10-1-1970

The Docket, Issue 1, October 1970

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.law.villanova.edu/docket

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.law.villanova.edu/docket/32

This 1970-1971 is brought to you for free and open access by the Historical Archives at Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Docket by an authorized administrator of Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law Digital Repository. For more information, please contact Benjamin.Carlson@law.villanova.edu.
Sullivan and Buzz Shuman, all ard NufTord, Robert Lawler, Frank cated at Villanova Law School a number of students working on to a much greater number of crimthe number of individuals faced consideration here should be his

emendations given to him by a mem­
view the information and recom­

consideration here should be his
emendations given to him by a mem­
view the information and recom­

The Bail Project has been lo­
The project originated in Philadelphia at the University of Penn­

In Philadelphia, as in many other jurisdictions, there is frequently a necessary funds for its operation and he had found great happiness.

infectious enthusiasm. He served the Commonwealth in impor­

ant codification projects in connection with the Eminent Domain Code and the Commonwealth's Highway Laws. In a short period he had become a valued member of our faculty in the history of England

The Mass, traditionally known as the Feast of Saint Michael. The event of the Law School, has become deeply embedded in the tradition of judges and lawyers ditional term "Red" Mass. This annually following the Mass.

The Villanova Singers with brass ensemble of the Reverend Robert J. Welsh, O.S.A.,

Reverend Patrick J. Rice,

con, will be filled, respectively, by

X. Burt, O.S.A., Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Welsh, J.C.D., Rector of Saint

the Reverend John S. Mc­

Nis, O.S.A., Executive Vice-President of

Villanova. A student will generally be invited to join the organization at Villanova. A student will generally be invited to join the staff of the Law Review if his academic performance has been outstanding, i.e., he must rank in the upper 10% of his student body.

This year, the competition is open

second and third year students,

phase of legal development. Competitions for the law Review

second and third year students,

phase of legal development. Com­

petitions for the law Review

second and third year students,

phase of legal development. Com­

petitions for the law Review

second and third year students,
From The Dean's Desk
As We See It...

by Harold Gill Reuschlein

What's new in 1970-1971?

As we approach the new academic year we feel confident that it will be another year of growth and development. The Class of '71 has gone forth to tackle the world and its problems. The Classes of '71 and '72 have returned to us virtually intact and, seemingly, with renewed enthusiasm. We are delighted to welcome our beloved colleague, Professor John Stuart Carnes, who died on August 28, 1970. Elsewhere in this issue, we express our feelings of loss at his passing. Professor Stephenson is on sabbatical leave this year. He was to teach at Williamette University in Oregon, but serious illness prevented his doing so. We are happy to report his recovery. We look forward to his return after what he has described as a very productive year. Otherwise, the faculty is intact. Professor Collins is professor of contemporary American and comparative law at the University of Bern. He joined the Villanova faculty this year after a year at San Francisco State University. Professor Lisa Aversa Richette is our first Clinical Professor of Law. She has been serving as law clerk to Federal Judge John P. Fullam. John Taggart who received his A.B. from Belmont Abbey College in 1965 and his J.D. from Villanova in 1968, has succeeded Professor Reuschlein to the position of Associate Dean of the Law School.

Dean Reuschlein

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Docket will accept and print letters to the Editor. All letters must be signed and contain the address of the sender. Although the editor reserves the right to select letters for publication, he will attempt to read and evaluate all communications that are submitted. The Docket will withhold the name of the writer. Address letters to THE VILLANOVA DOCKET, Villanova Law School, Villanova, Pa. 19085.

John Stuart Carnes (Continued from P. 1, Col. 2)

to make up the heritage he leaves behind. When the knowledge edge of students for whom they returned for the fall semester, one could look upon them and know immediately how much his friendship had meant to the students. They realised that he taught by example not by precept—not by the rote memorisation of facts. He taught by personal serenity. John Carnes' devotion to his family was a delight to witness. His devotion to his family was the love base from which his work proceeded. To those of us who were privileged to share his life, even for a few brief years, he gave inspiration, strength, joy and warmth. This legacy abides with us now and always will. And for this we are grateful. Harold Gill Reuschlein

Students OCCUPY SUMMER POSITIONS

Each summer, many Villanova Law Students are afforded the opportunity to engage in legally oriented summer employment in their areas of special interest and as a practical basis for their legal education. This is true whether their employment consists of clerical work, legal research, the writing of legal briefs, the preparation of pleadings and answers, attendance at trials and hearings or title searches.

This summer the second year student James Harding was employed by the legal section of the Internal Revenue Bureau. His duties were mainly in the area of general legal research and included the examination and handling of cases on a random basis on the new court opinions and Westlaw digests which become effective on July 1st of each year. He is still with them.

Stephen Fagan, a second year student, spent the summer working as a legal assistant for the National Trust for Historic Preservation in the Chief Counsel's Office, Tax Court Litigation Division, Washington, D.C. As part of his duties, he reviewed briefs prior to their presentation in the Tax Court. He also attended the field of Corporate Taxation. He also edited Secretary's Circular, reviewing the points of law arising from the legality of employee use of corporate automobiles. He also attended the hearings of the Court of Appeals. Also, he prepared statistical data on the case load of the Tax Court for inclusion in the annual report.

This data was subsequently used in testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee by the Chief Counsel, Mr. Worthy.

William McGeechan, a third year student, was employed by the firm of Kirk, Mains, and Moonblatt. He did research on the constitutionality of the Expropriation Credit Transactions Act, on the general area of public utilities and on the corporate law jurisdiction of a federal three judge court.

Four second year students, Richard Nafford, Robert Lawler, Buzz Shuey, and Peter Schwall, spent the summer running the Philadelphia Public Defender's Bail Project. They were detailed elsewhere in this issue as are the duties of Joseph Bode, Carroll Billings, Joseph Paul, Tanenbaum, Donald Campbell, Barbara Joseph, Michelle Sure, and Leon Zemp. The following are at large.

Shock and disbelief swept over the nation when it learned that Professor John W. O'Brien of the Law School had been killed in an automobile accident in California. The news of his death brought a sense of loss to many of his students and faculty colleagues. It was a sense of loss that was shared by many others throughout the country. The death of a loved one is always a time of mourning and reflection. It is a time when we are reminded of the preciousness of life and the importance of living life to the fullest. It is a time when we are reminded of the importance of cherishing the relationships we have with others.

The railroad tracks that separate the Law School from the university are part of a complex network of tracks that crisscross the country. They are an important part of the nation's transportation system and are a symbol of the importance of transportation in our lives. They are a reminder of the importance of technology and engineering in our lives. They are a reminder of the importance of history in our lives. They are a reminder of the importance of the human spirit in our lives. They are a reminder of the importance of the law in our lives. They are a reminder of the importance of the past in our lives. They are a reminder of the importance of the future in our lives.
This summer was fortunate enough to have been a member of Villanova University Law Asso­ciates, an experience under the direction of Lisa A. Richette, Esquire. This program was made possible through the generosity of the Pennsylvania Bar Institute Education for Professional Responsibil­ity and Ethics, in the counties of Delaware and Philadelphia. The internship program was made possible by a three year grant from the Council on Legal Services through the use of Federal Funding. Some members of the bar have ex­pressed the concern that the "client "pro­motion' is bound to arise on the question of competency of student performance. We agree that it is difficult, if not impossible, to fail to realize, however, that the clients of interns are being given legal assistance which they would not normally receive if it were not for organizations like Villanova University Law Associates. The in­terns, however, must be selected to represent those clients who are given legal assistance by the interns so that the practice of law will not suffer. Therefore, during the summer, several members of the bar were asked to act as "mentors" to the interns. Having another organization in the juvenile court system to rep­resent indigent clients, rather than the typical private practice, would help to alleviate this problem.
goals Defined

by Russ Smith

While the crimes and construction
crews are bury giving the Law
School a "face lift," the Student Bar Association is engaged in reshaping the "inside" of the structure. A constant object of student criticism in the protective holding area is that the SBA this year has embarked on an ambitious
course of progressive reformation. Leaders of the student commentary, David Brabrand, has announced that "it is our firm
conviction that the student body
will not be fully satisfied until we see the greatest possible degree of autonomy for the student body in decisions of the Association and we will try to attain this goal as quickly as possible." This involves not only the annual elections, but such things as the Annual Conference and the SBA Dinner Dance. There is already a great deal of publicity
concerning these new bodies, but it should be noted that there is an almost untamed rush toward the free-for-all, and this is not what the students want, according to David.

The SBA would like to see the traditions of the SBA maintained, but also would like to see more
primary importance shall be placed on the affairs that directly affect the student body. The students' voices are being heeded, and the power of the SBA is rising. The SBA is no longer a "handmaiden of the administration." It is now
resenting its own elections,
and the students are learning
that they can have their voice
heard. The SBA will continue to work toward this goal, and will continue to strive for a greater degree of autonomy for the student body.

SBA Report

Goals Defined

by Russ Smith

While the crimes and construction
crews are bury giving the Law
School a "face lift," the Student Bar Association is engaged in reshaping the "in-inside" of the structure. A constant
object of student criticism in the protective holding area is that the SBA this
year has embarked on an ambitious
course of progressive reformation. Leaders of the student commentary, David Brabrand, has
announced that "it is our firm
conviction that the student body
will not be fully satisfied until we
see the greatest possible degree of
autonomy for the student body in
decisions of the Association and
we will try to attain this goal as quickly as possible." This
involves not only the annual elections, but such things as the Annual Conference and the SBA Dinner Dance. There is already a great deal of publicity
concerning these new bodies, but it should be noted that there is an almost un-
tamed rush toward the free-for-
all, and this is not what the students
want, according to David.

The SBA would like to see the
traditions of the SBA maintained, but
also would like to see more
primary importance shall be placed on the affairs that directly
affect the student body. The
students' voices are being
heeded, and the power of the SBA is rising. The SBA is no longer a "handmaiden of the administration." It is now
resenting its own elections,
and the students are learning
that they can have their voice
heard. The SBA will continue to work toward this goal, and will
continue to strive for a greater
degree of autonomy for the student body.

SBA Report

Goals Defined

by Russ Smith

While the crimes and construction
crews are bury giving the Law
School a "face lift," the Student Bar Association is engaged in reshaping the "in-
inside" of the structure. A constant
object of student criticism in the protective holding area is that the SBA this
year has embarked on an ambitious
course of progressive reformation. Leaders of the student commentary, David Brabrand, has
announced that "it is our firm
conviction that the student body
will not be fully satisfied until we
see the greatest possible degree of
autonomy for the student body in
decisions of the Association and
we will try to attain this goal as quickly as possible." This
involves not only the annual elections, but such things as the Annual Conference and the SBA Dinner Dance. There is already a great deal of publicity
concerning these new bodies, but it should be noted that there is an almost un-
tamed rush toward the free-for-
all, and this is not what the students
want, according to David.

The SBA would like to see the
traditions of the SBA maintained, but
also would like to see more
primary importance shall be placed on the affairs that directly
affect the student body. The
students' voices are being
heeded, and the power of the SBA is rising. The SBA is no longer a "handmaiden of the administration." It is now
resenting its own elections,
and the students are learning
that they can have their voice
heard. The SBA will continue to work toward this goal, and will
continue to strive for a greater
degree of autonomy for the student body.
RUGBY PLAY Begins

The Villanova Law School Rugby Football Club opened its second season last weekend against South Port Clinton, Pennsylvania. Unfortunately the bigger and more experienced Whitetails team took advantage of tactical errors made by Villanova and won, 21-14.

Despite the initial defeat, Coach Donald Dowd was very optimistic concerning the team's chances in the final five games of the season. Coach Dowd had over forty players at his disposal for the game, which was played in a 100-meter stadium.

The primary acquisition was Bill Cramer. Bill first gained fame at Villanova Law School for his high booming punts.

The second task that Professor Frankino accomplished was the selection of the team's leader. Professor Frankino had previously been responsible for offering courses at the Law School dealing with the field of International Law and has resumed these duties this year as well as his course on Conflict of Laws.

At Harvard, Professor Frankino mainly studied in the areas of foreign Civil Law and Comparative Criminal Law under the instruction of Professor John C. Wright. Professor Frankino was also engaged in an in-depth study of the Federal Courts of Florence. His next study abroad involved a trip to Italy with Professor Cappelletti, in revising a text entitled on the same lines as "Conservatism and Rugby". During his studies abroad, Professor Frankino participated in an extensive seminar concerning problems of legal education conducted by Harvard Dean Derek Bok.

The second task that Professor Frankino accomplished was the appointment of their new rugby coach. Mr. Richette, a former member of the Villanova Law School rugby team, was selected to head the team.

Mr. Richette foresees the possibility that the clinical law program will expand to offer areas of law and eventually involve litigation in fields other than the Juvenile Criminal System. However, for the time being, the program will retain its core in the juvenile field, which presents a good deal of exposure to the legal world and where they are faced with legal difficulties that can be handled in a court before a jury. The juvenile courts offer a full legal experience in a real world setting.

While on leave from the Law School, Professor Frankino's experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in their own words, "having tear gas with dessert". This was the result of an unauthorized entrance into their home in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American involvement in the war in Asia. The Professor optimistically believed that this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas on the campus is an attempt to change in the direction of the School's growth.

Another vital cog in the Rugby team was the Student Bar Association. Some individuals were anxious that the Association's function would have to be brought along as quickly as possible. However, the impact on the court itself was itself, was noteworthy. The Association was responsible for most of the rules of play.

The rugby team opened its social season at the Law School by having a wine and cheese party that was attended by Dean Reuschlein, Professor Frankino, Coach Dowd and the members of the team. As always, the steaks were prepared by Chefs Andre Kralikol and Lawrence Lavelle.

The Villanova Law Association has not necessarily been considered idealistic—we have done what we feel, in our capacity as law students, was the best professional job possible.

PROF FRANKINO RETURNS

During the full and spring terms of the 1969-1970 school year, Professor Steven P. Frankino was engaged in fulfilling the residency requirements of a S.J.D. degree at Harvard School of Law. Professor Frankino had previously been responsible for offering courses at the Law School dealing with the field of International Law and has resumed these duties this year as well as his course on Conflict of Laws.

At Harvard, Professor Frankino mainly studied in the areas of foreign Civil Law and Comparative Criminal Law under the instruction of Professor John C. Wright. Professor Frankino was also engaged in an in-depth study of the Federal Courts of Florence. His next study abroad involved a trip to Italy with Professor Cappelletti, in revising a text entitled on the same lines as "Conservatism and Rugby". During his studies abroad, Professor Frankino participated in an extensive seminar concerning problems of legal education conducted by Harvard Dean Derek Bok.

The second task that Professor Frankino accomplished was the appointment of their new rugby coach. Mr. Richette, a former member of the Villanova Law School rugby team, was selected to head the team.

Mr. Richette foresees the possibility that the clinical law program will expand to offer areas of law and eventually involve litigation in fields other than the Juvenile Criminal System. However, for the time being, the program will retain its core in the juvenile field, which presents a good deal of exposure to the legal world and where they are faced with legal difficulties that can be handled in a court before a jury. The juvenile courts offer a full legal experience in a real world setting.

While on leave from the Law School, Professor Frankino's experiences were not limited to those of learning. He and his wife had the misfortune to be involved in their own words, "having tear gas with dessert". This was the result of an unauthorized entrance into their home in the middle of a confrontation between police and students protesting American involvement in the war in Asia. The Professor optimistically believed that this adventure however since he feels that student dissent in this and many other areas on the campus is an attempt to change in the direction of the School's growth.

Another vital cog in the Rugby team was the Student Bar Association. Some individuals were anxious that the Association's function would have to be brought along as quickly as possible. However, the impact on the court itself was itself, was noteworthy. The Association was responsible for most of the rules of play.

The rugby team opened its social season at the Law School by having a wine and cheese party that was attended by Dean Reuschlein, Professor Frankino, Coach Dowd and the members of the team. As always, the steaks were prepared by Chefs Andre Kralikol and Lawrence Lavelle.

The Villanova Law Association has not necessarily been considered idealistic—we have done what we feel, in our capacity as law students, was the best professional job possible.

据悉，新赛的开始是令人期待的，但随后的大部分比赛都经历了挫折。教练的乐观态度使团队感到鼓舞。尽管如此，还是要谨慎对待每一场比赛，因为胜者与负者之间的差距可能很小。
ALUMNI BRIEFS

Current Developments

1957

Joseph F. Monaghan has recently been elected a director of The Mecaw Building Loan and Savings Association of Detroit. Mr. Monaghan is presently engaged in private practice in Watertown, New York and was formerly Deputy Corporation Counsel for the City of Watertown. John G. Kneafsey is relocating from Oakland, New Jersey to Tulsa, Oklahoma. He is presently a partner with the firm of Walsh and Norwood, specializes in forgery insurance and is interested in having these opportunities explained to him.

1958

Edward J. McGlaughlin has been working as General Counsel for the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Crime, Its Causes, Control and Effect on Society. Mr. McGlaughlin is mainly responsible for the publication issued by this Committee enumerating its findings.

1959

James V. Delahunt is presently a partner with the firm of Walsh and Delahunt, located in Port Lauderdale, Florida. Mr. Delahunt is interested in the area of marine and aviation insurance.

Donald G. Jewitt is an attorney with the Insurance Company of North America and its Philadelphia office. Mr. Jewitt specializes in forgery insurance and is currently responsible for the filing of banks on forged checks under Article 3 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

1960

Jack G. Linshaw had previously been employed as an Assistant Attorney General with the Department of Highways of Pennsylvania concerned with matters involving proceed- ing finance prior to his employment. Presently, Mr. Linshaw is in the Army, stationed in Kansas, but will be discharged later this month. He has already been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar.

1961

Stuart H. Savett, with the firm of Kinkle, Prodiger, Graf, Dewberry and Spriggs of Ventura, California. The firm handles duties in the Southern District Court of the United States in Los Angeles, where Mr. Savett is a partner. The firm's practice includes forgery insurance and is concerned with the area of marine and aviation insurance.

Edward C. Mengel, affiliated with the New York firm of Donovan, Lewis, Norton and Irvine, has been quite active in the Legal Aid Society's Volunteer Attorney Program. He is a member of the staff at the Society's office in Har­lem and is responsible for the defense of the Antibiotic Drug case (United States v. 29 trees) in the District Court of New York.

1962

Jeremiah J. Cardamone is affiliated with the Judge Advocate General's Corps of the U. S. Navy located in Washington, D. C. Lieutenant Cardamone has recently been called to active duty in the U. S. Navy with the rank of lieutenant. The alumnus is interested in as well as the geographical area of interest.

MISSING PERSONS

Tina Dockery wishes to obtain infor­mation as to the present business affiliation of Larry S. Trachtman. Anyone with information per­mitting to Mr. Trachtman's employ­ment is kindly requested to send his response to: Tina Dockery, Villanovla Law School Villanova, Pennsylvania 19085. Your cooperation is appreciated.

Thank you.

In Memoriam

It is with the deepest regret that we announce the passing away on September 24, 1970, of Anthony J. Ryan, Esq., Class of 1958. Mr. Ryan was a partner in the firm of Blank, Rome, Klass & Comisky. Mr. Ryan attended Bellarmine College in New York prior to enrolling at the Law School in 1955. While at Villanova, Mr. Ryan distinguished himself as a member of the Law Review. Anthony J. Ryan was a true friend to Villanova Law School and he served as President of the Alumni Association, 1962-1964. He was quite active in all alumni affairs and his death represents a severe loss to the Law School community. Anthony J. Ryan is survived by his wife, Susan, and three children—Anthony III, Christopher J. and Mary Susan Ryan.

IGCC Executive Committee

The current year’s Executive Committee of the Inter-Club Council consists of the four law club presidents and the four newly elected I.C.C. officers. The presidents are: Joseph A. Polaha, Cardenas-Yvon; Vitko Casucao, Hughes-White; Charles Tigue, Warren-Bennett; and Charles Trainer, Taney-Moore. The officers are: Gregory Polischuk, president; Joseph A. Polaha, vice-president; Russell Smith, treasurer, and William Yoder, secretary.

IGCC Executive Committee

The committee is concerned for the supervision and the coordination of the various activities of the law clubs. They are responsible for the scheduling of the various intramural sports and they were instrumental this year in securing permission to use the athletic facilities of the Seminary that is located across from the Law School.

Thank you.

Robert J. Trauner
Alumni Editor

THE VILLANOVA DOCKET

OCTOBER, 1970

INTERVIEW SCHEDULE

September 21...Defender Association of Philadelphia (3rd year)
September 23...Fox, Rothchild, O'Brien & Frankel (3rd year)
September 25...Freedman, Borowsky & Lorry (2nd & 3rd years)
September 28...Wolf, Block, Schor & Solis-Cohen (2nd & 3rd years)
September 29...Morgan, Lewis & Bockius (3rd year)
October 1...Goodis, Greenfield, Narin & Mann (3rd year)
October 2...Rawle & Henderson (2nd year)
October 5...Stradley, Ronen, Stevens & Young (2nd & 3rd years)
October 6...U. S. Defense Supply Agency
October 8...Morgan, Lewis & Bockius (2nd year)
October 10...Internal Revenue Service—Blank, Rome's Office
October 12...Drinker, Biddle & Reath (3rd year)
October 13...Liebert, Harvey, Herting, Short & Lavin
October 14...Drinker, Biddle & Reath (2nd year)
October 19...Blank, Rome, Klaus & Comisky (2nd & 3rd years)
October 20...Ballard, Spahr, Andrews & Ingersoll (2nd & 3rd years)
October 21...Ballard, Spahr, Andrews & Ingersoll (2nd & 3rd years)
October 22...Duane, Morris & Heckscher (2nd & 3rd years)
October 23...Goodis, Greenfield, Narin & Mann (2nd year)
October 23...Donovan, Lewis, Newton & Irvine (2nd year)
October 27...SEPTA Counsel
October 28...Squire, Sanders & Dempsey (2nd & 3rd years)
October 28...Haskins & Sells (3rd year)
November 4...Toose, Ross & Company (2nd year)
November 4...Villanova General Counsel's Office (3rd year)
November 9...Community Legal Services (2nd & 3rd years)
November 11...Arthur Anderson (3rd year)
November 12...Internal Revenue Service—Operating Divisions (3rd year)
November 16...Schadner, Harrison, Segal & Lewis (2nd & 3rd years)
November 24...Interstate Commerce Commission (3rd year)
December 4...U. S. Department of Agriculture (3rd year)

Date to be announced...U. S. Department of Housing & Urban Development
Date to be announced...Veterans Administration
Date to be announced...U. S. Department of Health, Education & Welfare Date to be announced...U. S. Department of Justice
Date to be announced...Judge Advocate General, U. S. Army

This schedule of interview dates is subject to change and interested students should check the various bulletin boards in the Law School for possible additions or deletions.

LAW REVIEW

(Continued from P. 1, Col. 5)

Second year student candidates are: Ralph M. Carone, John S. Custer, Thomas B. Erickson, Frank J. Freiberger, Walter H. Fischer, William A. Hebe, Terry W. Knox, Stephen J. Polaha, Richard N. Quirin, a 1970 graduate, who is employed as an attorney in Philadelphia, also graduates of '68, were interested in having these opportunities explained to them.

The committee is concerned for the supervision and the coordination of the various activities of the law clubs. They are responsible for the scheduling of the various intramural sports and they were instrumental this year in securing permission to use the athletic facilities of the Seminary that is located across from the Law School.

The I.C.C. was responsible for holding the first party of the year in the Student Lounge and it will play an important part in the promotion of future social and educational events for the student body. The I.C.C. recently selected Professor John P. Dobleny for the position of their new Faculty Advisor.

LAW REVIEW

(Continued from P. 1, Col. 5)

Second year student candidates are: Ralph M. Carone, John S. Custer, Thomas B. Erickson, Frank J. Freiberger, Walter H. Fischer, William A. Hebe, Terry W. Knox, Stephen J. Polaha, Richard N. Quirin, a 1970 graduate, who is employed as an attorney in Philadelphia, also graduates of '68, were interested in having these opportunities explained to them.

The committee is concerned for the supervision and the coordination of the various activities of the law clubs. They are responsible for the scheduling of the various intramural sports and they were instrumental this year in securing permission to use the athletic facilities of the Seminary that is located across from the Law School.

The I.C.C. was responsible for holding the first party of the year in the Student Lounge and it will play an important part in the promotion of future social and educational events for the student body. The I.C.C. recently selected Professor John P. Dobleny for the position of their new Faculty Advisor.

LAW REVIEW

(Continued from P. 1, Col. 5)

Second year student candidates are: Ralph M. Carone, John S. Custer, Thomas B. Erickson, Frank J. Freiberger, Walter H. Fischer, William A. Hebe, Terry W. Knox, Stephen J. Polaha, Richard N. Quirin, a 1970 graduate, who is employed as an attorney in Philadelphia, also graduates of '68, were interested in having these opportunities explained to them.

The committee is concerned for the supervision and the coordination of the various activities of the law clubs. They are responsible for the scheduling of the various intramural sports and they were instrumental this year in securing permission to use the athletic facilities of the Seminary that is located across from the Law School.

The I.C.C. was responsible for holding the first party of the year in the Student Lounge and it will play an important part in the promotion of future social and educational events for the student body. The I.C.C. recently selected Professor John P. Dobleny for the position of their new Faculty Advisor.