will be an independent reason to terminate service. Such a provision would conflict with the existing termination regulation in § 56.83(3). We also believe that these provisions reflect a fair compromise between the positions advocated on behalf of service applicants and the utilities. Indeed, the addition of financing costs should make utilities whole for the capital expended in advance for a line extension.

Section (b). This section requires a utility to provide for refunding a portion of the customer contribution if an additional customer or customers attach service lines to the main extension within 10 years. Specifics are to be spelled out in each utility's tariff.

Section (c). This section provides that the utilities must require customers and developers to pay a reasonable charge in advance for service lines and equipment installed on private property for the exclusive use of the customer. A reasonable charge for this service should be based on the utility's actual cost of the installation.

Section 65.23—Special utility service. Special utility service is specifically exempted from the strict provisions of these line extension regulations with the exception of § 65.22(b), which provides for reimbursement of contributions if another customer attaches to the main extension within 10 years. That the extension was made to benefit a single customer, to a development or to an industrial site is not a legitimate reason to exempt the utility from reimbursing some portion of the contribution if additional customers attach to the main line extension.

IV. Application of the Regulation

In addition to the above refinements to the economic test for line extensions, we also requested data to assist us in evaluating the results of applying the economic test to the four largest investor-owned water utilities in Pennsylvania: Philadelphia Suburban Water Company (PSW), Pennsylvania-American Water Company (PA-American), the former Pennsylvania Gas & Water Company (PG&W), and York Water Company (York). This analysis was prompted by the IRRC suggestion that we evaluate whether the new regulations will achieve "an appropriate balance between the benefits afforded to new customers and the costs that all existing ratepayers will incur as a result of the utilities' contribution." IRRC Comments, p. 3. To this end, the water industry was able to provide company-specific estimates of the customer contribution threshold for new service applicants based on current cost data. However, an analysis of future revenue requirement changes, based necessarily on a projected number of new line extensions under the new regulations, was deemed to be too speculative to generate any reliable data and, therefore, was not provided.

Nevertheless, the data available from the four largest water companies does provide a good estimate of the effect of this regulation on new service applicants as to the customer advance threshold and the maximum footage allowance related to that threshold. Based on their current revenues, operating and maintenance expenses, and capital costs, these companies have estimated that the point at which a customer would be required to begin to make a contribution to the total cost of a line extension would be in excess of $3,400 and as high as $5,300.

Table I

Average Per Line Revenues, Costs & Customer Advance Threshold	PA-
	PSW	American	PG&W	York
Annual Revenue	$269	$333	$300	$257
O & M Costs	33	21	15	30
Depreciation	54	116	57	38
Debt Costs	182	196	228	189
Cust. Adv. Threshold	$4,000	$4,000	$5,300	$3,400

Moreover, although the cost per foot of a given line extension can vary considerably depending upon the size of the pipe and the location of the line, it appears that the economic test set forth in this regulation will result in a substantially greater amount of footage at no cost to the new customer than the so-called 35-foot rule included in many water company's existing tariffs.⁷ Using the industry association's figure of $25 as the average cost per foot of a line extension, a new customer would obtain between 136 and 212 feet of line extension with no customer contribution required, depending on the company. Using a more conservative figure of $40 based on the historic data contained in the water company's comments, the length of a line extension before a customer contribution would be required is still considerable, ranging between 85 feet and 133 feet.

Table II

Maximum Footage Allowance Without Customer Contribution

	Industry Estimate $25 per foot	Conservative Est. $40 per foot
Philadelphia Suburban	160	100
Pennsylvania American	160	100
PG&W	212	133
York	136	85

Whatever cost per foot estimate is used, it appears that the economic test in these regulations for determining when an individual must begin to provide a contribution to the cost of a line extension will provide a generous footage allowance to new service applicants without damaging the economic soundness of the public utility or causing existing customers to unreasonably subsidize new customers. We believe that the balance among those interests struck by this regulation is fair, reasonable and consistent with Pennsylvania law.

Lastly, since these regulations for the water industry also reflect with greater specificity the Commission's views with respect to line extensions and, in particular, the parameters of a lawful economic test for customer contributions and the definition of special utility service, the existing policy statement in § 69.171, which is general in nature, shall be rescinded, effective on the publication date of these final-form line extension regulations.

Table III

Illustration of Required Level of Customer Contribution

Assumptions:

- Annual Revenues (AR) at $300 per year
- Operating and Maintenance Expenses (OM) of $15 per year per customer
- Depreciation Rate (D) for Account 322 of 333%
- Interest Expense Rate (I) of 2.75%, based on long-term debt ratio of 55.0% and long-term debt cost rate of 5.00%

Thus:

Utility Investment
 Break-even Point = [AR-OM] divided by [I+D]
 = [$300-15]/[0.0275+0.0333] = $4,688

Construction Cost	Utility Investment	Customer Contribution
$1,000	$1,000	0
$2,000	$2,000	0
$3,000	$3,000	0
$4,000	$4,000	0
$5,000	$4,688	$312

⁷According to Law Bureau Prosecutory Staff, many water companies now employ a so-called "35-foot rule" which places a tremendous economic burden on new service applicants even though the utility's facilities may be "well within the sight of the service applicant's residence." $9,000	$4,688	$4,312
$10,000	$4,688	$5,312

Accordingly, pursuant to sections 501, 504, 505, 506, 1301 and 1501 of the Public Utility Code, 66 Pa.C.S. §§ 501, 504, 505, 506, 1301 and 1501, and the Commonwealth Documents Law (45 P.S. § 1201 et seq.), and the regulations promulgated thereunder at 1 Pa. Code §§ 7.1—7.4, the Commission adopts as final the regulations for Line Extensions, §§ 65.1, 65.21, 65.22 and 65.23, as described above and set forth in Annex A. Therefore,

It is Ordered That:

1. This revised order shall supersede the order adopted December 7, 1995, at this docket.

2. The Commission's regulations, 52 Pa. Code Chapters 65 and 69, are amended by amending § 65.1, by adding §§ 65.21—65.23 and by deleting § 69.171 to read as set forth in Annex A.

3. The Commission's regulations are hereby amended by the rescission of the policy statement in § 69.171 effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

4. The Secretary shall submit this order and Annex A to the Office of Attorney General for approval as to legality.

5. The Secretary shall submit this order and Annex A to the Governor's Budget Office for review of fiscal impact.

6. The Secretary shall submit this order and Annex A for formal review by the designated standing committees of both houses of the General Assembly, and for formal review and approval by IRRC.

7. The Secretary shall deposit this order and Annex A with the Legislative Reference Bureau for publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

8. These amendments shall become effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

9. The public utilities affected by these line extension regulations shall file appropriate compliance tariffs by April 16, 1997.

10. A copy of this order shall be served upon all persons who submitted comments in this rulemaking proceeding.

Statement of Commissioner John Hanger

This rulemaking has involved consideration of complex issues for which there is no simple answer. This Commission has been asked to resolve many line extension disputes in recent years, leading not only to a large volume of time consuming cases, but also to murky, at times undecipherable, Court and Commission policies and precedent. Cases sometimes are decided through pro forma applications of "rules" which are not reflected in any written standards. Sometimes the results bear little or no relationship to the underlying policies or rationales for the "rule." While the Regulations adopted today do adopt clear standards, those standards incorporate some misplaced considerations and sometimes do not adequately meet the guidance of either case law or important policy considerations.

Because it is essential that this Commission establishes clear standards for line extensions, I concur and dissent with the Regulations proposed by the Law Bureau. While certain aspects of the Regulations applied to water utilities raise important concerns, as indicated below, I hope that passage will permit most water line extension cases to proceed expeditiously and fairly. I must dissent to the extent that the Regulations fail to include gas utilities.

The basic legal standard governing line extensions must reflect the primary "duty to serve" embodied in Section 1501 of the Public Utility Code, and the Regulations recommended by the Law Bureau do not do so. Section 1501 clearly states that:

"Every public utility ... shall make all such ... extensions and improvements in or to such service and facilities as shall be necessary or proper for the accommodation, convenience, and safety of its patrons, employees, and the public."

Thus, every case starts with a presumption that a utility which has been granted a service territory has the obligation to provide line extensions at system cost. The Courts have given the Commission some latitude to permit customer contributions when extensions are not presently required to serve actual customers or will benefit only an individual need at uneconomic public expense. This Commission does not have the authority under Section 1501 of the code, however, to declare that the duty to serve does not apply wholesale to large categories of customers.

There are extraordinary ramifications to the Law Bureau recommendation that utilities need not provide line extensions for customers who have "a safe, adequate and competitively priced alternative." Section 1501 imposes the duty to serve to include the "accommodation" and "convenience" of the public, without limiting the duty to situations in which the extension is a practical or economic necessity.

The staff recommendation suggests that gas service is always "special utility service" and that gas utilities do not have any duty to make a line extension because all uses of gas can instead be served by electricity, oil, propane or other fuels. While it is true that there are alternatives to gas, there is no legal or policy basis for suggesting that gas utilities are exempt from the duty to serve embodied in Section 1501 and a large body of appellate case law.

For these reasons, I concur and dissent.

Fiscal Note: Fiscal Note 57-152 remains valid for the final adoption of the subject regulations.

TITLE 52. PUBLIC UTILITIES

PART I. PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Subpart C. FIXED UTILITY SERVICES

CHAPTER 65. WATER SERVICE

§ 65.1. Definitions.

The following words and terms, when used in this chapter, have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

Annual line extension costs—The sum of a utility's additional annual operating and maintenance costs, debt costs and depreciation charges associated with the construction, operation and maintenance of the line extension.

Annual revenue—The utility's expected additional annual revenue from the line extension based on the utility's currently effective tariff rates and on the average annual usage of customers similar in nature and size to the bona fide service applicant.

Bona fide service applicant—A person or entity applying for water service to an existing or proposed structure within the utility's certificated service territory for which a valid occupancy or building permit has been issued if the structure is either a primary residence of the applicant or a place of business. An applicant will not be deemed a bona fide service applicant if one of the following applies:

- (i) The applicant is requesting water service to a building lot, subdivision or a secondary residence.
- (ii) The request for service is part of a plan for the development of a residential dwelling or subdivision.
- (iii) The applicant is requesting special utility service.

Company's service line—The connection between the distribution facilities or pipeline extensions of the utility which connects any main with the inlet connection of a service line of a customer at the curb or property line.

Customer—A party contracting with a public utility for service.

Customer's service line—The service line extending from the curb, property line or utility connection to a point of consumption.

Debt costs—The utility's additional annual cost of debt associated with financing the line extension investment based on the current debt ratio and weighted long-term debt cost rate for that utility or that of a comparable jurisdictional water utility.

Depreciation charges—The utility's additional annual depreciation charges associated with the specific line extension investment to be made based on the current depreciation accrual rates for that utility or that of a comparable jurisdictional water utility.

Line extension—An addition to the utility's main line which is necessary to serve the premises of a customer.

Main—The pipe of a public utility system, excluding service connections, located in a public highway, street, alley or private right-of-way which pipe is used in transporting water.

Nonessential uses of water—Nonessential uses of water include:

(i) The use of hoses, sprinklers or other means for sprinkling or watering of shrubbery, trees, lawns, grass, plants, vines, gardens, vegetables, flowers or other vegetation.

(ii) The use of water for washing automobiles, trucks, trailers, trailer houses or another type of mobile equipment.

(iii) The washing of streets, driveways, parking lots, service station aprons, office buildings, exteriors of homes, sidewalks, apartments or other outdoor surfaces.

(iv) The operation of an ornamental fountain or other structures making a similar use of water.

(v) The use of water for filling swimming or wading pools.

(vi) The operation of any water-cooled comfort air conditioning which does not have water-conserving equipment.

(vii) The use of water from fire hydrants for construction purposes or fire drills.

(viii) The use of water to flush a sewer line or sewer manhole.

(ix) The use of water for commercial farms and nurseries other than a bare minimum to preserve plants, crops and livestock.

Operating and maintenance costs—The utility's average annual operating and maintenance costs associated with serving an additional customer, including customer accounting, billing, collections, water purchased, power purchased, chemicals and other variable costs based on the current total company level of the costs, as well as costs particular to the specific needs of that customer, such as line flushing.

Public utility—Persons or corporations owning or operating equipment or facilities in this Commonwealth for diverting, developing, pumping, impounding, distributing or furnishing water to or for the public for compensation. The term does not include a person or corporation not otherwise a public utility who or which furnishes service only to himself or itself, or a bona fide cooperative association which furnishes service only to its stockholders or members on a nonprofit basis.

Short-term supply shortage—An emergency which causes the total water supply of a public utility to be inadequate to meet maximum system demand.

Special utility service—Residential or business service which exceeds that required for ordinary residential purposes. The term may include installation of facilities such as oversized mains, booster pumps and storage tanks as necessary to provide adequate flows or to meet required pressure criteria and service to large water consuming commercial and industrial facilities.

§ 65.21. Duty of public utility to make line extensions.

Each public utility shall file with the Commission, as part of its tariff, a rule setting forth the conditions under which facilities will be extended to supply service to an applicant within its service area. Upon request by a bona fide service applicant, a utility shall construct line extensions within its franchised territory consistent with the following directives:

- (1) Line extensions to bona fide service applicants shall be funded without customer advance if the annual revenue from the line extension will equal or exceed the utility's annual line extension costs.

(2) If the annual revenue from the line extension will not equal or exceed the utility's annual line extension costs, a bona fide service applicant may be required to provide a customer advance to the utility's cost of construction for the line extension. The utility's investment for the line extension shall be the portion of the total construction costs which generate annual line extension costs equal to annual revenue from the line extension. The customer advance amount shall be determined by subtracting the utility's investment for the line extension from the total construction costs.

(3) The utility's investment for the line extension shall be based on the following formula, where X equals the utility's investment attributed to each bona fide applicant:

X = [AR - OM] divided by [I + D] ; and,
 AR = the utility's annual revenue
 OM = the utility's operating and maintenance costs
 I = the utility's current debt ratio multiplied by the utility's weighted long-term debt cost rate
 D = the utility's current depreciation accrual rate

§ 65.22. Customer advance financing, refunds and facilities on private property.

(a) If a customer advance is required from a bona fide service applicant for service from a company with gross annual receipts of $10 million or more and the bona fide applicant is unable to advance the entire amount due, the utility shall do one of the following:

(1) Allow the applicant to pay the advance over a period of not less than 3 years, with the utility recovering financing costs equal to the utility's weighted cost of long term debt. The utility may require the applicant to deposit up to one-third of the total customer advance prior to extending service.

(2) Provide information to the customer on financial institutions that may offer financing to the customer for the line extension.

(b) When a customer advance is required of a service applicant and an additional customer or customers attach service lines to the main extension within 10 years, the utility shall refund a portion of the advance to the customer in accordance with the utility's currently effective tariff. Deposits made for additional facilities other than the main extension, such as booster pumps, storage tanks and the like, are contributions in aid of construction and need not be refunded.

(c) A utility shall require a customer to pay, in advance, a reasonable charge for service lines and equipment installed on private property for the exclusive use of the customer.

§ 65.23. Special utility service.

Sections 65.21 and 65.22 (a) and (c) (relating to duty of public utility to make line extensions; and customer advance financing, refunds and facilities on private property) do not apply to special utility service.

PROPOSED RULEMAKING

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

[10 PA. CODE CH. 42]

Registration of Loan Brokers

The Department of Banking (Department), under the authority contained in section 8 of the Credit Services Act (act) (73 P.S. § 2188), proposes to add Chapter 42 (relating to registration of loan brokers) which will impose registration requirements on persons acting as loan brokers in this Commonwealth.

Purpose

The purpose of the proposed regulations is to implement the requirements of section 8 of the act which requires loan brokers, as defined in the act, who are located in or act on behalf of residents of this Commonwealth, to become registered with the Department. The proposed regulations will enhance consumer protection by providing a means of ascertaining who is acting as a loan broker in this Commonwealth and by maintaining the names and addresses of those persons and by obtaining other relevant information about loan brokering activity conducted by those persons. This registration will enhance the Attorney General's ability to address consumer complaints by facilitating discovery and investigation of fraudulent activity and will provide an additional means for enforcement of the Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law (73 P.S. §§ 201-1—209-6).

Explanation of Regulatory Requirements

Under the proposed regulations, persons acting as loan brokers in this Commonwealth will be required to register with the Department and to renew that registration annually. Loan brokers will be required to submit a completed registration form to the Department which will require the applicant to provide the home and business addresses of the applicant, the nature of the loan broker's business, and information relating to any legal or other enforcement actions taken against the loan broker. The Department retains the right to refuse to register an applicant as a loan broker and, accordingly, the proposed regulations set forth the relevant factors to be utilized by the Department in deciding whether to proffer a refusal.

Entities Affected

The number of entities that will be affected by these proposed regulations cannot be estimated at this time as this is the first registration requirement imposed on loan brokers who are not already licensed or authorized to broker a specific type of loan. These proposed regulations will not affect the 675 first mortgage loan brokers currently licensed by the Department or the 333 secondary mortgage loan brokers currently licensed by the Department. (Statistics are as of November 30, 1995.) These proposed regulations will also not affect any depository institutions whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or the National Credit Union Administration. Nor will the proposed regulations affect real estate brokers or salespersons licensed under the Real Estate Licensing and Registration Act (63 P.S. §§ 455.101—455.902), persons registered as securities broker-dealers under section 301 of the Pennsylvania Securities Act of 1972 (70 P.S. § 301) or persons exempt from this registration, persons admitted to the practice of law in this Commonwealth, nonprofit corporations or consumer reporting agencies as defined by the Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C.A. § 1681 et seq.).

Cost and Paperwork Requirements

These proposed regulations will impose paperwork requirements on the Department to process the registration and renewal applications. The cost of paperwork will be offset by the fees imposed.

These proposed regulations will not impose paperwork requirements on political subdivisions and will not affect the costs of political subdivisions of this Commonwealth.

These proposed regulations impose a fee of $300 for registration and an additional $300 for each renewal. The proposed regulations also impose nominal paperwork and reporting requirements on the regulated community, as loan brokers will be required to complete an annual registration or renewal registration application.

Effectiveness/Sunset Date

The anticipated effective date is 30 days after final adoption.

A sunset date is inapplicable as the statute imposes an ongoing requirement for registration of loan brokers and for annual renewal of those registrations.

Contact Person

Interested persons are invited to submit their written comments, if any, within 30 days from the date of this publication to Valentino F. DiGiorgio, III, Staff Attorney, Department of Banking, 333 Market Street, 16th Floor, Harrisburg, PA 17101-2290, (717) 787-1471.

Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P.S. § 745.5(a)), on January 31, 1997, the Department submitted a copy of these proposed regulations to the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) and the Chairpersons of the House Committee for Business and Economic Development and the Senate Committee on Banking and Insurance. In addition to submitting the regulations, the Department has provided IRRC and the Committees with a copy of a detailed Regulatory Analysis Form prepared by the Department in compliance with Executive Order 1982-2, "Improving Government Regulations." A copy of this material is available to the public upon request.

If IRRC has objections to any portion of the proposed regulations, it will notify the Department within 30 days of the close of the public comment period. The notification shall specify the regulatory review criteria which have not been met by that portion. The Regulatory Review Act specifies detailed procedures for review and comments including objections to the proposed regulations by IRRC, the General Assembly and the Office of Attorney General, prior to final publication and approval of the proposed regulations.

RICHARD C. RISHEL,
Secretary

Fiscal Note: 3-31. No fiscal impact; (8) recommends adoption. The Banking Department Fund will receive approximately $16,000 annually from the registration of these loan brokers.

PENNSYLVANIA PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking Regarding Electric Reliability Standards

[Doc. No. L-970120]

On December 3, 1996, Governor Tom Ridge signed into law the Electric Generation Customer Choice and Competition Act (PN 4282) (act) to establish standards and procedures to create direct access by retail customers to the competitive market for the generation of electricity, while maintaining the safety and reliability of the electric system.

In response, the Commission is considering, inter alia, the adoption of regulations to provide for and ensure continuing safety, adequacy and reliability of the generation, transmission and distribution of electricity in Pennsylvania. In order to facilitate the establishment of reliability standards, the Commission is considering the following issues and requests comments from electric utilities and other interested parties.

With regard to inspection and maintenance of transmission and distribution facilities, provide comments concerning the specific standards, if any, which are necessary to further ensure the safety and reliability of these facilities. Provide comments concerning whether the Commission should require annual or biennial inspection reports. If these inspection reports are deemed necessary, provide comments concerning the specific information which should be included in such reports. Provide comments concerning the applicability of other industry standards and practices, and whether such standards are needed to ensure the safety and reliability of electric service.

Provide comments concerning (1) whether it is sufficient to rely on the North American Electric Reliability Council (NERC) and the regional reliability councils for the development of reliability standards and practices and (2) whether the Commission should establish its own reliability criteria. If it is deemed appropriate for the Commission to establish its own reliability criteria, discuss what specific criteria are necessary, including a definition for an adequate reserve margin, and whether reliability protocols should be mandatory. If it is deemed necessary to mandate reliability protocols, discuss whether the Commission should enforce such protocols.

With regard to licensure, provide comments concerning whether full or associate membership in appropriate regional reliability councils should be a requirement for obtaining a license to provide service to retail customers. Discuss whether the Commission should require mandatory compliance with NERC or other reliability protocols as a condition for approval of tariffs, licenses or contractual agreements between industry participants. Provide comments concerning additional reporting requirements, if any, which may be needed for monitoring reserve margins. Discuss the reporting requirements and other related filings which should be imposed upon non-jurisdictional electric suppliers as a prerequisite to providing service to Pennsylvania's retail customers. Discuss whether penalties or sanctions would be appropriate for non-compliance with established reliability protocols. Include in this discussion any other procedures which should be implemented to ensure the maintenance of adequate reserve margins.

Written comments, an original and fifteen copies, must be received 30 days after the date this notice is published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. The contact person is Blaine Loper, Bureau of Conservation, Economics and Energy Planning, (717) 787-3810 (technical) and Susan T. Povilaitis, Law Bureau, (717) 787-2871 (legal).

This is an advance notice of proposed rulemaking and is in addition to the normal rulemaking procedures for publication and comment established under the act of July 31, 1968 (P. L. 769, No. 240), known as the Commonwealth Documents Law.

Maximum Lawful Rate of Interest for Residential Mortgages for the Month of March 1997

The Department of Banking of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under the authority contained in section 301 of the act of January 30, 1974 (P. L. 13, No. 6) (41 P. S. § 301), hereby determines that the maximum lawful rate of interest for residential mortgages for the month of March is 9½%.

The interest rate limitations under the State's usury statute were preempted to a great extent by Federal law, the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-221). Further preemption was instituted with the signing of Pub. L. 96-399, which overrode State interest rate limitations on any individual who finances the sale or exchange of residential real property which such individual owns and which such individual occupies or has occupied as a principal residence.

Each month the Department of Banking is required by State law to compute and announce the ceiling rate on residential mortgages in Pennsylvania. This maximum rate is determined by adding 2.50 percentage points to the yield rate on long-term government bonds as published by the Federal Reserve Board and/or the U.S. Treasury. The latest yield rate on long-term government securities is 6.89 to which was added 2.50 percentage points for a total of 9.39 that by law is rounded off to the nearest quarter at 9½%.

Code Chs. 93 and 95). Persons or agencies which have requested review of the NPDES permit requirements for a particular mining activity within the above-mentioned public comment period will be provided with a 30-day period to review and submit comments on those requirements.

Project Description: This project will entail the expansion of the existing Sarah J. Dymond Elementary School in the Wyoming Area School District. An 8,000 square foot addition containing six classrooms will be constructed and student capacity will increase from 175 to 325. Presently, wastewater is treated by an onlot sewage disposal system. A new sewage treatment facility with stream discharge will be constructed with design flows of 12,000 GPD. This facility will be owned, operated and maintained by the Wyoming Area School District. Upon completion of the treatment plant, the onlot sewage disposal system will be abandoned.

This treatment plant will discharge to a tributary of Sutton Creek. Acceptance of this revision is conceptual. It leaves to be addressed at a later date both (1) the effluent limitations necessary to protect public health, and (2) specific treatment technology.

The School District agrees that the treatment plant shall be considered an interim facility for sewage disposal. Should a public sewage system become available to the property, the School District agrees to abandon the treatment plant and connect to the public sewer system.

The location of this project is 600 feet west of S. R. 0092 on Sutton Creek Road in Exeter Township, Luzerne County, PA.

Provisions of Chapter 3 of the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (act) require the Department of Environmental Protection to publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a notice of submission of any final reports. A final report is submitted to document cleanup of a release of a regulated substance at a site to one of the act's remediation standards. A final report provides a description of the site investigation to characterize the nature and extent of contaminants in environmental media, the basis for selecting the environmental media of concern, documentation supporting the selection of residential or nonresidential exposure factors, a description of the remediation performed, and summaries of sampling methodology and analytical results which demonstrate that the remediation has attained the cleanup standard selected.

For further information concerning the final report, please contact the Environmental Cleanup Program in the Department of Environmental Protection Regional Office under which the notice of receipt of a final report appears. If information concerning a final report is required in an alternative form, contact the community relations coordinator at the appropriate Regional Office listed. TDD users may telephone the Department through the AT&T Relay Service at 1 (800) 654-5984.

Availability of Technical Guidance

Governor's Office List

Once a year on the first Saturday in August, the Governor's Office publishes a list of the nonregulatory guidance documents of all State agencies in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. The first publication of this list was in the August 3, 1996 edition of the Bulletin.

DEP's Technical Guidance Document Inventory

DEP publishes a list of its technical guidance documents in its Technical Guidance Document Inventory twice a year. The most recent edition of the Inventory is the December 1996 edition. One version of the list of the documents contained in this edition is now available on DEP's World Wide Web site. DEP's Web address is <http://www.dep.state.pa.us>. To go to the location of the Inventory once on the DEP home page, persons should choose the Public Participation Center, scroll down to the "Technical Guidance Document" heading and (under this heading) click on "Basic Inventory."

Paper copies of the Inventory have been printed and are available now. DEP automatically mails a paper copy of the December 1996 Inventory to persons who received a paper copy of the June 1996 Inventory. Persons who wish to add their address to the mailing list should call Nina Huizinga at (717) 783-8727.

DEP's Technical Guidance Documents on the World Wide Web

DEP's Web address is <http://www.dep.state.pa.us>. To go to the location of DEP's Technical Guidance Documents once on the DEP home page, persons should choose the Public Participation Center. The Center contains several links to DEP's Technical Guidance Documents. The link to draft technical guidance documents is listed under the heading "Proposals Open to Comment." The link to recently finalized technical guidance documents is listed under the heading "Recently Finalized Proposals." Two links are under the heading "Technical Guidance Documents": one link is to the "Basic Inventory" and one link is to "Final Documents" on the Web. The final documents menu will list DEP's bureaus. Persons should click on the name of the bureau to get to the list of the documents from that bureau that are currently on the Web. Then, to get to see a document, persons should click on the ID number of the document. DEP will be adding its revised documents to the Web throughout 1997.

Ordering Paper Copies of DEP Technical Guidance

Persons can order a copy of the latest Inventory or a copy of any of the final documents listed on the Inventory by calling Elwyn Inc. (the printer) at 1 (800) 804-4020 if calling in Pennsylvania or (610) 497-5841 if calling from outside Pennsylvania.

Changes to Technical Guidance Documents

Between publication of its Inventory, DEP announces changes to its technical guidance documents in its weekly newsletter, the UPDATE and the Pennsylvania Bulletin. Here is the current list of recently finalized documents, draft documents and notices of intended changes to technical guidance.

Persons who have any questions or comments about a particular document should call the contact person whose name and phone is listed with each document. Persons who have questions or comments about the Inventory, the documents on the World Wide Web, the availability of paper copies from the printer or the technical guidance document process in general should call Nina Huizinga at (717) 783-8727.

Notice of Intent to Revise Technical Guidance—Bureau of Air Quality

DEP ID: 273-4130-007. Title: Stage II Enforcement Strategy. Anticipated Effective Date: April 1, 1997. Contact: Terry L. Black at (717) 787-4310 or Scott L. Kepner at (717) 787-1663.

Background: In March 1996, the Department formed the Southwest Pennsylvania Ozone Stakeholder Working Group to evaluate and recommend to the Department emission reduction strategies to bring the Pittsburgh-Beaver Valley into attainment with the Federal National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) for ground level ozone. One of the strategies recommended by the Stakeholders Working Group in its report of January 16, 1997, to the Secretary is to implement a Stage II gasoline refueling vapor recovery program in Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

The Department is rescinding the suspension of enforcement of the Stage II gasoline vapor recovery enforcement strategy which has been in place for Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties. The Department will implement the provisions of section 6.7 of the APCA and of section 129.82 in a manner consistent with the Stakeholder recommendations.

The Department is continuing the suspension of its enforcement of the Stage II vapor recovery requirements, Section 6.7 of the (APCA) and 25 Pa. Code § 129.82, in Berks County.

Finding

Snyder, Juniata and Perry Counties

Under the provisions of section 2002(b) of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 512(b)), the Secretary of Transportation makes the following written finding:

The Department of Transportation plans to reconstruct state Route 0011, Section 002 in, Snyder, Juniata and Perry Counties.

The project consists of widening the existing three lane facility between Mt. Patrick in Perry County and McKees Half Falls in Snyder County.

The project requires the use of land from the future Fish and Boat Commission's Liverpool Access, State Game Land 258, the Canal Components and a portion of the Liverpool Historic District.

In accordance with coordination conducted with the Fish and Boat Commission and the Game Commission, Right-of-Way required for this project will be replaced with land of equal or greater functional value. Changes to the access to SGL 258 will be mitigated by the proposed median opening near Milepost 15.5. Treatment of the Canal Components and mitigation of the impacts to the Liverpool Historic District are outlined in the Memorandum of Agreement Approved November 11, 1994.

The environmental, economic and other effects of the project have been considered as enumerated in section 2002, subsection 18(b) of The Administrative Code of 1929 and concluded that there is no feasible and prudent the Secretary has alternative to the project as designed, and all reasonable steps have been taken to minimize such effects.

No adverse environmental effect is likely to result from the reconstruction of this section of highway.

PROPOSED RULEMAKING

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY BOARD

[25 PA. CODE CH. 77] Noncoal Regulations

The Environmental Quality Board (Board) proposes to amend Chapter 77 (relating to noncoal mining). The amendments are the result of the Department of Environmental Protection's (Department) Regulatory Basics Initiative to revise regulations which impose disproportionate economic costs, which are obsolete or redundant, which are prescriptive or technology specific, and which lack clarity.

This proposal was adopted by the Board at its meeting of December 17, 1996.

A. Effective Date

These proposed amendments will go into effect upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin as final rule-making.

B. Contact Persons

For further information contact Evan T. Shuster, Chief, Division of Monitoring and Compliance, Bureau of Mining and Reclamation, P. O. Box 8461, Room 203 Executive House, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8461 (717) 787-7846, or Leigh Cohen, Assistant Counsel, Bureau of Regulatory Counsel, P. O. Box 8464, Rachel Carson State Office Building, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8464 (717) 787-7060. Information regarding submitting comments on this proposal appears in Section I of this Preamble. Persons with a disability may use the AT&T Relay Service by calling (800) 654-5984 (TDD users) or (800) 654-5988 (voice users). This proposal is available electronically through the Department's Web site (<http://www.dep.state.pa.us>).

C. Statutory Authority

These amendments are proposed under the rulemaking authority of the following acts: section 11(a) of the Noncoal Surface Mining Conservation and Reclamation Act (Noncoal SMCRA) (52 P. S. § 3311(a)); section 5(b) of The Clean Streams Law (35 P. S. § 691.5(b)); and section 1920-A of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 510-20) which authorizes the Board to adopt regulations necessary for the Department to perform its work.

D. Background and Purpose

In August 1995, the Department announced the Regulatory Basics Initiative to revise regulations which impose disproportionate economic costs, which are obsolete or redundant, and which lack clarity. Under this initiative the Department solicited public input through a notice in the Pennsylvania Bulletin and the Department's web site (<http://www.dep.state.pa.us>). The amendments being proposed at this time are the result of suggestions from the public and the Department's own review of its regulations. Additionally, the Department proposes to insert, where appropriate, equivalent measures in standard international metric units.

E. Summary of Regulatory Requirements

A description of the revisions to Chapter 77 follows:

§ 77.1 (relating to definitions)

The amendment adds a definition for "general permit." The term is used extensively in proposed Subchapter J (relating to general permits) which establishes procedures for developing general permits.

§ 77.51 (relating to license requirement)

This amendment replaces the terms "small noncoal license" and "small noncoal exemption," with a general reference to the Noncoal Surface Mining Conservation and Reclamation Act (Noncoal SMCRA) (52 P. S. §§ 3301—3826) requirements for liability insurance.

§ 77.53 (relating to suspension and revocation)

Subsection (a) is revised to correctly refer to § 77.51(e) which deals with issuing and renewing licenses.

§ 77.54 (relating to fees)

New language is inserted to acknowledge that alternate fee requirements may be established in Noncoal SMCRA which will supersede the requirements of this section.

§ 77.102 (relating to compliance with existing permits)

Noncoal surface mine permits issued prior to the effective date of this chapter (March 17, 1990) contain a condition which requires reclamation concurrent with the progress of the proposed mining operation to the highest extent possible. This requirement was in the regulations prior to March 17, 1990. In some cases, concurrent reclamation may not have been fully addressed in the approved mining plans in these earlier permits. In other cases changing market conditions and long term overburdened storage have created conditions whereby reclamation is not current with the progress of mineral extraction. These conditions create large and extremely expensive reclamation obligations for this type of operation. These obligations can likely exist after all mineral extraction is completed and income from the mining operation has ceased. If this obligation is not fulfilled by the permittee, the obligation passes to the Commonwealth. In order to minimize the chance that this situation will occur, this section is revised to allow the Department to require a modification to mining and reclamation plans in permits issued prior to March 17, 1990, in order to comply with the applicable concurrent reclamation requirements, to the extent that it is practicable.

§ 77.108 (relating to permits for small noncoal operations)

The title of this section is revised by deleting the word "general." The use of this term is confusing since this section does not deal with general permits as that term is used in Noncoal SMCRA. Other amendments to this section increase the allowable yearly tonnage limit for small noncoal operations from 2,000 to 10,000 tons per year; add a reference to § 77.163 (relating to right of entry); and require a blast plan if blasting will occur.

Language is added to subsection (f) to indicate clearly that the Department is responsible for publishing public notice of applications and bond releases in the Pennsylvania Bulletin and that the requirement to publicize notices in local newspapers does not apply to activities authorized under this section.

The allowable production on small noncoal permits is increased from 2,000 to 10,000 tons per year with the limit applied to each permit issued under this section. A provision requiring mineral production by an applicant's family to be attributed to the applicant is no longer appropriate and is deleted.

The remaining revisions to § 77.108 establish a minimum bond of $1,000 and basic reclamation standards for bond release. The conditions under which the Department may delegate some of its regulatory functions to a conservation district are revised to refer to operations authorized under this section, as provided by the Noncoal SMCRA.

The proposed amendments to this section will enable a person who holds a large noncoal mining license to obtain a small noncoal permit in appropriate situations.

§ 77.109 (relating to noncoal exploration activities)

The amendments to this section provide for a less complex authorization process for noncoal exploration activities conducted outside a permit area and less prescriptive performance standards. The information to be provided in a notice of intent to conduct exploration activities is more clearly described.

§ 77.110 (relating to permit waiver—oil and gas well site development)

The language in this section is proposed to be replaced with a statement that oil and gas well borrow areas which meet the requirements of section 603.1 of the Oil and Gas Act (58 P.S. § 601.603a) are exempt from the provisions of the Noncoal SMCRA.

§ 77.126 (relating to criteria for permit approval or denial)

This proposed amendment requires the Department to make written findings for permit approval or denial. Language is inserted to clarify the cross reference to § 77.504 (relating to distance limitations and areas designated as unsuitable for mining). Present § 77.126(a)(6) is being deleted since it is redundant and is covered by amended § 77.126(a)(8). These revisions also include language which clearly states that the applicant for a permit transfer must obtain a noncoal license and that the Department will consider the State and Federal endangered species acts in its permit decisions. An incorrect reference in subsection (b)(2) has been corrected.

§ 77.128 (relating to permit terms)

The proposed amendments expand reasons for which the Department may grant an extension of time for commencement of mining activities to include conditions beyond the control of the permittee when there has been no negligence on the permittee's part.

§ 77.142 (relating to public notice of permit revision)

This section is proposed to be rewritten to identify specific types of major permit revisions which are required to have public notice. Presently many minor changes to a permit, which have insignificant impacts on the environment and the public, are required to have public notices.

§ 77.144 (relating to transfer of permit)

The vague language of subsection (c)(1) is proposed to be replaced with a specific reference to § 77.126(a)(6)—(8) which requires the new operator be in compliance with this section and the Noncoal SMCRA. The proposed language does not change the requirements of this section.

§ 77.164 (relating to personal injury and property damage insurance information)

Language which exempts small noncoal permits from the requirement to provide proof of liability insurance is proposed to be deleted. The new language requires proof of insurance when required by the Noncoal SMCRA. The current language of the Noncoal SMCRA exempts operators who produce less than 2,000 tons (1,960 metric tons) per year from the requirement for liability insurance. Related changes are being made to § 77.231 (relating to terms and conditions for liability).

§ 77.165 (relating to proof of publication)

This proposed amendment provides that a copy of the weekly advertisements can be submitted as an alternative to a notarized proof of publication.

§ 77.204 (relating to period of liability)

Current language in this section refers to the Noncoal SMCRA and other environmental acts. This reference is replaced with language from section 9(j) of the Noncoal SMCRA (52 P.S. § 3309(j)) which provides that the Department may release a bond in whole or in part if the Department is satisfied that the reclamation covered by the bond has been accomplished as required by the Noncoal SMCRA.

§ 77.205 (relating to bond adjustments)

A new provision is proposed to be added which requires the Department to notify the permittee, surety and a person with a property interest in collateral, who has requested this notice of any proposed adjustment to the bond. The provision also provides the permittee an opportunity for an informal conference to discuss bond adjustments prior to the adjustments. The title of this section is revised to read "bond adjustments."

§ 77.231 (relating to terms and conditions for liability insurance)

This proposed amendment references Noncoal SMCRA as the basis for the requirement for liability insurance, and deletes the reference to an operator's status as a small noncoal operator.

§ 77.241 (relating to scope)

This section is proposed to be amended to provide that the bond release procedures of §§ 77.242 and 77.243 (relating to procedures for seeking release of bond; and criteria and schedule for release of bond) will be followed unless other requirements are specified by these regulations or by a general permit issued. These proposed amendments will allow the Department to develop specific bond release procedures for general permits.

§ 77.242 (relating to procedures for seeking release of bond)

The proposed amendments require an applicant for bond release to submit the proof of publication within 60 days after filing the application for bond release. This change provides the applicant for bond release a longer time period in which it may submit the proof of publication. Additional language provides that the application will not be considered complete and may be returned if the proof of publication is not received within the 60-day period.

§ 77.243 (relating to criteria and schedule for release of bond)

This proposed revision replaces a vague and undefined standard for initial bond release with a requirement that land be stabilized to prevent accelerated erosion and sedimentation as specified in Chapter 102 (relating to erosion control).

§ 77.401 (relating to responsibilities)

This section describes the general requirement for permit applicants to provide information on environmental resources on areas which may be affected by proposed mining activities. A new provision allows the Department to waive any requirements of this subchapter for specific categories of surface mining operations if the information is not needed to evaluate potential impacts on the public and the environment.

§ 77.403 (relating to description of hydrology and geology—general requirements)

The present regulations convey the impression that similar hydrologic and geologic descriptions may be needed for all types of noncoal operations. The proposed amendments require that an applicant submit geologic and hydrologic information to the extent it is necessary for the Department to evaluate the potential hydrologic impacts of the type of noncoal mining operation being proposed. Subsection (b) is revised to limit the Department's authority to require modeling and other predictive techniques to situations in which the proposed mining has the potential to impact streams or water supplies.

§ 77.456 (relating to reclamation information)

This section is proposed to be reworded to require reclamation plans to be designed to provide for reclamation which is as concurrent as possible with the progress of mining. An additional change requires a timetable for reclamation activities to meet the requirements of § 77.595 (relating to concurrent reclamation) which relates to concurrent reclamation.

§ 77.461 (relating to dams, ponds, embankments and impoundments)

This amendment provides that hydrologic and geologic information in general and design plans are required only when requested by the Department. The present regulation requires hydrologic and geologic information for all impounding structures covered by this section. Specific information is often not needed to evaluate sediment ponds.

§ 77.502 (relating to signs and markers)

The changes to this section require signs which identify a permit to be posted within 60 days after permit issuance. The present regulation is not clear regarding the time period when these signs are to be installed. This amendment also requires the telephone number of the operator to be identified on the sign. The purpose of this is to provide the public with evidence that a permit has been issued on a specific area particularly when the permit is not activated for a long period after permit issuance.

§ 77.503 (relating to casing and sealing of drilled holes)

These proposed amendments replace the phrase "Prevent, to the maximum extent possible," with the word "minimize." This change is proposed so that the language of this section remains consistent with a similar section in the coal mining regulations which are also being revised under the Regulatory Basics Initiative. These proposed amendments do not weaken or diminish the effectiveness of this performance standard. This amendment also deletes subsection (d) dealing with barriers around oil and gas wells. The identical language is found at § 77.504(c).

§ 77.504 (relating to distance limitations and areas designated unsuitable for mining)

To maintain consistent terminology within this chapter "surface mining operations" is replaced with "surface mining activities." A minor editorial change is made in subsection (c). The principal revision to this section provides that waivers to allow mining activities within 300 feet (91.4 meters) of an occupied dwelling or commercial or industrial building which are signed by a property owner remain effective for subsequent purchasers of the dwelling or building if the purchaser had constructive knowledge of the waiver at time of purchase. The revision also defines what is meant by "constructive knowledge."

§ 77.527 (relating to sediment controls)

The title is proposed to be revised to more accurately indicate the applicability of this section to the more general "sediment controls." Additional changes clarify when sediment controls other than sediment ponds may be used. The subsection dealing with removal of ponds and facilities is modified to include other controls.

§ 77.562 (relating to preblasting surveys)

The proposed revisions to this section replace a confusing and unenforceable standard for the exemption from requiring preblasting surveys with precise values in a graph (Figure 1). Figure 1 represents levels of ground vibration below which the probability of threshold damage to a dwelling, such as hairline cracks in plaster or drywall, is virtually zero. At higher vibration frequencies the allowable vibration level may exceed the current design standard of 0.5 inches per second peak particle velocity. At extremely low vibration frequencies, the allowable level will be less than 0.5 inches per second. Figure 1 is the result of extensive research by the United States Bureau of Mines (USBM). A discussion of this research can be found in USBM Report of Investigations #8507, Structure Response and Damage Produced by Ground Vibration From Surface Mine Blasting. Additional references to USBM research may be obtained from the person identified in Section B of this Preamble.

These proposed amendments include provisions which describe how the operator must monitor blasting for compliance with the vibration levels in Figure 1 and which prohibit additional blasting if vibration levels exceed the levels in Figure 1 and preblasting surveys have not been offered. These proposed amendments also clarify that the right to a preblasting survey extends to schools, churches, commercial and industrial buildings.

§ 77.564 (relating to surface blasting requirements)

These proposed amendments clarify the provision that the maximum peak particle velocity does not apply at a structure owned by the permittee.

§ 77.572 (relating to permit line setback)

This section is proposed to be rewritten to eliminate confusing language dealing with the distance that a highwall must be set back from the boundary of the bonded area.

§ 77.594 (relating to final slopes)

Additional language clarifies when the Department will consider approving a final slope greater than 35° on terraced reclamation slopes. The proposal also indicates that the final safety bench in unconsolidated materials is needed to provide for safe exit from a postmining impoundment.

§ 77.595 (relating to concurrent reclamation)

This section is proposed to be amended by inserting a requirement that reclamation procedures conform to the reclamation plan required by § 77.456. A new subsection is added which specifies the conditions under which reclamation may be delayed until mineral extraction is completed. Reasons for these delays must be explained in the reclamation plan. In any event, reclamation must begin within 30 days of the end of mineral extraction. The purpose of these amendments is to eliminate safety hazards from highwalls as soon as practicable.

Subchapter J (relating to general permits)

This new subchapter authorizes the Department to develop general permits for categories of noncoal mining where the Department determines that the operations within that category are similar in nature and can be adequately regulated utilizing standard specifications and conditions. It describes the nature of a general permit and that the general permit is a substitute for individual permits. Subchapter J establishes the minimum contents of a general permit, the procedures for issuing a general permit and the requirements for operators wishing to register under the general permit. Finally, the proposal requires persons who operate under the general permit to maintain a mining operator's license and comply with the terms and conditions of the permit, the regulations and applicable laws.

F. Benefits, Costs and Compliance

Executive Order 1996-1 requires a cost/benefit analysis of the proposed amendments.

Benefits

These amendments are proposed in order to revise noncoal mining regulations which impose disproportionate economic costs, regulations which are obsolete or are redundant, regulations which are prescriptive or technology specific, and regulations which lack clarity. The noncoal mining industry, the Department and the public will benefit from these amendments.

Benefits to the general public cannot be quantified. They include more timely reclamation of highwalls which eliminates potential safety hazards and better documentation of Department decisions to issue permits through the requirement for the Department to provide written findings.

The benefits to the regulated community will primarily be a savings in permitting costs as follows:

	Site/yr.	Savings/ site	Savings
—Less prescriptive permit application requirements based on type of operation	20	$2,000	$40,000
—General Permit compared to large noncoal permit application	10	$4,000	$40,000
—Large noncoal operation obtaining small noncoal permits	10	$3,000	$30,000
Total Savings			$110,000

The Department will benefit by a savings through a reduction in the time and effort to review permit applications as follows:

—Reduced review times with general permits:

Affected Sites	Time Saved	Ave. Wage	Savings/ Year
10 large	110 hrs.	$15/hr.	$16,500	$16,500
5 small	5 hrs.	$15/hr.	$1,500	$1,500

—Review of hydrology/geology information based on reduced level of detail for certain types of noncoal operations:

Affected Sites	Time Saved	Ave. Wage	Savings/ Year
20	40 hrs.	$20/hr.	$16,000	$16,000

—Large noncoal operations obtaining small noncoal permits:

Affected Sites	Time Saved	Ave. Wage	Savings/ Year
10	100 hrs.	$15/hr.	$15,000	$15,000

Total Savings $49,000/yr.

Compliance Costs

The proposed changes will impose no additional compliance costs on the regulated community.

Compliance Assistance Plan

Since noncoal mining regulation is an established program in this Commonwealth, compliance assistance will be limited to an effort to inform the industry of the specific changes in the program. This can be accomplished by mailing fact sheets directly to mine operators. If necessary, regional roundtable meetings with the industry will be arranged.

Paperwork Requirements

The proposed amendments will impose no additional paperwork on the regulated community. It will be necessary for the Department to revise several existing forms and technical guidance documents.

G. Sunset Review

These regulations will be reviewed in accordance with the sunset review schedule published by the Department to determine whether the regulations effectively fulfill the goals for which it was intended.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), on February 4, 1997, the Department submitted a copy of the proposed rulemaking to the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) and the Chairpersons of the Senate and House Environmental Resources and Energy Committees. In addition to submitting the proposed amendments, the Department has provided IRRC and the Committees with a copy of a detailed Regulatory Analysis Form prepared by the Department. A copy of this material is available to the public upon request.

If IRRC has objections to any portion of the proposed amendments, it will notify the Department within 30 days of the close of the public comment period. The notification shall specify the regulatory review criteria which have not been met by that portion. The Regulatory Review Act specifies detailed procedures for review by the Department, the Governor, and the General Assembly before final publication of regulations.

I. Public Comments

§ 77.110. Permit waiver—oil and gas well site development.

[As used in this section the term “borrow area” means an area where minerals are extracted solely for the purpose of oil and gas well development. The noncoal surface mining permit requirements of the act and this chapter do not apply to the extraction of noncoal minerals from borrow areas for the purpose of oil and gas well site development, including access road construction, if the well operator demonstrates, at a minimum, to the Department’s satisfaction that the following exist:

(2) The borrow area will not be used for a period exceeding 30 days.

(3) The well operator maintains a valid Noncoal Surface Mining Operator License prior to the extraction of noncoal minerals under Subchapter B (relating to surface mining operator's license).

(4) Noncoal mineral extraction in the borrow area will be conducted in accordance with an erosion and sedimentation control plan or permit implemented under Chapter 102 (relating to erosion control).

(5) The areas affected by the extraction of noncoal minerals will be graded and restored to a slope not to exceed 35 degrees, and will contain no depressions which will impound water. The affected areas will be revegetated to provide a quick germinating, fast-growing, effective and permanent vegetative cover of the same seasonal variety native to the area of land to be affected and capable of self-regeneration and plant succession at least equal to extent of cover to the natural vegetation of the area. Introduced species may be used in the revegetation process where desirable and necessary to achieve the approved postmining land use plan. Vegetative cover shall be considered of the same seasonal variety when it consists of a mixture of species of equal or superior utility for the land use, when compared with the utility of naturally-occurring vegetation during each season of the year.

(6) The reclamation of the borrow area will commence within 10 days of the last extraction of noncoal minerals and will be completed within 30 days. Planting shall be completed by the first normal period for favorable planting.]

This chapter does not apply to a borrow area where minerals are extracted solely for the purpose of oil and gas well development, including access road construction, if the owner or operator of the well meets the requirements of section 603.1 of the Oil and Gas Act (58 P. S. § 601.603).

The proof of publication shall be considered part of the bond release application.] Within 60 days after filing the application for release, the permittee shall submit proof of publication of the advertisement required by subsection (b). The proof of publication shall be considered part of the bond release application. If the proof of publication is not received within 60 days after filing the application for release of bond, the application will be considered incomplete and the Department may return the application with no further action.

(b) For the purposes of this section the following apply:

(1) Reclamation Stage I shall be deemed to have been completed when:

* * * * *

(iii) The lands [are not contributing suspended solids to stream flow or runoff outside the permit area in excess of the requirements of the act, this chapter or the permit] have been stabilized to prevent accelerated erosion and sedimentation in accordance with Chapter 102 (relating to erosion control).

Subchapter G. INFORMATION ON ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCE

§ 77.401. Responsibilities.

A permit application shall contain a description of the existing, premining resources within the proposed permit and adjacent area that may be affected by the proposed surface mining activities. The description shall include the information required in this subchapter. The Department may waive, wholly or in part, the requirements of this subchapter for any category of surface mining operation, if the Department determines that the requirement is not needed to evaluate impacts on public health and safety and the environment.

§ 77.403. Description of hydrology and geology—general requirements.

(a) An application shall contain a description, under this section and §§ 77.404—77.407, of the geology, hydrology and water quality and quantity of surface waters and groundwaters within the general area, and water which will flow into or receive discharges of water from the general area to the extent necessary for the type of noncoal operation for the Department to evaluate the impacts of the operation. The information may be gathered from appropriate government agencies, if available.

(b) The use of modeling or other predictive techniques may be required by the Department as part of the permit application [, but the same surface water and groundwater information shall be required for each site when models are not used] if the proposed mining activity has the potential to impact water supplies or streams.

Subchapter H. REQUIREMENTS FOR OPERATION AND RECLAMATION PLAN

§ 77.456. Reclamation information.

An application shall contain a plan [for the reclamation of the lands within the proposed permit area, including] which provides for reclamation concurrent with the progress of the proposed mining operation to the highest extent possible. The plan shall include the following information:

(1) A timetable describing the steps to be taken in the reclamation plan and their relative sequence to each other to meet the requirements of § 77.595 (relating to concurrent reclamation).

* * * * *

§ 77.461. Dams, ponds, embankments and impoundments.

(c) The design plan for a structure shall:

* * * * *

(2) Include design and construction requirements for each structure, including [required] geotechnical information if requested by the Department.

* * * * *

Subchapter I. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

GENERAL

§ 77.502. Signs and markers.

(a) The operator shall identify the operation for the duration of the surface mining activities by posting and maintaining a sign which will be clearly visible at the junction of each haul road and the public highway. The sign shall be constructed of a durable, weather resistant material and shall be of a minimum size of 2 feet by 3 feet (60 centimeters by 91.4 centimeters) with a light background and contrasting letters and numbers of a minimum height of 1½ inches (3.8 centimeters) that may be easily seen and read. The sign shall show the name of the operator conducting the surface mining activities, the telephone number of the operator and the identification number of the current permit authorizing noncoal mining activities. The sign shall be erected within 60 days after permit issuance.

* * * * *

§ 77.503. Casing and sealing of drilled holes.

(a) An exploration hole, other drill or borehole, well or other exposed underground opening—except for holes solely drilled and used for blasting—or other opening exposed during surface mining activities shall be cased, sealed or otherwise managed as approved by the Department if necessary to:

* * * * *

(2) [Prevent, to the maximum extent possible,] Minimize disturbance to the prevailing hydrologic balance.

* * * * *

[(d) A solid barrier of undisturbed earth, 125 feet in radius, shall be maintained around oil and gas wells, unless one of the following applies:

(1) The well is sealed under subsection (c).

(2) The Department approves, in writing, a lesser distance, if the following apply:

(i) Access to the well is provided at all times.

(ii) The integrity of the well is maintained.

(iii) The well operator agrees in writing to the lesser distance.]

§ 77.504. Distance limitations and areas designated as unsuitable for mining.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b), a person may not conduct noncoal surface mining [operations] activities, other than borrow pits for highway construction purposes, as follows:

(1) Within 100 feet (30.5 meters) of the outside line of right-of-way of a public highway.

(2) Within 300 feet (91.4 meters) of an occupied dwelling house or commercial or industrial building, unless released by the owner thereof.

(3) Within 300 feet (91.4 meters) of a public building, school, community or institutional building.

(4) Within 300 feet (91.4 meters) of a public park.

(5) Within 100 feet (30.5 meters) of a cemetery.

* * * * *

(b) The Department may allow operators to operate within the distance limitations of subsection (a) if the operator demonstrates:

* * * * *

(2) Support areas. For parts of surface mining [operations] activities other than opening or expansion of pits, that special circumstances warrant [operations] activities within the distance limitations, that the public health and safety will not be endangered, that the environment and the interests of the public and the landowners affected thereby will be adequately protected and that there are no feasible or prudent alternatives to conducting those aspects of the [operation] activity within the distance limitations.

(c) A solid barrier of undisturbed material, 125 feet (38.1 meters) in radius shall be maintained around oil and gas wells unless one of the following apply:

* * * * *

(d) Areas to be affected within the 100-foot (30.5 meters) stream barrier shall meet the requirements of § 77.523 (relating to water obstructions and encroachments) in addition to subsection (b).

(e) When the surface mining activities would be conducted within 300 feet (91.4 meters) measured horizontally of an occupied dwelling or commercial or industrial building, the applicant shall submit with the application a written waiver from the owner of the dwelling or building, consenting to the activities within a closer distance of the dwelling or building as specified in the waiver. The waiver shall be:

(1) Knowingly made and separate from a lease or deed unless the lease or deed contains an explicit waiver from the owner.

(2) Effective against subsequent purchasers of the dwelling or building who had actual or constructive knowledge of the existing waiver at the time of purchase. A subsequent purchaser shall be deemed to have constructive knowledge if the waiver was recorded at the office of the recorder of deeds in the county in which the dwelling or building is located or if the surface mining activities have proceeded to within the 300 foot (91.4 meters) limit prior to the date of purchase.

HYDROLOGIC BALANCE

§ 77.527. Sedimentation [ponds] controls.

(a) Surface drainage from the disturbed area, including areas which have been graded, seeded or planted, shall be passed through a sedimentation pond or a series of sedimentation ponds before leaving the permit area. The Department may waive the required use of sedimentation ponds when the person who conducts surface mining activities demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Department that alternate sediment [ponds are not necessary to meet the effluent limitations under § 77.522 (relating to effluent standards)] control facilities will prevent accelerated erosion and sedimentation in accordance with Chapter 102 (relating to erosion control).

* * * * *

(c) Sedimentation ponds and controls and other treatment facilities shall be maintained until removal of the ponds and facilities is approved by the Department.

(d) Sedimentation ponds shall meet[, at a minimum,] the requirements of Chapters 102 and 105, if applicable, and be designed to meet the effluent requirements of the permit.

USE OF EXPLOSIVES

§ 77.562. Preblasting surveys.

(a) [No preblasting] Preblasting surveys will not be required if blasting is designed [to meet a peak particle velocity of .5 inch per second or less—with no seismographed blast to exceed .75 inch per second—] and conducted below the levels of blasting vibration shown on Figure #1 at the nearest [residence] dwelling, school, church, commercial or institutional building neither owned nor leased by the operator. [The .5 inch per second peak particle velocity limit shall remain in effect for the life of the operation.] If preblast surveys are not conducted, the operator shall provide a seismograph record including both the particle velocity time-history (wave form) and the particle velocity and vibration frequency levels for each blast.

(1) The vibration frequency shall be displayed and analyzed over the frequency range of 2 Hz through 100 Hz.

(2) The permittee shall obtain Department approval of the analytical method used to determine the predominant frequency before applying this alternative criterion.

(3) If an operator who has not offered preblasting surveys, blasts at a level exceeding the levels of vibration in figure #1, no additional blasting may be conducted until one of the following applies:

(i) The operator meets the requirements of subsections (b)—(e).

(ii) The operator demonstrates that subsequent blasting will produce vibrations at levels below the levels of blasting vibration shown in Figure #1.

(b) If the operator intends to conduct blasting at vibration levels exceeding [.5 inch per second] the levels of vibration in Figure #1 at the nearest dwelling, school, church, commercial or institutional building neither owned nor leased by the operator, [he] the operator shall offer preblast surveys. At least 30 days before commencement or resumption of the blasting, the operator shall notify, in writing, the residents or owners of dwellings or other structures located within [1000] 1,000 feet (304.8 meters) of the area where blasting will occur of their right to request a preblasting survey and how to request a preblasting survey. On the request to the Department or operator by a resident or owner of a dwelling or structure that is located within [1000] 1,000 feet (304.8 meters) of [a part of] the [permit] area where blasting will occur, the [persons who conduct the surface mining activities] operator shall promptly conduct a preblasting survey of the dwelling or structure. If a dwelling or structure is renovated or added to subsequent to a preblast survey, then, upon request by the resident or owner to the Department or operator, a survey of the additions and renovations shall be performed by the operator in accordance with this section. The operator shall provide the Department with a copy of the request.

§ 77.564. Surface blasting requirements.

* * * * *

(j) The maximum peak particle velocity limitation of subsection (i) does not apply at [the following locations:] a structure owned by the permittee.

[(1) At a structure owned by the person conducting the mining activity, and not leased to another party.

(2) At structures owned by the person conducting the mining activity, and leased to another party.]

* * * * *

§ 77.572. Permit line setback.

(a) [A permit boundary line setback distance shall be maintained for the highwall during mining.] Highwalls shall be set back from the boundary of the area covered by a bond under § 77.193 (relating to requirement to file bond). The setback shall be of sufficient width to accomplish the following:

* * * * *

[(3) Allow for a minimum 25-foot wide working area above the top of the final reclamation slope. The minimum setback in unconsolidated material shall be at least equal to the height of the face if the face is greater than 25 feet.]

(b) The minimum setback distance shall be 25 feet (7.6 meters) in consolidated material. In unconsolidated material, the minimum setback distance shall be equal to the height of the exposed unconsolidated material unless otherwise approved by the Department.

(b) ***

BACKFILLING AND GRADING

§ 77.594. Final slopes.

Final slopes for reclamation of noncoal surface mines shall conform with the following requirements:

* * * * *

(2) If terracing is approved for postmining reclamation, the final overall slope shall be 35 [degrees] ° or less unless otherwise approved under subparagraph (v).

(i) If a water impoundment is part of the reclamation, the slope shall extend to 50 feet (15.2 meters) below the post reclamation water level at a maximum slope of 35 [degrees] ° to serve as a safety bench for safe exit from the impoundment. The underwater safety bench may be reduced to a lesser depth—a minimum 25-foot (7.6 meters) width shall be maintained in all cases—if the operator demonstrates to the Department's satisfaction that there will be an overflow at a defined elevation or that the seasonal water table fluctuation will not require a 50-foot (15.2 meters) depth. For purposes of safe exit from an impoundment in unconsolidated materials, the Department may require an underwater safety bench be sloped at less than 35° from the horizontal.

* * * * *

§ 77.595. Concurrent reclamation.

(a) Reclamation procedures, including backfilling, grading, topsoil replacement and revegetation of land that is disturbed by noncoal surface mining shall be kept concurrent with the progress of the proposed operation to the greatest extent possible in conformance with §§ 77.456, 77.592—77.594, this section [and], § 77.596 and the approved reclamation plan.

(b) If site conditions dictate that reclamation cannot begin until mineral extraction is terminated, the reasons for this delay shall be detailed in the reclamation plan required under § 77.456 (relating to reclamation information).

(c) Reclamation shall begin within 30 days of when mineral extraction is terminated, and be completed within the time period specified in the approved reclamation plan.

(d) Mineral extraction is considered to be terminated when the permitted extent of the mineral reserves has been extracted.

PROPOSED RULEMAKING

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY BOARD

[25 PA. CODE CHS. 271—273, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287—289, 291, 293, 295, 297 AND 299]

Amendments to Municipal and Residual Waste Recordkeeping and Reporting Requirements; Substantial Plan Revisions

The Environmental Quality Board (Board) proposes to amend Chapters 271—273, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287—289, 291, 293, 295, 297 and 299.

The proposed amendments eliminate duplicate data submission to the Department of Environmental Protection (Department) and reduce unnecessary or duplicative recordkeeping requirements for the regulated community while maintaining environmental protection and public access to information. These proposed amendments result from a year long review of all the reporting requirements in the municipal and residual waste programs under the Secretary's Regulatory Basics Initiative and Executive Order 1996-1. Each report or recordkeeping requirement was evaluated to determine if the information was necessary and critical, if the requested information was available elsewhere, if additional or different information was needed and if the information could be handled more efficiently through electronic receipt, improved data input, submission to different offices or other method.

In addition, these proposed amendments implement a recommendation of the Municipal Waste Stakeholders Group (Stakeholders Group) regarding county municipal waste plan revisions. The 28-member Stakeholders Group, sponsored by the Department and the County Commissioners Association of Pennsylvania, was formed to discuss municipal waste issues. The group included recyclers, haulers, landfill operators, county waste authorities, municipal and county government representatives, and environmental and public interest groups. The proposed amendment would revise § 272.252(e) (relating to development of plan revisions) to allow counties to add or delete a waste management facility to or from their county municipal waste management plan as a nonsubstantial plan revision. Currently the regulations consider this to be a substantial plan revision.

This proposal was adopted by the Board at its meeting of December 17, 1996.

A. Effective Date

These amendments will go into effect upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin as a final rulemaking.

C. Statutory Authority

The proposed rulemaking is being made under the authority of the following:

- The Solid Waste Management Act (SWMA) (35 P. S. §§ 6018.101—6018.1003), which in section 105(a) (35 P. S. § 6018.105(a)) grants the Board the power and duty to adopt the rules and regulations of the Department to carry out the provisions of the SWMA.

- The Municipal Waste Planning, Recycling and Waste Reduction Act (53 P. S. §§ 4000.101—4000.1904), which in section 302 (53 P. S. § 4000.302) gives the Board the power and duty to adopt the regulations of the Department to accomplish the purposes and to carry out the provisions of this act.

- The Clean Streams Law (35 P. S. §§ 691.1—691.1001), which in section 5(b) (35 P. S. § 691.5(b)) grants the Department the authority to formulate, adopt, promulgate and repeal the rules and regulations as are necessary to implement the provisions of this act.

- The Infectious and Chemotherapeutic Wastes Law (35 P. S. §§ 6019.1—6019.6), which in sections 2(b) and 4(b) (35 P. S. §§ 6019.2(b) and 6019.4(b)) grants the Department the authority to propose regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to accomplish the purposes of this act and grants the Board the authority to adopt rules and regulations of the Department to accomplish the purposes and to carry out the provisions of this act.

D. Background and Purpose

Reporting Requirements

The Department, in an effort to maintain environmental protection, continue providing information to the public, eliminate duplicate data submission, and reduce recordkeeping requirements, formed a committee of regional and central office managerial and technical staff to review all relevant report requirements. Except for those forms previously reviewed by the Department's Permit Application Team, this amounted to over 100 separate forms. The result of the review of the municipal, residual and infectious and chemotherapeutic waste regulations is included in this regulatory package. Revisions to the hazardous waste reporting requirements appeared at 27 Pa.B. 237 (January 11, 1997).

The review committee began its work in March, 1995. Its objectives were to eliminate unnecessary and duplicative reports, to reduce the information requested, to more effectively handle the information received and to ask only for the information needed to administer the waste programs without compromising the Department's or the public's need for information. For each reporting requirement the committee asked:

- Is the report necessary and critical?
- Can the amount of information be decreased?
- Is the requested information available elsewhere?
- Is additional or different information needed?
- Can the information be handled better—electronically, data input, submission to different offices, etc.?

The Department's Solid Waste Advisory Committee (SWAC) was given a status report on this proposal in May 1995. An additional briefing was provided in March 1996. SWAC suggested that for each reporting requirement the Department proposes to eliminate, the Department provide information on an alternate source of the same data. As a result of this comment, a table containing this information appears in the "Summary of Regulatory Requirements" portion of this Preamble.

SWAC also suggested that the program administration fee structure be evaluated to see if the fees could be reduced in line with the reduction in reporting requirements. The review of the fee structure showed that the fees should not be revised since, for the most part, the information is still being reviewed, either through submission or by inspections. Even though it may not be submitted as often, the Department's field staff will have the added responsibility of ensuring it is prepared and maintained at the facility.

The public, regulated industry and Department staff were invited to participate in the review by an article in the May 26, 1995, Department Update. Suggestions on improving the format and ease of use of the forms as well as frequency of reporting were specifically requested. In addition, presentations were made to the Pennsylvania Chamber of Business and Industry and to the Pennsylvania Waste Industry Association's Technical Advisory Committee members. Of all the comments submitted, 90% had already been anticipated by the review committee.

In October 1995, Keith Kerns, Chief of the Department's Waste Minimization and Planning Division, co-chaired a session at the Waste Today Conference and reviewed the Committee's progress. Participants were enthusiastic about the time and money these reporting revisions will save industry.

The package also includes the addition of a new section to the municipal waste regulations (§ 271.4) which will authorize the submission of data electronically. Electronic submissions are allowed under the existing residual waste regulations. The Board is interested in comments regarding interest in and the feasibility of allowing submission of reports electronically. Specific suggestions on which reports are better suited to electronic submission and the format preferred are requested. Any information on costs or savings to the regulated community realized by the reduction in reporting and the electronic reporting option are also requested.

The Department has prepared draft forms of what the various report forms will look like if the proposed revisions are finalized. These draft forms are available through the contact persons listed in Section B of this Preamble or can be viewed on the Department's World Wide Web site (<http://www.dep.state.pa.us>). To locate, select "INFORMATION BY ENVIRONMENTAL SUBJECT" and then select the MUNICIPAL AND RESIDUAL WASTE HOMEPAGE.

Plan Revisions

These proposed regulatory revisions also implement a recommendation of the Stakeholders Group regarding county municipal waste plan revisions. The Board proposes to revise § 272.252(e) to allow counties to add or delete a waste management facility to or from their county municipal waste management plan through a nonsubstantial plan revision. Currently the regulations require a substantial plan revision.

Entire Package

The full proposed regulatory package was reviewed with SWAC at its September 12, 1996, meeting. SWAC approved the proposal with several recommended revisions. The revisions are incorporated in this proposal.

None of these revisions exceeds Federal requirements. Related municipal waste Federal regulations can be found in the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) "Criteria for Municipal Solid Waste Landfills," 40 CFR Part 258, at § 258.29. The EPA requires submission of records upon request, to the state director (that is, the Secretary of the Department). The Department has obtained EPA approval of its landfill permitting program (including recordkeeping and reporting under Part 258). These proposed regulatory amendments will not jeopardize the EPA approval.

There are no companion Federal residual waste regulations. Because the Department is responsible for program administration, including compliance monitoring, detailed periodic reporting is necessary.

E. Summary of Regulatory Requirements

Descriptive Summary

Chapter 271 (relating to municipal waste management—general provisions)

Chapter 271 contains the general provisions for the municipal waste programs, including permit requirements, review procedures, financial assurance requirements, civil penalties and enforcement procedures. The Board proposes to add § 271.4 (relating to alternate data submission). This section would authorize the submission of information to the Department electronically. There have been significant advances in the field of electronic data interchange. The Board requests specific comments regarding the different methods of electronic submission and which techniques should be pursued and made available to the regulated community—electronic data interchange, internet connection, fax submission, smart forms, and the like.

Chapter 272 (relating to municipal waste planning, recycling and waste reduction)

Chapter 272 contains the municipal waste planning, recycling and waste reduction requirements.

The Board proposes to revise § 272.252(e). This section lists those county municipal waste plan revisions that are considered a substantial revision. As a substantial revision, the county is required to comply with §§ 272.202, 272.241—272.243 and 272.245 including notification to the county advisory committee, publication of a public notice, notification to the municipalities following the ratification process used in the initial plan adoption, and submitting implementing documents, in addition to requirements applicable to a nonsubstantial plan revision. Those requirements consist of notifying the Department, complying with certain content requirements and notifying the municipalities and advisory committee. The proposed revision would remove the addition or deletion of a resource recovery facility or municipal waste landfill from the list of actions that are considered to be substantial plan revisions.

Chapter 273 (relating to municipal waste landfills)

Chapter 273 contains the application and operating requirements for municipal waste landfills. The Board proposes to revise § 273.311 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change; however, the report document itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

No changes are proposed for the quarterly operation report in § 273.312 (relating to the quarterly operation report).

The Board proposes to revise § 273.313 (relating to annual operation report). Information on the weight or volume of waste received and on the type of waste received by county and transporter will no longer be required. This information will still be required to be recorded in the daily record. Information on groundwater monitoring wells, erosion and sedimentation control structures, leachate storage or treatment facilities will no longer be required on the annual report. This information is required to be submitted in the initial permit application and revisions to these systems must be reported as they are made. Information regarding emergency disposal areas will not be required in the annual report because that information must be recorded in the daily record.

Additionally, the facility will not be required to include notification of critical stages of construction in the annual report because that information is included in a permit application. Nor will a facility be required to include an analysis of special handling or residual waste received, because these analyses must be retained as part of the approval needed prior to the receipt of these wastes. Since the facility identifies the counties which have used the facility in the previous year on their daily record and quarterly report, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Waste identified by specific transporter will also no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 277 (relating to construction/demolition waste landfills)

Chapter 277 contains the application and operating requirements for construction/demolition waste landfills.

The Board proposes to revise § 277.311 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change; however, the report document itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board proposes to revise § 277.312 (relating to annual operation report). Information on the weight or volume of waste received and the type of waste received by county and transporter will no longer be required. This information will still be required to be recorded on the daily record. Information on groundwater monitoring wells, erosion and sedimentation control structures, leachate storage or treatment facilities will no longer be required on the annual report. This information is required to be submitted in the initial permit application and revisions to these systems must be reported as they occur. Information regarding emergency disposal areas will not be required in the annual report because changes in that information must be included in the daily record. The facility will not be required to include notification of critical stages of construction in the annual report because that information is included in a permit application. Waste identified by specific transporter will no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 279 (relating to transfer stations)

Chapter 279 contains the application and operating requirements for transfer stations.

The Board proposes to revise § 279.251 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change; however, the report document itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board also proposes to revise § 279.252 (relating to annual operation report). Because a transfer facility is required to include the weight or volume of waste received, the county or State where it originated, the transporters, amount of material recycled or marketed, and the destination of the waste on the daily record, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Information regarding emergency disposal areas will not be required in the annual report because that information must be kept in the daily record. Chemical analyses for special handling waste certification will no longer be required because the facility is required to receive these analyses and keep them as part of their approval to receive these wastes.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 281 (relating to composting facilities)

Chapter 281 contains the application and operating requirements for composting facilities.

The Board proposes to revise § 281.271 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report document itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board proposes to revise § 281.272 (relating to the annual operational report). Because a composting facility is required to include the weight or volume of waste received and the transporters on the daily record, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Chemical analyses for special handling waste certification will no longer be required because the facility is required to receive these analyses and keep them as part of their approval to receive these wastes. Waste identified by specific transporter will no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 283 (relating to resource recovery and other processing facilities)

Chapter 283 contains the application and operating requirements for municipal waste resource recovery and other processing facilities.

The Board proposes to revise § 283.261 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change; however, the report document itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board proposes to revise § 283.262 (relating to annual operational report). Because the facility is required to include the county or state where it originated, the transporters, amount of material recycled or marketed, disposal information for bypassed waste and waste products, and handling and disposal problems on the daily record, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Analyses for special handling waste will no longer be required because the facility is required to receive these analyses and keep them as part of their approval to receive these wastes. Waste identified by specific transporter will no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 285 (relating to storage, collection and transportation of municipal waste)

Chapter 285 contains the requirements for storage, collection and transportation of municipal waste, as well as the operational and transporter licensing requirements for infectious and chemotherapeutic waste.

The Board proposes to revise § 285.217 (relating to recordkeeping) to clarify that a report is required in the cab of a collection or transportation vehicle.

Currently there is no requirement for an infectious and chemotherapeutic waste transporter daily report and none is proposed. However, an infectious and chemotherapeutic waste manifest is required to be prepared by the infectious and chemotherapeutic waste generator, § 285.412 (relating to preparation of manifest), and carried with each load, § 285.421 (relating to basic requirements). The manifest is required to be retained for 5 years, § 285.403 (relating to recordkeeping). There are four copies of the manifest, § 285.411 (relating to use of manifest). One is retained by the generator, one by the transporter, and one by the management facility who then returns the final copy back to the generator after the material is received by the management facility.

The Board proposes to revise § 285.334 (relating to annual operational report). Because the infectious and chemotherapeutic waste transporter is required to include generator and transporter information on the infectious and chemotherapeutic waste manifest, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. The State manifest document number is no longer applicable and has been eliminated from the annual report. In addition, the annual report will now only include the first transporter when multiple transporters are utilized. All transporters must be identified on the manifest.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 287 (relating to residual waste management—general provisions)

Chapter 287 contains the general provisions for residual waste management.

The Board proposes to revise § 287.51 (relating to scope). Currently persons or municipalities that generate more than 2,200 pounds of residual waste per generating location in any single month of the previous year are required to prepare a biennial report, a source reduction strategy and a chemical analysis of the waste generated. The proposed revision would allow the generator to average the amount generated over the year and the generator would be required to comply with this subchapter only if the average per month exceeds 2,200 pounds.

Chapter 288 (relating to residual waste landfills)

Chapter 288 contains the operating requirements for residual waste landfills.

The Board proposes to revise § 288.281 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, rather than submitting the report to the Department, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request. An analysis of the quantity and quality of leachate flowing from the landfill would be required as per the specific facility permit requirements.

The Board proposes to delete § 288.282 (relating to quarterly operation report), because all of the information required in the quarterly report must be included on the daily report.

The Board proposes to revise § 288.283 (relating to annual operational report). Because the facility is required to include information about groundwater monitoring wells, access roads, a facility office, erosion and sedimentation structures, and property lines and boundaries of the permitted fill areas in the permit application map or in a permit modification, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Information about leachate storage or treatment facilities must be part of the facility permit application or leachate treatment plan, and will no longer be required on the annual report. For noncaptive facilities, the type and weight of the waste received from each transporter is required on the daily record and will no longer be required on the annual report. Identification of waste received by transporter will no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 289 (relating to residual waste disposal impoundments)

Chapter 289 contains the requirements for residual waste disposal impoundments.

The Board proposes to revise § 289.301 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, rather than submitting the report to the Department, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

The Board proposes no changes to the quarterly operation report.

The Board proposes to revise § 289.303 (relating to annual operational report). Identification of contours at the beginning and end of the year, and of the completed fill area will no longer be required on the annual report. That information is not appropriate for an impoundment. Information about groundwater monitoring wells, access roads, the facility office, erosion and sedimentation control structures and location of treatment facilities must be included in the initial map and facility operation plan, submitted with a permit application, and will no longer be required on the annual report. Identification of property lines and boundaries of the permitted disposal and lined areas will no longer be required since that information must be submitted in the permit application. Notification of critical stages of facility construction or operation that require certification by a registered professional engineer must be included upon completion of each major construction activity with the certification in § 289.202 (relating to certification) and will not be required in the annual report. Certification that the operator of a disposal impoundment has received the waste analysis or certification required by § 287.54 (relating to chemical analysis of waste) for special handling waste received at the facility, and that the special handling waste received at the facility meets the conditions in the facility's permit will no longer be required on the annual report. Special handling wastes are not permitted to be disposed at residual waste impoundments.

For noncaptive facilities, the type and weight or volume of solid waste received from each transporter will no longer be required on the annual report. Daily records require reporting of the amount and type of waste and of the transporters, but not the amount or type of waste received from each transporter.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 291 (relating to land application of residual waste)

Chapter 291 applies to the land application of residual waste.

The Board proposes to revise § 291.221 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, rather than submitting the report to the Department, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 293 (relating to transfer facilities for residual waste)

Chapter 293 contains the requirements for residual waste transfer facilities.

The Board proposes to revise § 293.251 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, rather than submitting the report to the Department, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board proposes to revise § 293.252 (relating to annual operational report). Because the transfer facility is required to include information about the weight or volume of waste received, generator information and transporter information on the daily record, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Specific amounts of waste received by each generator will no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 295 (relating to composting facilities for residual waste)

Chapter 295 applies to residual waste composting facilities.

The Board proposes to revise § 295.271 (relating to daily operational records). The weight or volume of materials used, reclaimed, marketed or disposed must be reported on the annual report and will no longer be required on the daily record. A record of deviation from the approved design will no longer be required on the daily report because that information must be reported to the Department as it occurs. The daily report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, rather than submitting the report to the Department, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board proposes to revise § 295.272 (relating to annual operational report). Identification of waste received by specific transporter will no longer be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 297 (relating to incinerators and other processing facilities)

Chapter 297 applies to residual waste incinerators and other processing facilities.

The Board proposes to revise § 297.261 (relating to daily operational records). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. In addition, rather than submitting the report to the Department, the facility would be required to retain the daily record for the life of the facility bond, or longer if directed by the Department. The information must be made available to the Department upon request.

Currently there is no regulatory requirement for a quarterly operation report and none is proposed.

The Board proposes to revise § 297.262 (relating to annual operational report). Because the facility is required to include information in the daily record about transporters and where bypass wastes and other waste are ultimately disposed, this information will no longer be required on the annual report. Identification by a transporter of specific wastes will no longer be required. The amount of waste disposed must now be included on the annual report.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated, an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

Chapter 299 (relating to storage and transportation of residual waste)

Chapter 299 applies to residual waste storage and transportation.

The Board proposes to revise § 299.219 (relating to recordkeeping and reporting). Specifically, the information required in the daily records would not change. However, the report itself would no longer be required to be recorded on a Department form. Clarification was added that the daily record must be in the cab of the transportation vehicle on the date of collection or transportation. In addition, the Department can require retention of the daily record for a specified length of time.

The annual report requirement has been deleted completely. Information needed by the Department can be found on the daily record. Annual totals of waste transported and information specific to each generator will not be required.

For each reporting requirement that is proposed to be eliminated an alternate source of the same data is listed in the table at the end of this summary.

TABLE

This table is provided upon SWAC's recommendation. It lists the reporting items proposed to be deleted (a section reference is given along with a summary of the requirement) and at least one alternate location where the information can be found.

(b)(6) The type and weight or volume of solid waste received from each transporter.

Alternate Information Source

Daily operational record. § 297.261(b)(5).

Daily operational record. § 297.261(b)(1) and (3) require recording of waste received by amount and transporter, but not waste received by each transporter.

CHAPTER 299. STORAGE AND TRANSPORTATION OF RESIDUAL WASTE

§ 299.219(b) Annual report. Proposal is to delete this annual report requirement.

(b)(1) A summary of the types or classifications of residual wastes transported each month of the year by weight or volume and annual totals.

(b)(2) The name, mailing address, county and state of each generator of the transported waste, including the type or classification of the waste, and weight or volume of the waste.

Daily record. § 299.219(a)(2). Annual totals would not appear on the daily record.

Daily record. § 299.219(a)(1), (2) and (3) requires this information, but not by generator.

Daily record. § 299.219(a)(4). Identification of the quantity of waste delivered to a specific destination will no longer be required.

F. Benefits, Costs and Compliance

Executive Order 1996-1 requires a cost/benefit analysis of the proposed amendments.

BenefitsReporting Requirements

The regulated community will benefit since the amount of information reported and the frequency will lessen—approximately 2,500 facilities completing 185,508 fewer pages of reports per year. The Department will benefit since only information maintained and submitted will be what is needed to administer the waste programs.

Plan Revisions

The counties, municipalities, waste facilities and the general public will benefit since the shorter plan revision process will allow counties to take advantage of competitive pricing in the waste management industry.

Compliance CostsReporting Requirements

The number of persons, groups or entities required to comply will not change from those currently regulated. There will be a significant reduction in the efforts required to comply. Because there are a variety of techniques to comply with these reporting requirements (completion by hand, computer, contractor, and the like) it is difficult to estimate costs or savings. The Department has asked for input on this specific question in the Preamble. It is known that the proposal will delete 15 forms formally required of 2,326 facilities.

Plan Revisions

All 67 Pennsylvania counties are required to prepare a county municipal waste management plan. Only those who will be revising their plan to add or delete a waste management facility will need to comply with the regulation. Since plan revisions are initiated by the county, it is not possible to estimate how many will be affected at any given time. Counties will realize a time saving in revising their plans which should translate into a cost savings because of fewer meetings and notices.

Compliance Assistance PlanReporting Requirements

Because these revisions do not add any new reporting requirements, no specific hearings or meetings are scheduled. To assist the public in its review of this proposal, the Department has prepared drafts of what the various report forms would look like. These draft forms are available through the contact persons listed in the Preamble, Section B or can be viewed on the Department World Wide Web site (<http://www.dep.state.pa.us>). To locate, select "INFORMATION BY ENVIRONMENTAL SUBJECT" and then select the MUNICIPAL AND RESIDUAL WASTE HOMEPAGE. No financial assistance appears to be needed and none will be offered.

Plan Revisions

The Department intends to conduct at least one State-wide meeting on county municipal waste planning. It will include this revision and others expected within the next year. Plan revision is an eligible expense under the Act 101, Section 901 planning grant program. Counties will be encouraged to consider submission of a grant application to cover plan revision expenses.

Entire Package

The Department intends to provide educational, technical and compliance assistance directly to interested parties through the regional offices, articles in its weekly Update newsletter, distribution of information through trade associations, and electronically by having all the report forms available on the Department's World Wide Web site.

Paperwork RequirementsReporting Requirements

These proposed amendments eliminate duplicate data submission and reduce unnecessary or duplicative record-keeping requirements for the regulated community while maintaining environmental protection and public access to information. No additional forms or paperwork will be needed.

Plan Revisions

These proposed amendments will allow counties to add or delete a waste management facility to or from their county municipal waste management plan as a non-substantial plan revision. No additional forms or paperwork will be needed.

G. Sunset Review

These regulations will be reviewed in accordance with the sunset review schedule published by the Department to determine whether the regulations effectively fulfill the goals for which they were intended.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), on February 4, 1997, the Department submitted a copy of the proposed rulemaking to the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) and the Chairpersons of the Senate and House Environmental Resources and Energy Committees. In addition to submitting the proposed amendments, the Department has provided IRRC and the Committees with a copy of a detailed regulatory analysis form prepared by the Department. A copy of this material is available to the public upon request.

If the Commission has objections to any portion of the proposed amendments, it will notify the Department within 30 days of the close of the public comment period. The notification shall specify the regulatory review criteria which have not been met by that portion. The Regulatory Review Act specifies detailed procedures for the Department, the Governor and the General Assembly to review these objections before final publication of the regulations.

I. Public Comments

Written comments. Interested persons are invited to submit comments, suggestions or objections regarding the proposed amendments to the Environmental Quality Board, P. O. Box 8477, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8477 (express mail: Rachel Carson State Office Building, 15th Floor, 400 Market Street, Harrisburg, PA 17101-2301). Comments submitted by facsimile will not be accepted. Comments, suggestions or objections must be received by the Board by April 16, 1997 (within 60 days of publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin). Interested persons may also submit a summary of their comments to the Board. The summary may not exceed one page in length and must also be received by April 16, 1997 (within 60 days following publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin). The one-page summary will be provided to each member of the Board in the agenda packet distributed prior to the meeting at which the final regulations will be considered.

Electronic Comments. Comments may be submitted electronically to the Board at RegComments@A1.dep.state.pa.us. A subject heading of the proposal and a return name and address must be included in each transmission. Comments submitted electronically must also be received by the Board by April 16, 1997.

J. Public Hearing

The Board will hold a public hearing for the purpose of accepting comments on this proposal. The hearing will be held at 1 p.m. on the following date:

April 1, 1997: DEP, 1st Floor Meeting Room, Rachel Carson State Office Building, 400 Market Street, Harrisburg, PA.

Persons wishing to present testimony at the hearing are requested to contact Nancy Roush at the Environmental Quality Board, P. O. Box 8477, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8477, (717) 787-4526, at least 1 week in advance of the hearing to reserve a time to present testimony. Oral testimony is limited to 10 minutes for each witness. Witnesses are requested to submit three written copies of their oral testimony to the hearing chairperson at the hearing. Organizations are limited to designating one witness to present testimony on their behalf at each hearing.

Persons in need of accommodations as provided for in the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 should contact Nancy Roush directly at (717) 787-4526 or through the Pennsylvania AT&T Relay Service at (800) 654-5984 (TDD) to discuss how the Department may accommodate their needs.

JAMES M. SEIF,
Chairperson

(Editor's Note: Sections 272.252 and 287.51 were amended at 27 Pa.B. 521 (January 25, 1997). These amendments will be codified in the April 1997 Pennsylvania Code Reporter (MTS 269).)

Fiscal Note: 7-304. No fiscal impact; (8) recommends adoption. These proposed amendments may result in minor cost savings to the Department. Cost savings may be realized from a reduction in administrative workload associated with the handling, storage and tracking of documents.
