The Docket, Issue 1, October 1970

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.law.villanova.edu/docket

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.law.villanova.edu/docket/32

This 1970-1971 is brought to you for free and open access by the Historical Archives at Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Docket by an authorized administrator of Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law Digital Repository.
The Bail Project has been located at the Villanova Law School since the end of the summer with a remarkable team of students, faculty, and staff on its roster. During the summer it was run on a volunteer basis by Richard Lord, David Reilly, Frank Sullivan and Rumi Shuman.

STUDENTS STAFF BAIL PROJECT

The Bail Project is basically staffed by law students under the management and supervision of the Public Defender Association of Philadelphia. It deals almost exclusively with the area of pre-trial motions, attempting to serve as a safeguard and aid in protecting the rights of criminal defendants. Its goal is to eliminate unnecessary pre-trial detention of an accused individual in our criminal justice system.

The project originated in Philadelphia at the University of Pennsylvania Law School receiving the necessary support and its operation from the Ford Foundation. Its inception was triggered by two factors, which many individuals feel work simultaneously to derogate the rights of an accused individual.

In Philadelphia, as in many other jurisdictions, there is frequently a time gap (ranging from a few hours to many more) between the arrest of an individual and his arraignment, which is necessary for his actual trial. In addition, the criminal system and the Office of the District Attorney are not particularly well equipped to gather all the evidence needed to proceed against the defendant in time for his arraignment. To fill this gap, a complete information file is prepared on each inmate loved by making bail truly available on either of these motions can require the intervention of the District Attorney, the bail commissioner or the court judge at a hearing to rule on the appearance or arraignment. They all have the necessary facts needed to make a completely informed decision as to which defendants, and at what stage of their proceedings, will be able to avail themselves of release on bail.

The Bail Project is basically staffed by law students under the management and supervision of the Public Defender Association of Philadelphia. It deals almost exclusively with the area of pre-trial motions, attempting to serve as a safeguard and aid in protecting the rights of criminal defendants. Its goal is to eliminate unnecessary pre-trial detention of an accused individual in our criminal justice system.

The project originated in Philadelphia at the University of Pennsylvania Law School receiving the necessary support and its operation from the Ford Foundation. Its inception was triggered by two factors, which many individuals feel work simultaneously to derogate the rights of an accused individual.

In Philadelphia, as in many other jurisdictions, there is frequently a time gap (ranging from a few hours to many more) between the arrest of an individual and his arraignment, which is necessary for his actual trial. In addition, the criminal system and the Office of the District Attorney are not particularly well equipped to gather all the evidence needed to proceed against the defendant in time for his arraignment. To fill this gap, a complete information file is prepared on each inmate.
From The Dean's Desk

As We See It...

By Harold Gill Reuschlein

What's new in 1970-1971?

At Garey Hall, there's much that's new.

Not only are there new faces among the Faculty, there are new faces among the staff. We are fortunate to add three alumni to our Lecturer staff. Assistant Professor Walter J. Taggart, who received his A.B. from Providence College and his J.D. from Harvard. He comes to us from Los Angeles where he practiced with McCutchen, Black, Verleger and Shea. He teaches Administrative Law, Constitutional Law, Federal Courts and Professional Responsibility and is serving as Secretary to the Faculty.

Also joining the faculty is Assistant Professor Walter John Taggart who received his A.B. from Belmont Abbey College in 1965 and his J.D. from Villanova in 1968. He has been serving as law clerk to Federal Judge John P. Fullam. His courses are Federal Multidistrict and Test Case Litigation, Products and the Consumer, and Property. He serves as Executive Secretary to the Law Alumni and as Advisor to THE DOCKET.

We are fortunate to add three alumni to our Lecturer staff. John J. Cannon, Jr., A.B. '59, J.D. '62, Villanova, and Joseph A. Boggio, Jr., '63, Villanova, Trust Officer with the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co., handles Estate Planning.

Not all who are new among the Faculty, there are also new courses in our curriculum, among them Professional Responsibility (required of all first year students), Products and the Consumer and Remedies. New seminars include Civil Liberties, Collective Bargaining, Public Employment, Comparative Law, Federal Multidistrict Litigation, Law and Pollution Control and Rights of Prisoners.

The Clinical Program in Juvenile Justice is now well under way.

We can now see real progress in the construction of Garey Hall. The underpass, which you may recall elsewhere in this issue, to make up the heritage he leaves after him. When the knowledge of his death reached the students for the fall semester, one could look upon them and know immediately how much his friendship had meant to the students. They realized that he taught by example rather than by precept—not merely by a quiet, but a helpful serenity.

John Carnes' devotion to his family was a delight to witness. His devotion to his family was the love base from which his concern for others was projected. To those of us who were privileged to share his life, even for a few brief years, he gave inspiration, strength, joy and warmth. This legacy abides with us now and always will. And for this we are grateful.

Harold Gill Reuschlein

Dean

Letters To The Editor

The DOCKET will accept and print letters to the Editor. All letters must be signed and contain the address of the sender. Although The DOCKET will include the year of (expected) graduation in the first line, The DOCKET will withhold the name of the writer. Address letters to The Editor, Villanova Law School, Villanova, Pa. 19085.

Letters in THE DOCKET mailbox located in the Administration Office.

STUDENTS OCCUPY SUMMER POSITIONS

Each summer, many Villanova Law Students are afforded the opportunity to engage in legally oriented gainful employment in the Philadelphia and Delaware County districts. They work in the field of Corporate Taxation. Here is an example of a summer position that was legally sanctioned employment. These students were fortunate enough to become familiarized with the workings of the Philadelphia and Delaware County districts.

A sample of the duties of Corporate Taxation is as follows:

• Preparation and filing of returns.
• Assisting in the Abbott National Tax Court
• Reviewing the legality of employee suggestion plans and answers, attendance at trials and hearings or title searches.

Stephen Fagan, a second year student, spent the summer working as a legal assistant for the Philadelphia Public Defender's Office. His duties were mainly in the area of general legal research and included the preparation of the brief on the new and controverted case of Byrd v. Warner, which became effective on July 1st of this year.

Professor Richetti received her A.B. from Penn and her law degree from Yale. She comes to us with a wealth of experience as a law clerk to the Honorable Eugene Hirsch and Philip Fuoco. She is a partner in the firm of Stern, Goldberg, Maurer, and Cutler, and has a varied civil practice. His summer position was legally sanctioned by the firm of Brown, Connery, Kulp and Walsh, who was law clerk to the Honorable Joseph R. McNulty, Jr., in the Philadelphia and Delaware County districts.

Professor Richetti, assisted by Adjunct Clinical Associate Professor Jerome E. Bogutz '62, is offering an innovative program in legal education which involves third year law students in the actual representation of indigent juvenile defendants facing charges in the Philadelphia and Delaware County districts. The program includes weekly seminars of the clinical problems encountered within the juvenile justice system, as well as on-the-case training in investigation, interviewing, and trial preparation as components of the litigation process. As part of the clinical experience, students participate in trials of a case under the supervision of a clinical associate which is known as "Villanova University Law Associates".

Professor Richetti's challenge to Villanova Law Students is an opportunity to engage in legally oriented gainful employment in the Philadelphia and Delaware County districts. This summer Professor Richetti will be joined by Assistant Professor Walter J. Taggart, who received his A.B. from Providence College and his J.D. from Harvard. He comes to us from Los Angeles where he practiced with McCutchen, Black, Verleger and Shea. He teaches Administrative Law, Constitutional Law, Federal Courts and Professional Responsibility and is serving as Secretary to the Faculty.

We are fortunate to add three alumni to our Lecturer staff. John J. Cannon, Jr., A.B. '59, J.D. '62, Villanova, and Joseph A. Boggio, Jr., '63, Villanova, Trust Officer with the First Pennsylvania Banking and Trust Co., handles Estate Planning.

Not all who are new among the Faculty, there are also new courses in our curriculum, among them Professional Responsibility (required of all first year students), Products and the Consumer and Remedies. New seminars include Civil Liberties, Collective Bargaining, Public Employment, Comparative Law, Federal Multidistrict Litigation, Law and Pollution Control and Rights of Prisoners.

The Clinical Program in Juvenile Justice is now well under way.

We can now see real progress in the construction of Garey Hall. The underpass, which you may recall elsewhere in this issue, to make up the heritage he leaves after him. When the knowledge of his death reached the students for the fall semester, one could look upon them and know immediately how much his friendship had meant to the students. They realized that he taught by example rather than by precept—not merely by a quiet, but a helpful serenity.

John Carnes' devotion to his family was a delight to witness. His devotion to his family was the love base from which his concern for others was projected. To those of us who were privileged to share his life, even for a few brief years, he gave inspiration, strength, joy and warmth. This legacy abides with us now and always will. And for this we are grateful.

Harold Gill Reuschlein

Dean

Ball Project

(Continued from P. 1, Col. 3)

second-year students. It is curr­rently being sponsored by Profa­essor Donald A. Giancane of the Law School.

The Ball Project offers law stu­dents a unique and unusual oppor­tunity to observe and participate in the judicial system. The concept of the project is broad in that a student may work with judges, judges in their initial appearance to his trial and possibly even on to his probation. The judges are open to them at Villanova for the fall semester, one could look upon them and know immediately how much his friendship had meant to the students. They realized that he taught by example rather than by precept—not merely by a quiet, but a helpful serenity.

John Carnes' devotion to his family was a delight to witness. His devotion to his family was the love base from which his concern for others was projected. To those of us who were privileged to share his life, even for a few brief years, he gave inspiration, strength, joy and warmth. This legacy abides with us now and always will. And for this we are grateful.

Harold Gill Reuschlein

Dean

Footnotes

(Continued from P. 1, Col. 1)

The Bail Project offers law stu­dents a unique and unusual oppor­tunity to observe and participate in the judicial system. The concept of the project is broad in that a student may work with judges, judges in their initial appearance to his trial and possibly even on to his probation. The judges are open to them at Villanova for the fall semester, one could look upon them and know immediately how much his friendship had meant to the students. They realized that he taught by example rather than by precept—not merely by a quiet, but a helpful serenity.

John Carnes' devotion to his family was a delight to witness. His devotion to his family was the love base from which his concern for others was projected. To those of us who were privileged to share his life, even for a few brief years, he gave inspiration, strength, joy and warmth. This legacy abides with us now and always will. And for this we are grateful.

Harold Gill Reuschlein

Dean

Footnotes

(Continued from P. 1, Col. 2-3)

Assistant Professor Walter J. Taggart has succeeded Dean Reuschlein to the position of managing editor for the DOCKET. Pro­fessor Taggart, a 1968 gradu­ate of the Law School, is appro­priately well suited for this posi­tion because of his interest in and commitment to the types of activities among the alumni which comprise a major­ity of this paper's readers.

It is understandable that first year students are apprehensive about the future and the type of legal career they may choose. Many students are looking for outside activities while they are in law school, and that is part of their legal education. It is also im­portant, however, that they at­tend legal clinics and other club and related activities that are open to them at the Law School. Judging from the poor attendance at the various social events at the beginning of the school year we either have too many events open to them or the events are not perceived as appealing or exciting by the students.

The railroad tracks that separate the Law School from the undergraduate University were again the tragic scene of the death of a Villanova student. While I regret to report this news, I have to admit that it also gives me great confidence in the work being done by the railroad police, who are doing a good job.

The railroad police, who are doing a good job.
By Jeff Paul

This summer was fortunate enough to have been a member of Villanova University Law Asso­ciates, Inc., Villanova, Pa. The Internship Program was directed by Lisa A. Richette, Executive Director, and sponsored by the Widener Building Group, Delaware County.

The internship program was made possible through the support of the Delaware County Bar Association's Professional Development Committee, the Greater Chester Community Foundation, and the Delaware County Bar Association. Villanova Law Associates is in the heart of the Delaware County Bar, with offices in Philadelphia and Delaware County.

A Law Partnership

The interns this summer were all junior or senior law students at Widener who have been previously practicing members of the Philadelphia Bar, is also a noted attorney and former District Attorney. He has been practicing for a number of years and is a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. His work has been recognized at the state level with the appointment of an Assistant Director of Criminal Profes­sionals in Criminal Law.

The interns spent the summer at Villanova University Law School, the Widener Building Group, and the Delaware County Bar Association. The purpose of the internship program was to provide experience in the practice of law and to prepare the interns for future careers in the legal profession.

The interns were assigned to various law firms in the Delaware County Bar, including the Widener Building Group and the Delaware County Bar Association. They were assigned to work with the attorneys at these firms, learning the basics of legal practice and gaining hands-on experience in real-world legal situations.

The interns were also given the opportunity to participate in various legal proceedings, such as court hearings, depositions, and trials. They were able to observe and participate in the preparation and presentation of legal arguments and to witness the courtroom process firsthand.

In addition to their work at the law firms, the interns also participated in various legal seminars and workshops held at Villanova University Law School. These events provided the interns with the opportunity to learn from experienced attorneys and to network with other legal professionals.

One of the highlights of the internship program was the participation of the interns in the Villanova University Law School's Youth Study Center, which focuses on juvenile delinquency and family law. The interns worked closely with the staff of the Youth Study Center to investigate and prepare cases involving juveniles.

Throughout the internship program, the interns received regular feedback and guidance from their mentors at the law firms. This feedback was invaluable in helping the interns develop their legal skills and gain confidence in their abilities.

The internship program was a successful endeavor for both the interns and the law firms. The interns gained valuable experience and knowledge, while the law firms benefited from the expertise of the interns and the fresh perspectives they brought to the practice of law.

The experience was also particularly rewarding for the interns, who were able to apply their legal knowledge and skills in real-world situations.

In conclusion, the internship program was a valuable learning opportunity for the interns, who were able to gain valuable experience and knowledge in the practice of law. The program was a success, and it is hoped that future law students will have the opportunity to participate in similar programs in the future.
goals Defined

by Russ Smith

While the crimes and construction crews are busy giving the Law School a "face lifting," the Student Bar Association is engaged in reshaping "the inside" of the school. A constant object of student criticism in the past has been the SBA; this year the SBA has embarked on an ambitious course of progressive reforms. A wave of enthusiasm was enhanced by the presence of Dean Brown, Chairman of the Select Committee on the academic climate of the Law School.

Students are most interested in the student lounge, with free beer provided by the SBA. The annual Dinner Dance is one area of activity that seems to be somewhat unsettled at present. Last year, despite the scheduling factor, and for that to fail to happen.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.

Another feature of this year's SBA is a proposed expansion of the Law School Forum. Like the mythical Pegasus, the Forum was "born" last year, primarily to satisfy Chairman John Moser. John was instrumental in securing the appearance of Ralph Nader, whose appearance was one of the highlights of last year. He also added that the SBA's efforts to attract its own social events are also distributed for that purpose.
RUGBY PLAY BEGINS

The Villanova Law School Rugby Football Club opened its second season with an exhibition game against the White Marsh Rugby Club. Unfortunately, Coach Dowd has decided to install certain changes to the team in order to compete more effectively against the White Marsh Rugby Club. Unfortunately, Coach Dowd has decided to install certain changes to the team in order to compete more effectively against the White Marsh Rugby Club.

Donald Dowd was very optimistic about the team's season of play against the White Marsh Rugby Club. Unfortunately, Coach Dowd has decided to install certain changes to the team in order to compete more effectively against the White Marsh Rugby Club. Unfortunately, Coach Dowd has decided to install certain changes to the team in order to compete more effectively against the White Marsh Rugby Club.

While in Samoa at a meeting of the organization, Dowd was easily elected following a secret ballot. The decision was made unanimous by the delegates, and Jefferson Medical Schools. The future of Villanova University for the present school year Villanova University Law Associates has not necessarily been without difficulties, but to make it the finest possible school for the students of the subject of the thesis to be included as part of his degree requirements. Another field dealt within the preparation of his thesis in a study of the Federal Courts with particular emphasis on the Full Faith and Credit Clause of the Constitution. In addition to the work previously mentioned, Professor Frankino participated in an extensive seminar concerning problems of legal education. He was assisted by Harvard Dean Derek Bok.

While on leave from the Law School, Professor Frankino's experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in an accident with their own car, "having a tear gas with dinner." This was the result of a traffic ticket which was imposed in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American troop deployment in the war in Asia. The Professor was optimistic about this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas eventually led to a constructive atmosphere at Harvard resulting in a change in the direction of the School's growth.

Professor Frankino left Harvard in order to travel to Europe. He visited many countries and met with many famous people. His experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in an accident with their own car, "having a tear gas with dinner." This was the result of a traffic ticket which was imposed in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American troop deployment in the war in Asia. The Professor was optimistic about this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas eventually led to a constructive atmosphere at Harvard resulting in a change in the direction of the School's growth.

The rugby team opened its social season at the Law School by having a wine and steak dinner that was attended by Dean Reischust, President Dowd, and the members of the team. As always, the steaks were prepared by Chefs Andre Krafko and Leno Saez, and the wine was supplied by the Student Bar Committee. The future of Villanova University for the present school year Villanova University Law Associates has not necessarily been without difficulties, but to make it the finest possible school for the students of the subject of the thesis to be included as part of his degree requirements. Another field dealt within the preparation of his thesis in a study of the Federal Courts with particular emphasis on the Full Faith and Credit Clause of the Constitution. In addition to the work previously mentioned, Professor Frankino participated in an extensive seminar concerning problems of legal education. He was assisted by Harvard Dean Derek Bok.

While on leave from the Law School, Professor Frankino's experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in an accident with their own car, "having a tear gas with dinner." This was the result of a traffic ticket which was imposed in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American troop deployment in the war in Asia. The Professor was optimistic about this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas eventually led to a constructive atmosphere at Harvard resulting in a change in the direction of the School's growth.

Professor Frankino left Harvard in order to travel to Europe. He visited many countries and met with many famous people. His experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in an accident with their own car, "having a tear gas with dinner." This was the result of a traffic ticket which was imposed in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American troop deployment in the war in Asia. The Professor was optimistic about this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas eventually led to a constructive atmosphere at Harvard resulting in a change in the direction of the School's growth.

The rugby team opened its social season at the Law School by having a wine and steak dinner that was attended by Dean Reischust, President Dowd, and the members of the team. As always, the steaks were prepared by Chefs Andre Krafko and Leno Saez, and the wine was supplied by the Student Bar Committee. The future of Villanova University for the present school year Villanova University Law Associates has not necessarily been without difficulties, but to make it the finest possible school for the students of the subject of the thesis to be included as part of his degree requirements. Another field dealt within the preparation of his thesis in a study of the Federal Courts with particular emphasis on the Full Faith and Credit Clause of the Constitution. In addition to the work previously mentioned, Professor Frankino participated in an extensive seminar concerning problems of legal education. He was assisted by Harvard Dean Derek Bok.

While on leave from the Law School, Professor Frankino's experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in an accident with their own car, "having a tear gas with dinner." This was the result of a traffic ticket which was imposed in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American troop deployment in the war in Asia. The Professor was optimistic about this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas eventually led to a constructive atmosphere at Harvard resulting in a change in the direction of the School's growth.

Professor Frankino left Harvard in order to travel to Europe. He visited many countries and met with many famous people. His experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in an accident with their own car, "having a tear gas with dinner." This was the result of a traffic ticket which was imposed in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American troop deployment in the war in Asia. The Professor was optimistic about this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas eventually led to a constructive atmosphere at Harvard resulting in a change in the direction of the School's growth.
ALUMNI BRIEFS

Current Developments

1957

Joseph F. Monaghan has recently been elected a director of The Presser Building Loan and Savings Association. Mr. Monaghan is presently engaged in private practice in Watertown, New York and previously served as Corporation Counsel for that city.

John G. Kneafsey is relocating from Oakland, New Jersey to Tulsa, Oklahoma, effective July 30th, 1957. Mr. Kneafsey is currently Vice-President of the Transportation Division of PepsiCo., Inc. In addition, he was admitted to practice before the Assistant Attorney General of the United States in January of 1969.

1958

Edward J. McLaughlin has been working as General Counsel for the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Crime, Its Causes, Control and Effect on Society. Mr. McLaughlin has been mainly responsible for the publication issued by this Committee enumerating its findings.

1959

James V. Delaney is presently a partner with the firm of Walsh and Delaney, located in Port Lauderdale, Florida. Mr. Delaney specializes in the area of marine and aviation insurance.

Donald G. Jewett is an attorney with the Insurance Company of North America and is responsible for coordinating placement proceedings. He is presently employed by the firm of Gumble, Thompson, Mengel and Levy has been quite active in the Legal Program. He is a member of the Society of the Civilian War Veterans in the United States.

1960

Jack G. Linshaw had previously been employed as an Assistant Attorney General with the Department of Highways of Pennsylvania connecting with that office and acting as a special prosecutor. Presently he is with the firm of Grubb, Thompson, and Linshaw of Philadelphia. They maintain a general practice.

1961

Stuart H. Sawiel with the firm of Dilworth, Paxson, Kalish, Kohan & Levy has been quite active in the field of patent litigation, civil rights, and criminal and administrative proceedings. Presently he is with the firm of Grubb, Thompson, and Linshaw of Philadelphia. They maintain a general practice.

1962

Edward C. Mengel, affiliated with the New York firm of Donovan, Leisure, Newton and Irvine, has been quite active in the Legal Aid Society's Volunteer Attorney Program. He is a member of the staff at the Society's office in Harlem, New York. Mr. Mengel has been involved in the defense of the Antibiotic Drug case in the United States District Court in New York.

1963

Jernihai J. Cardammone is affiliated with the Judge Advocate General's Corps of the U. S. Navy located in Washington, D.C. Lieutenant Cardammone has recently been certified to act as a military judge in special courts martial proceedings.

MISSING PERSONS

Tom Doeker wishes to obtain information as to the present business affiliation of Larry S. Trachtman, Class of 1953. Anyone with information pertaining to Mr. Trachtman's employment is kindly requested to send his response to: Tom Doeker, Villanova Law School, Villanova, Pennsylvania 19085.

Your cooperation is appreciated. Thank you.

In Memoriam

It is with the deepest regret that we announce the passing away on September 29th, 1970 of Anthony J. Ryan, Esq., Class of 1958. Mr. Ryan was a partner in the firm of Blank, Rome, Klaus & Comisky. Mr. Ryan attended Bellarmine College in New York prior to enrolling at the Law School in 1955. While at Villanova, Mr. Ryan distinguished himself as a member of the Law Review. Anthony J. Ryan was a true friend to Villanova Law School and we served as President of the Alumni Association. 1962-1964. He was quite active in all alumni affairs and his death represents a heavy loss to the Law School community.

Mr. Ryan is survived by his wife, Susan, and three children—Anthony S., Christopher D. and Mary Susan.

Interview Schedule

- September 21: Defender Association of Philadelphia (3rd year)
- September 25: Fox, Rothchild, O'Brien & Frankel (3rd year)
- September 28: Wolf, Block, Schwar & Solis-Cohen (2nd & 3rd years)
- September 29: Morgan, Lewis & Bockius (3rd year)
- October 1: Goodis, Greenfield, Narin & Mann (3rd year)
- October 2: Rawle & Henderson (2nd year)
- October 5: Stradley, Ronson, Stevens & Young (2nd & 3rd years)
- October 6: U. S. Defense Supply Agency (2nd year)
- October 7: Morgan, Lewis & Bockius (2nd year)
- October 9: Internal Revenue Service—Blank, Rome, Klaus & Comisky (2nd year)
- October 12: Drinker, Biddle & Reath (3rd year)
- October 13: Liebert, Harvey, Herting, Short & Lavin (2nd year)
- October 14: Drinker, Biddle & Reath (2nd year)
- October 19: Blank, Rome, Klaus & Comisky (3rd year)
- October 20: Ballard, Spahr, Andrews & Ingersoll (2nd & 3rd years)
- October 21: Ballard, Spahr, Andrews & Ingersoll (2nd & 3rd years)
- October 22: Duane, Morris & Heckscher (2nd & 3rd years)
- October 23: Goodis, Greenfield, Narin & Mann (2nd year)
- October 25: Donovan, Leisure, Newton & Irvine (2nd & 3rd years)
- October 27: SEPTA Counsel (2nd year)
- October 28: Squire, Sanders & Dempsey (2nd & 3rd years)
- October 28: Haskins & Sells (3rd year)
- November 4: Tosche, Ross & Company (3rd year)
- November 4: Navy General Counsel's Office (3rd year)
- November 9: Community Legal Services (2nd & 3rd years)
- November 11: Arthur Anderson (3rd year)
- November 12: Internal Revenue Service—Operating Divisions (3rd year)
- November 16: Schneider, Harrigan, Segal & Lewis (2nd & 3rd years)
- November 24: Interstate Commerce Commission (3rd year)
- December 4: U. S. Department of Agriculture (3rd year)
- Date to be announced...U. S. Department of Housing & Urban Development
- Date to be announced...Veterans Administration
- Date to be announced...U. S. Department of Health, Education & Welfare
- Date to be announced...U. S. Department of Justice
- Date to be announced...Judge Advocate General, U. S. Army

This schedule of interview dates is subject to change and interested students should check the various bulletin boards in the Law School for possible additions or deletions.