READER'S GUIDE TO THE PENNSYLVANIA BULLETIN AND PENNSYLVANIA CODE

Pennsylvania Bulletin

The Pennsylvania Bulletin is the official gazette of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is published every week and includes a table of contents. A cumulative subject matter index is published quarterly.

The Pennsylvania Bulletin serves several purposes. First, it is the temporary supplement to the Pennsylvania Code, which is the official codification of agency rules and regulations and other statutorily authorized documents. Changes in the codified text, whether by adoption, amendment, repeal or emergency action must be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. Further, agencies proposing changes to the codified text do so in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Second, the Pennsylvania Bulletin also publishes: Governor's Executive Orders; State Contract Notices; Summaries of Enacted Statutes; Statewide and Local Court Rules; Attorney General Opinions; Motor Carrier Applications before the Public Utility Commission; Applications and Actions before the Department of Environmental Protection; Orders of the Independent Regulatory Review Commission; and other documents authorized by law.

The text of certain documents published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin is the only valid and enforceable text. Courts are required to take judicial notice of the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

There are no restrictions on the republication of official documents appearing in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Adoption, Amendment or Repeal of Regulations

Generally an agency wishing to adopt, amend or repeal regulations must first publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. There are limited instances where the agency may omit the proposal step; they still must publish the adopted version.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking contains the full text of the change, the agency contact person, a fiscal note required by law and background for the action.

The agency then allows sufficient time for public comment before taking final action. An adopted proposal must be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin before it can take effect. If the agency wishes to adopt changes to the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to enlarge the scope, they must re-propose.

Citation to the Pennsylvania Bulletin

Cite material in the Pennsylvania Bulletin by volume number and page number. Example: Volume 1, Pennsylvania Bulletin, page 801 (short form: 1 Pa.B. 801).

Pennsylvania Code

The Pennsylvania Code is the official codification of rules and regulations issued by Commonwealth agencies and other statutorily authorized documents. The Pennsylvania Bulletin is the temporary supplement to the Pennsylvania Code, printing changes as soon as they occur. These changes are then permanently codified by the Pennsylvania Code Reporter, a monthly, loose-leaf supplement.

The Pennsylvania Code is cited by title number and section number. Example: Title 10 Pennsylvania Code, § 1.1 (short form: 10 Pa.Code § 1.1).

Under the Pennsylvania Code codification system, each regulation is assigned a unique number by title and section. Titles roughly parallel the organization of Commonwealth government. Title 1 Pennsylvania Code lists every agency and its corresponding Code title location.

How to Find Documents

Search for your area of interest in the Pennsylvania Code.

The Pennsylvania Code contains, as Finding Aids, subject indexes for the complete Code and for each individual title, a list of Statutes Used As Authority for Adopting Rules and a list of annotated cases. Source Notes give you the history of the documents. To see if there have been recent changes, not yet codified, check the List of Pennsylvania Code Chapters Affected in the most recent issue of the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

The Pennsylvania Bulletin also publishes a quarterly List of Pennsylvania Code Sections Affected which lists the regulations in numerical order, followed by the citation to the Pennsylvania Bulletin in which the change occurred.

Printing Format

Material proposed to be added to an existing rule or regulation is printed in bold face and material proposed to be deleted from such a rule or regulation is enclosed in brackets [] and printed in bold face. Asterisks indicate ellipsis of Pennsylvania Code text retained without change. Proposed new or additional regulations are printed in ordinary style face.

Fiscal Notes

Section 612 of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 232) requires that the Office of Budget prepare a fiscal note for regulatory actions and administrative procedures of the administrative departments, boards, commissions or authorities receiving money from the State Treasury stating whether the proposed action or procedure causes a loss of revenue or an increase in the cost of programs for the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions; that the fiscal note be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin at the same time as the proposed change is advertised; and that the fiscal note shall provide the following information: (1) the designation of the fund out of which the appropriation providing for expenditures under the action or procedure shall be made; (2) the probable cost for the fiscal year the program is implemented; (3) projected cost estimate of the program for each of the five succeeding fiscal years; (4) fiscal history of the program for which expenditures are to be made; (5) probable loss of revenue for the fiscal year of its implementation; (6) projected loss of revenue from the program for each of the five succeeding fiscal years; (7) line item, if any, of the General Appropriation Act or other appropriation act out of which expenditures or losses of Commonwealth funds shall occur as a result of the action or procedures; (8) recommendation, if any, of the Secretary of the Budget and the reasons therefor.

The required information is published in the foregoing order immediately following the proposed change to which it relates; the omission of an item indicates that the agency text of the fiscal note states that there is no information available with respect thereto. In items (3) and (6) information is set forth for the first through fifth fiscal years; in that order, following the year the program is implemented, which is stated. In item (4) information is set forth for the current and two immediately preceding years, in that order. In item (8) the recommendation, if any, made by the Secretary of Budget is published with the fiscal note. See 4 Pa. Code § 7.231 et seq. Where "no fiscal impact" is published, the statement means no additional cost or revenue loss to the Commonwealth or its local political subdivision is intended.

RULES GOVERNING ACTIONS FOR SUPPORT, CUSTODY, PARTIAL CUSTODY, VISITATION OF MINOR CHILDREN, DIVORCE, OR ANNULMENT

1901.1 Procedures. Standing Hearing Officers.

(a) Actions for support shall proceed in accordance with the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure. The conference/hearing procedures set forth in Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 1910.12 shall be utilized.

(b) The court will select, appoint, and establish the duties of standing hearing officers in support actions. The compensation of the standing hearing officers shall be set by the Cambria County Salary Board.

1915. ACTIONS FOR CUSTODY, PARTIAL CUSTODY, AND VISITATION OF MINOR CHILDREN

1915.1. Commencement of Action. Standing Hearing Officers. Fees.

(a) Any party filing a complaint in an action for custody, partial custody and visitation of minor children, or a pleading requesting modification of an existing court order pertaining to the same, shall file an original and one copy of the pleading in the Prothonotary's Office. The Prothonotary shall immediately forward a certified copy of the pleading to the Cambria County Court Administrator.

(b) The court may appoint a hearing officer to hear the matter. (Pa.R.C.P. 1915.4-1) When a hearing officer is appointed, the matter shall thereafter proceed in accordance with Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure 1915.4-2.

(c) In addition to the filing fee assessed for the filing of a complaint, a nonrefundable administrative fee in the amount of $500.00 shall be paid to the Prothonotary simultaneously with the filing of a complaint in an action for custody, partial custody, or visitation of minor children, or a petition for modification of an existing order involving custody, partial custody, and visitation of minor children. The initial fee of $500.00 shall entitle the parties to two hours of the appointed hearing officer's time. Should the hearing officer's time exceed two hours, an additional fee of $100.00 per hour will be assessed and paid by the parties in proportions to be determined by the hearing officer.

(d) The court will select, appoint and establish the duties of standing hearing officers in actions involving custody, partial custody, and visitation. The compensation of the standing hearing officers shall be set by the Cambria County Salary Board.

1920.1. Commencement of Action. Standing Mas- ters. Fees.

(a) Any party filing a complaint or counterclaim in an action of divorce or for annulment of marriage shall file an original and one copy of the pleading in the Prothonotary's Office. The Prothonotary shall immediately forward a certified copy of the pleading to the Cambria County Court Administrator.

(b) The court will, on its own motion, appoint a master with respect to those matters contained in the action in those instances where the appointment of a master is permitted. The matter shall thereafter proceed in accordance with Pennsylvania Rule of Civil Procedure.

(c) In addition to the filing fee assessed for the filing of a complaint, a nonrefundable administrative fee in the amount of $500.00 shall be paid to the Cambria County Prothonotary simultaneously with the filing of a divorce complaint or counterclaim which raises for the first time any issue other than a count for divorce under sections 3301(c) and/or (d) of the Divorce Code. The initial fee of $500.00 shall entitle the parties to two hours of the master's time. Should the master's time exceed two hours, an additional fee of $100.00 per hour will be assessed and paid by the parties in proportions to be determined by the master.

(d) The court will select, appoint and establish the duties of standing masters. The compensation of the standing masters shall be set by the Cambria County Salary Board.

The foregoing Rules shall be effective 30 days after publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

GERARD LONG,
President Judge

Explanatory Comment

The new rules eliminate the fragmented procedure which previously existed in family law matters. Under the new rules, in divorce and annulment actions, a master, who in most instances will be a standing master, will be appointed by the court on its own motion except in matters where the appointment of a master is prohibited by the Divorce Code. The master will attempt conciliation. If conciliation efforts fail, the master will conduct a hearing and will file a report. (Pa.R.C.P. 1920.51, 1920.53, 1920.54, 1920.55-2)

Most actions for custody or visitation, including modification of an existing order, will be referred by the court to a hearing officer (who, in most instances, will be one of the standing masters). The hearing officer will attempt conciliation. If those attempts are unsuccessful, the officer will conduct a hearing and file a report. (Pa.R.C.P. 1915.4-1, 1915.4-2)

Cases involving support only, which are filed with the Domestic Relations Section, will, as in the past, first be referred to a domestic relations conference officer who will conduct an office conference. Following the conference, the conference officer will submit a report and an interim order will be entered by the court. (Pa.R.C.P. 1910.11) Thereafter, if necessary, a hearing will be held before a hearing officer (one of the standing masters) who will submit a report. (Pa.R.C.P. 1910.12)

A $500.00 administrative fee must be paid at the time of filing the pleading which triggers the appointment of a master or hearing officer in all cases, except cases involving support only, where no administrative fee will be required. The fee will entitle the parties to two hours of the master's/hearing officer's time. No refund will be made if less than two hours is required.

Exceptions to the report and recommendation of the master or hearing officer may be filed in accordance with the appropriate Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure. If exceptions are filed, the matter will proceed in accordance with said Rules. It should be noted that in most custody and visitation actions, hearings will not be held by a judge—only argument on exceptions will be heard. (Pa.R.C.P. 1915.4-1, 1915.4-2)

Rule 7.1A Exceptions—Generally.

(1) All orders and decrees shall be final and not subject to exceptions or post-trial motions, including those to reconsider or clarify, except (a) adjudications of fiduciary accounts and (b) orders and decrees which the Court specifies are not final.

(2) An order or decree which the Court specifies is not final, or an adjudication, shall be confirmed absolutely as of course, unless written exceptions thereto are filed with the clerk, within ten (10) days after the date of the filing of such order, degree or adjudication.

(3) If timely exceptions are filed by a party, any other party may file exceptions with the clerk within ten (10) days after the date on which the first exceptions were filed.

(4) Exceptions shall raise questions relating only to the adjudication, order or decree to which exceptions are filed, and shall in no event raise questions which could have been raised previously, by claim or objection.

Note: This rule does not deal with the question of what orders or decrees are interlocutory and not appealable, such as for example, those dealing with discovery (see Local Rule 3.6A), rulings on preliminary objections, grant of jury trial and preliminary decrees directing issuance of citation. As to these issues, see Hunter's Orphans' Court Commonplace Book, Appeals §§ 6 & 8, Orphans' Court § 16. This Rule is intended to make Pa.R.C.P. 1517(a) inapplicable in this Court. Cf. Adoption of CRV, 408 Pa. Super. 386; Hamilton Adoption, 362 Pa. Super. 249. Before an order or decree granting a nonsuit can be appealed, a motion for removal of the nonsuit must be filed and ruled upon. See Hunter, Orphans' Court § 11(n).

Rule 7.1B. Exceptions—Form and Service.

(1) Exceptions shall be filed in writing with the clerk, numbered consecutively, signed by the exceptant or the exceptant's attorney and each exception shall:

(a) be specific as to description and amount;

(b) raise but one issue of law and fact, but if there are several exceptions to items included in or omitted from the adjudication, order or degree relating to the same issue, all such exceptions shall be included in the same exception; and

(c) set forth briefly the reason or reasons in support thereof.

(2) A party filing exceptions shall serve a copy thereof no later than the day of such filing upon all parties in interest affected thereby. The attorney for the exceptant, or the exceptant, shall certify to the clerk in writing that a copy of the exceptions has been served as required by this rule and shall attach a list of those on whom service was made.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

[25 PA. CODE CH. 93]

Stream Redesignation; Kettle Creek et al.

The Environmental Quality Board (Board) by this order adopts amendments to §§ 93.91—93.9n and 93.9p to read as set forth in Annex A.

This order was adopted by the Board at its meeting of August 20, 1996.

A. Effective Date

These amendments are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Contact Persons

For further information, contact Edward R. Brezina, Chief, Division of Assessment and Standards, Bureau of Water Quality Management, 10th Floor, Rachel Carson State Office Building, P. O. Box 8465, 400 Market Street, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8465, (717) 787-9637 or William J. Gerlach, Assistant Counsel, Bureau of Regulatory Counsel, 9th Floor, Rachel Carson State Office Building, P. O. Box 8464, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8464, (717) 787-7060. Persons with a disability may use the AT&T Relay Service by calling (800) 654-5984 (TDD users) or (800) 654-5988 (voice users) and request that the call be relayed. This proposal is available electronically through the Department of Environmental Protection (Department) Web site (<http://www.dep.state.pa.us>).

C. Statutory Authority

These amendments are made under the authority of the following acts: sections 5(b)(1) and 402 of The Clean Streams Law (act) (35 P. S. §§ 691.5(b)(1) and 691.402); and section 1920-A of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 510-20), which grant to the Board the authority to develop and adopt rules and regulations to implement the provisions of the act.

D. Background of the Amendment

The Commonwealth's Water Quality Standards, which are set forth in part at Chapter 93 (relating to water quality standards), implement the provisions of sections 5 and 402 of the act and section 303 of the Federal Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C.A. § 1313). Water quality standards are in-stream water quality goals which are implemented by imposing specific regulatory requirements (such as treatment requirements and effluent limits) on individual sources of pollution.

The Department considers candidates for special protection status and redesignation in its ongoing review of water quality standards. In general, special protection waters shall be maintained at their existing quality, and wastewater treatment requirements shall comply with § 95.1 (relating to general requirements). Candidates may be identified by the Department based on routine waterbody investigations. Requests for consideration may also be initiated by other agencies, such as the Fish and Boat Commission (Commission), and the general public through a rulemaking petition to the Board.

The Department evaluated the following streams in response to requests from the Commission or the Wiconisco Watershed Association (WWA):

Kettle Creek, Cross Fork, Wallace Run, Lick Run, Laurel Run, Big Fill Run, and East Branch Tunungwant Creek: Commission

Rattling Creek: WWA (This request by the WWA was received and placed on the Department's stream list prior to adoption of the Board policy for processing petitions)

The physical, chemical and biological characteristics and other information on these waterbodies were evaluated in order to determine the appropriateness of the current designations. Aquatic surveys of these streams were conducted by the Department's Bureau of Water Quality Management and others. Based upon the data collected in these surveys and information gathered from Department records and other sources, the Board has made the designations described in Section F of this Preamble.

Copies of the Department's aquatic survey evaluation reports referred to in this Preamble are available from Edward Brezina whose address and telephone number are listed in Section B of this Preamble.

In reviewing whether waterbodies are subject to the Special Protection Waters Program, and meet the definitions of "High Quality Waters" or "Exceptional Value Waters" in § 93.3 (relating to protected water uses), the Department utilized guidance titled "Special Protection Waters Selection Criteria." This guidance appears in the Department's "Special Protection Waters Implementation Handbook."

E. Summary of Comments and Responses on the Proposed Rulemaking

The amendments were approved by the Board at its December 20, 1994, meeting, and notice of the proposed rulemaking was published at 25 Pa.B. 3724 (September 9, 1995), which included provisions for a 45-day public comment period. The public comment period concluded on October 24, 1995.

The Board received comments from four commentators during the public comment period. One commentator supported the redesignation of the Kettle Creek basin (Clinton County) from HQ-TSF to EV Waters, while three other commentators opposed the proposed redesignations for the East Branch Tunungwant Creek basin in McKean County.

The Pennsylvania Independent Petroleum Producers, Inc. (PIPP) objected to the proposed changes to water quality standards of five streams in McKean County and the process of upgrading hundreds of Commonwealth streams. The commentator believes that streams in oil and gas producing regions generally have remained high quality and do not need to be redesignated. The commentator believes that special protection designation of these streams penalizes those who have been responsible stewards of the environment by imposing additional requirements on industry. Two State representatives from the McKean and Warren Counties districts submitted comments which included a copy of the comments from PIPP and indicated that they concur with their constituent's objections.

The Department believes that the special protection redesignations are necessary to maintain the existing high quality of the streams. The Department does not propose any new regulatory restrictions on the existing oil and gas production operations within the basin because of the HQ or EV Waters designations. The existing operations are currently required to obtain and maintain applicable Department permits, use best management practices and shall comply with applicable laws and regulations such as the act, the Oil and Gas Act (58 P.S. §§ 601.101—601.605), the Oil and Gas Conservation Law (58 P.S. §§ 401—419), and Chapter 78 (relating to oil and gas wells) and Chapter 93. However, new or expanding oil and gas operations will be required to demonstrate that the proposed expansion or new operation will not have an adverse impact on the basins' water quality.

The Department is unable to predict all the future costs or impacts that will be incurred by an oil and gas operator as the result of an HQ and EV Waters redesignation. However, the Department encourages creative planning and discharge alternatives, and will work with the operators in order to develop options that will help them comply with the regulatory requirements.

F. Summary of Changes to the Proposed Rulemaking

There are no changes made to the stream recommendations that were in the proposed rulemaking which was originally approved by the Board and published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. However, Annex A has been changed to clarify that the unnamed tributary at Gum Stump is also included in the EV Waters designation for the upper reach of the Wallace Run basin.

G. Benefits, Costs and Compliance

Executive Order 1996-1 requires a cost/benefit analysis of the final regulations.

1. Benefits—Overall, the citizens of this Commonwealth will benefit from these recommended designations because they will provide, in some cases, an added degree of protection for important public natural resources and, in all cases, the most appropriate degree of protection for each stream in question.

2. Compliance Costs—Generally, the changes should have no fiscal impact on, or create additional compliance costs for the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions. Except as noted in this Preamble, no costs will be imposed directly upon local government by this recommendation. However, indirect costs may result from revisions to Act 537 Sewage Facilities Plans due to consultant and other administrative fees. Political subdivisions which add a new sewage treatment plant or expand an existing plant in the basin may experience changes in cost as noted in this Preamble in the discussion of impacts on the private sector.

Persons proposing activities or projects which result in discharges to streams must comply with the regulatory requirements relating to current stream designations. These persons could be adversely affected by the recommended changes that increase the level of protection provided to a stream, if they expand their discharge, or add a new discharge point, since they may need to provide a higher level of treatment for their new or expanded discharge. These increased costs take the form of higher engineering, construction or operating costs for wastewater treatment facilities. Treatment costs are site-specific and may depend upon the site of the discharge in relation to the size of the stream and many other factors. It is therefore not possible to precisely predict the actual change in costs. In addition, nonpoint source controls necessary to protect High Quality and Exceptional Value Waters generally add to the cost of planning and development for new or expanded nonpoint source discharges. Economic impacts would primarily involve the potential for higher treatment costs for new or expanding dischargers to streams which are upgraded, and potentially lower treatment costs for dischargers to streams which are downgraded.

3. Compliance Assistance Plan—The rulemaking has been developed as part of an established program that has been implemented by the Department since the early 1980's. Additional central office or regional staff are not expected to be needed in order to implement the proposal. The redesignations are consistent with current policies and, therefore, no policy changes are anticipated. The final rulemaking extends additional protection to selected waterbodies that exhibit exceptional water quality and environmental features, and is consistent with antidegradation requirements established by the Federal Clean Water Act and the act.

Surface waters in this Commonwealth are afforded a minimum level of protection through compliance with the water quality standards which prevents pollution and protects existing water uses.

The final regulations will be implemented through the National Pollution Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permitting program since the stream use designation is a major basis for determining the allowable stream discharge effluent limitations. These permit conditions are established to assure the water quality criteria are achieved and the designated uses are protected. New and expanded dischargers with water quality based effluent limitations are required to provide effluent treatment according to the water quality criteria associated with the proposed revised designated water uses.

The Department has developed technical guidance to assist the potentially affected and regulated community in understanding the impacts and requirements of the Special Protection Stream Designation Process. The Special Protection Waters Implementation Handbook, (1992), provides guidance on the regulatory designation process, protection of candidate streams, and most importantly, general considerations for proposed new or expanded discharges to Special Protection Waters. This handbook also contains appendices which present management practices and technologies relevant for point and nonpoint source dischargers to Special Protection Waters. The Department has conducted various workshops, seminars and public meetings on the Special Protection Waters program. Public meetings have been held for specific stream redesignation concerns. Permitted point source discharges are regularly evaluated through discharger self-monitoring reports and Department inspections, to assure they are complying with permit conditions. The Handbook sets forth recommended best management practices for nonpoint sources.

4. Paperwork Requirements—The regulatory revisions should have no direct paperwork impact on the Commonwealth, local governments and political subdivisions, or the private sector. These regulatory revisions are based on existing Department programs and policies. There may be some indirect paperwork requirements for new or expanding dischargers to streams upgraded to special protection (HQ or EV). For example, NPDES general permits are not available for new or expanded discharges to special protection streams. Thus, an individual permit, and its associated additional paperwork, would be required. Additionally, paperwork associated with demonstrating social and economic justification, and the nonfeasibility of nondischarge alternatives, may be required for new or expanded discharges to certain special protection waters.

H. Sunset Review

These amendments will be reviewed in accordance with the sunset review schedule published by the Department to determine whether the regulations effectively fulfill the goals for which they were intended.

I. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Department submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking on August 29, 1995, to the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) and to the Chairpersons of the Senate and House Environmental Resources and Energy Committees for review and comment. The notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 25 Pa.B. 3724. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Department also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Department has considered the comments received from the public. IRRC and the Committees did not provide comments on the proposed rulemaking.

These final-form regulations were deemed approved by the Committees on September 23, 1996, and were deemed approved by the IRRC on October 3, 1996, in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

J. Findings

The Board finds that:

(1) Public notice of proposed rulemaking was given under sections 201 and 202 of the act of July 31, 1968 (P. L. 769, No. 240) (45 P. S. §§ 1201 and 1202) and regulations promulgated thereunder at 1 Pa. Code §§ 7.1 and 7.2.

(2) A public comment period was provided as required by law and the comments were considered.

(3) These amendments do not enlarge the purpose of the proposal published at 25 Pa.B. 3724.

(4) These amendments are necessary and appropriate for administration and enforcement of the authorizing acts identified in Section C of the Preamble.

K. Order

The Board, acting under the authorizing statutes, orders that:

(a) The regulations of the Department, 25 Pa. Code Chapter 93, are amended by amending §§ 93.9l—93.9n and 93.9p to read as set forth in Annex A, with ellipses referring to the existing text of the regulations.

(b) The Chairperson of the Board shall submit this order and Annex A to the Office of General Counsel and the Office of Attorney General for approval and review as to the legality and form, as required by law.

(c) The Chairperson shall submit this order and Annex A to IRRC and the House and Senate Environmental Resources and Energy Committees as required by the Regulatory Review Act.

(d) The Chairperson of the Board shall certify this order and Annex A and deposit them with the Legislative Reference Bureau as required by law.

(e) This order shall take effect immediately upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

JAMES M. SEIF,
Chairperson

(Editor's Note: A proposal to amend §§ 93.9l and 93.9n, amended in this document, remains outstanding at 26 Pa.B. 3637 (August 3, 1996).)

[25 PA. CODE CH. 127]

General Conformity

The Environmental Quality Board (Board) by this order amends Chapter 127 (relating to construction, modification, reactivation and operation of sources) by adding Subchapter J (relating to general conformity) to read as set forth at 26 Pa.B. 1139 (March 16, 1996). The final rulemaking adopts and incorporates by reference the General Conformity Rule (rule) promulgated by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) under section 176(c) of the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (CAA) in its entirety. The regulations are contained in 40 CFR Part 93, Subpart B (relating to determining conformity of general Federal actions to state or Federal implementation plans) with respect to the conformity of general Federal actions to the Commonwealth's State Implementation Plan (SIP).

The Board adopted this order at its meeting of August 20, 1996.

A. Effective Date

These amendments will be effective immediately upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin as final rulemaking.

B. Contact Persons

the Department of Environmental Protection (Department) Web site (<http://www.dep.state.pa.us>).

C. Statutory Authority

The final rulemaking is being made under the authority of section 5 of the Air Pollution Control Act (act) (35 P. S. § 4005), which grants to the Board the authority to adopt rules and regulations for the prevention, control, reduction and abatement of air pollution in this Commonwealth.

D. Background and Summary

The purpose of this final rulemaking is to ensure that Federal actions do not adversely affect the timely attainment and maintenance of the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) or emission reduction plans leading to attainment. The intent of integrating Federal actions with air quality planning is to protect the Commonwealth's air quality by helping to ensure that SIP growth projections are not exceeded, emission reduction targets are achieved, and air quality attainment and maintenance efforts are not undermined.

Under section 176(c) of the CAA, departments, agencies or instrumentalities of the Federal government are not permitted to engage in, support in any way or provide financial assistance for, license or permit, or approve any activity which does not conform to the Commonwealth's SIP. Prior to taking any action, a determination that the proposed Federal action conforms to SIP must be made by the Federal agency in accordance with the policy, criteria and procedures contained in 40 CFR Part 93, Subpart B. Adoption of this final rulemaking will not impact any existing Commonwealth air quality regulations. The conformity determination, which examines direct and indirect emissions of regulated air pollutants resulting from the Federal actions, is the responsibility of the Federal agency taking the actions. Conformity with the applicable SIP must be determined prior to initiating any Federal action and the results of the conformity determination must be made available for review by the general public.

Examples of Federal actions requiring conformity determinations include:

- leasing of Federal land
- airport construction/modification grants
- private construction on Federal land
- construction of Federal office buildings
- prescribed burning
- reuse of military bases
- water treatment plants

The CAA required the EPA to promulgate rules to implement the general conformity requirements. On November 30, 1993, the EPA published the general conformity final rule at 58 FR 63214. The Federal general conformity criteria and procedures contained in 40 CFR Parts 51 and 93 were effective on January 31, 1994.

The Commonwealth is required under 40 CFR 51.851 to submit to the EPA a revision to the SIP, which establishes conformity criteria and procedures that are consistent with the Federal rule. This final rulemaking adopts and incorporates the Federal conformity requirements in 40 CFR Part 93, Subpart B by reference in their entirety.

The general conformity rule covers direct and indirect emissions of criteria pollutants or their precursors that are caused by a Federal action, are reasonably foreseeable, and can practically be controlled by the Federal agency through its continuing program responsibility. Criteria pollutants are carbon monoxide (CO), lead (Pb), nitrogen dioxide (NO₂), ozone, particulate matter (PM-10) and sulfur dioxide (SO₂). The criteria and procedures established in these regulations apply only in areas that are nonattainment or maintenance with respect to any of these criteria pollutants. Because the Commonwealth is included in the Ozone Transport Region established under section 184 of the CAA, by operation of law, the entire Commonwealth (except for the severe ozone nonattainment area in southeastern Pennsylvania) is considered a moderate ozone nonattainment area regardless of the designation and classification of certain areas. Therefore, the general conformity requirements apply to Federal actions Statewide.

E. Summary of Comments and Changes to the Proposal

During the month of April 1996, the Board held three public hearings so that interested persons could provide testimony on the proposed rulemaking published at 26 Pa.B. 1139. The hearings were held on the following dates: April 15, 1996 (Pittsburgh), April 17, 1996 (Harrisburg) and April 22, 1996 (Conshohocken). The Board received no testimony on the general conformity proposal. Persons interested in providing written comments on the proposal had the opportunity to submit written comments to the Board during the 67-day public comment period. However, the Board did not receive any comments on the proposal. Therefore, no changes have been made to the general conformity proposal.

On June 13, 1996, the Department consulted with the Air and Water Quality Technical Advisory Committee concerning these amendments and received a unanimous recommendation that the general conformity requirements be submitted to the Board for consideration as a final rulemaking.

F. Benefits and Costs

Executive Order 1996-1 requires a cost/benefit analysis of the final regulations.

These regulations require affected Federal actions to include SIP planning methods and goals in evaluation of the environmental impact. These regulations should not affect present paperwork requirements. Presently, environmental assessments are required of major activities that may adversely affect the Commonwealth's air quality. These regulations will directly affect Federal activities by requiring Federal agencies to include Pennsylvania SIP planning and goals in the assessment of the proposed Federal action in affected areas of the Commonwealth.

Emission Impact and Environmental Impact

The current regulations are intended to achieve or maintain the Federal NAAQS for the general conformity criteria pollutants CO, Pb, NO₂, ozone, PM-10 and SO₂. These general conformity amendments will not change the emission impact of the current regulations.

These regulations will require agencies of the Federal government to ensure that an affected Federal action is consistent with the requirements and milestones of the Commonwealth's SIP. The final rulemaking will prevent direct and indirect emissions of criteria pollutants from the Federal action from causing or contributing to new violations of the NAAQS or increasing the frequency or severity of the violations. Therefore, the general conformity requirements will ensure that the Federal action does not cause any environmental degradation and that there is no adverse impact on air quality from the Federal action.

Impact on Regulated Industry

The general conformity regulations will not have an impact on regulated industry. The conformity determination, which is similar to the environmental impact analysis of Federal agencies under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), must be conducted by agencies of the Federal government prior to commencing a Federal action.

Cost to the Commonwealth, Local Government and the General Public

These regulations will not affect costs to the Commonwealth, local governments or regulated community. The Department's regional offices presently review the types of environmental impact statements that these final-form regulations will require.

G. Sunset Date

These regulations will be reviewed in accordance with the sunset review schedule published by the Department to determine whether the regulations effectively fulfill the goals for which they were intended.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Department submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1139 to the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) and to the Chairpersons of the House and Senate Environmental Resources and Energy Committees. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Department provided IRRC and the Committees with a copy of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

These final-form regulations were deemed approved by the Senate Environmental Resources and Energy Committee and the House Environmental Resources and Energy Committee on September 23, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and the regulations were deemed approved under section 5(b.3) of the Regulatory Review Act.

I. Findings

The Board finds that:

- (1) Public notice of the proposed rulemaking was given under sections 201 and 202 of the act of July 31, 1968

(P. L. 769, No. 240) (45 P. S. §§ 1201 and 1202) and the regulations promulgated thereunder at 1 Pa. Code §§ 7.1 and 7.2.

(2) A public comment period and public hearings were provided as required by law. However, no comments or testimony were received by the Board.

(3) These regulations do not enlarge the purpose of the proposed rulemaking published at 26 Pa.B. 1139.

(4) These regulations are necessary and appropriate for the administration, enforcement and implementation of the act identified in Section C of the Preamble.

(5) These regulations are necessary for the Commonwealth to achieve and maintain ambient air quality standards.

(6) These regulations are also necessary and appropriate to satisfy obligations imposed by the Federal Clean Air Act and must be promulgated to ensure that sanctions are not imposed for the Commonwealth's failure to comply with requirements of the Clean Air Act.

J. Order

(a) The regulations of the Department, 25 Pa. Code Chapter 127, are amended by adding §§ 127.801 and 127.802, to read as set forth at 26 Pa.B. 1139.

(b) The Chairperson of the Board shall submit this order and 26 Pa.B. 1139 to the Office of Attorney General and Office of General Counsel for review as to legality and form as required by law.

(c) The Chairperson of the Board shall submit this order and 26 Pa.B. 1139 to the House and Senate Environmental Resources and Energy Committees and IRRC as required by law.

Title 49—PROFESSIONAL AND VOCATIONAL STANDARDS

STATE BOARD OF CHIROPRACTIC
[49 PA. CODE CH. 5]

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Chiropractic (Board), by this order amends § 5.1 (relating to definitions) and adopts Subchapter I (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These amendments are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

These amendments are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL (relating to education and training) and section 302(3) of the Chiropractic Practice Act (act) (63 P. S. § 625.302(3)).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include chiropractors.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1001 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 5.1. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than § 5.1. For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 5.91(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise chiropractors that a chiropractor who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these regulations.

§ 5.91. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 5.91 provide chiropractors with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested chiropractors be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to the DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 5.92. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 5.92 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 5.91(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 5.91(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 5.93. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 5.93 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify chiropractors.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, a chiropractor would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

§ 5.95. Confidentiality

IRRC suggested that § 5.95 (relating to confidentiality—waived) contain a specific cross reference to any existing Board regulation which protects confidentiality or contains ethical principles or other professional standards. This suggestion has been incorporated in final rulemaking.

Additional Comment

The Pennsylvania Chiropractic Society (Society) suggested that the Board consider requiring that continuing education in child abuse be required. Section 507 of the act (63 P. S. § 625.507) states the requirement for continuing chiropractic education and the permissible areas of education qualifying for course credit. The suggestion of the Society will be considered when the Board reviews its regulations under Executive Order 1996-1.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The amendments which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The amendments may heighten awareness of chiropractors as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1001, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

- (2) A public comment period was provided as required by law and all comments were considered.
- (3) These amendments do not enlarge the purpose of proposed rulemaking published at 26 Pa.B. 1001.
- (4) These amendments are necessary and appropriate for administration and enforcement of the authorizing acts identified in Part B of this Preamble.

K. Order

The Board, acting under its authorizing statutes, orders that:

Child abuse—A term meaning any of the following:

- (i) A recent act or failure to act by a perpetrator which causes nonaccidental serious physical injury to a child under 18 years of age.

Subchapter I. CHILD ABUSE REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Sec.
5.91.	Suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements.
5.92.	Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.
5.93.	Suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement.
5.94.	Immunity from liability.

5.96.	Noncompliance.

§ 5.91. Suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements.

(a) General rule. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6311 (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse), chiropractors who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall report or cause a report to be made to the Department of Public Welfare when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse.

(b) Staff members of public or private agencies, institutions and facilities. Chiropractors who are staff members of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, and who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall immediately notify the person in charge of the institution, school, facility or agency or the designated agent of the person in charge when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse. Upon notification by the chiropractor, the person in charge or the designated agent shall assume the responsibility and have the legal obligation to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with subsections (a), (c) and (d).

(c) Reporting procedure. Reports of suspected child abuse shall be made by telephone and by written report.

(1) Oral reports. Oral reports of suspected child abuse shall be made immediately by telephone to ChildLine, (800) 932-0313.

(2) Written reports. Written reports shall be made within 48 hours after the oral report is made by telephone. Written reports shall be made on forms available from a county children and youth social service agency.

(d) Written reports. Written reports shall be made in the manner and on forms prescribed by the Department of Public Welfare. The following information shall be included in the written reports, if available:

(2) Where the suspected abuse occurred.

(3) The age and sex of the subjects of the report.

(4) The nature and extent of the suspected child abuse including any evidence of prior abuse to the child or siblings of the child.

(5) The name and relationship of the persons responsible for causing the suspected abuse, if known, and any evidence of prior abuse by those persons.

(6) Family composition.

(7) The source of the report.

(8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.

(9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.

(10) Other information which the Department of Public Welfare may require by regulation.

§ 5.92. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

A chiropractor may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. The county children and youth social service agency shall have access to actual photographs or duplicates and X-rays and may obtain them or duplicates of them upon request.

§ 5.93. Suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement.

A chiropractor who has reasonable cause to suspect that a child died as a result of child abuse shall report that suspicion to the coroner of the county where death occurred or, in the case where the child is transported to another county for medical treatment, to the coroner of the county where the injuries were sustained.

§ 5.94. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability), a chiropractor who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the chiropractor's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the chiropractor shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a chiropractor's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 5.95. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 5.91—5.94 take precedence over the act and any other ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply to chiropractors. This section takes precedence over the provisions in § 5.81 (relating to unprofessional and immoral conduct) and any other ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply.

§ 5.96. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. A chiropractor who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 5.91—5.93 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 506(a)(9) and (13) of the act (63 P. S. § 625.506(a)(9) and (13)).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), a chiropractor who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF FUNERAL DIRECTORS
[49 PA. CODE CH. 13]
Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Funeral Directors (Board), by this order adopts §§ 13.301—13.307 (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

These regulations are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL (relating to education and training) and section 16 of the Funeral Director Law (63 P. S. § 479.16).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency where they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include funeral directors.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1011 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 13.301. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than § 13.301 (relating to definitions relating to child abuse reporting requirements). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 13.302(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise funeral directors that a funeral director who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these regulations.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 13.302 provide funeral directors with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) requires written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested funeral directors be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 13.303. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 13.303 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 13.302(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 13.302(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 13.304. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 13.304 (relating to suspected death as a result of child-abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify funeral directors.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees at Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employee mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employee because as a school employee, a funeral director would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employees in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board does not believe that funeral directors would be employed by schools in a professional capacity. Nonetheless, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning this question and whether a need for future rulemaking exists. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

§ 13.306. Confidentiality.

IRRC suggested that § 13.306 (relating to confidentiality—waived) contain a specific cross reference to any existing Board regulation which protects confidentiality or contains ethical principles or other professional standards. This suggestion has been incorporated in final rulemaking.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of funeral directors as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1011, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the Senate Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the House Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

(2) Where the suspected abuse occurred.

(3) The age and sex of the subjects of the report.

(4) The nature and extent of the suspected child abuse including any evidence of prior abuse to the child or siblings of the child.

(5) The name and relationship of the persons responsible for causing the suspected abuse, if known, and any evidence of prior abuse by those persons.

(6) Family composition.

(7) The source of the report.

(8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.

(9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.

(10) Other information which the Department of Public Welfare may require by regulation.

§ 13.303. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

A funeral director may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. The county children and youth social service agency shall have access to actual photographs or duplicates and X-rays and may obtain them or duplicates of them upon request.

§ 13.304. Suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement.

A funeral director who has reasonable cause to suspect that a child died as a result of child abuse shall report that suspicion to the coroner of the county where death occurred or, in the case where the child is transported to another county for medical treatment, to the coroner of the county where the injuries were sustained.

§ 13.305. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability) a funeral director who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the funeral director's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the funeral director shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a funeral director's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 13.306. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 13.302—13.304 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the provisions in § 13.201 (relating to professional responsibilities) and any other client confidentiality, ethical principles or professional standards that might otherwise apply.

§ 13.307. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. A funeral director who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 13.302—13.304 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 11 of the act (63 P. S. § 479.11).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), a funeral director who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF MEDICINE

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Medicine (Board), by this order adopts Chapter 16, Subchapter G (relating to minimum standards of practice—child abuse reporting) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

These regulations are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL (relating to education and training) and section 8 of the Medical Practice Act of 1985 (63 P. S. § 422.8).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL enumerates persons required to report as to "include, but . . . not limited to, any . . . medical doctors." In its proposed rulemaking, the Board has included physician assistant, nurse midwife, certified registered nurse practitioner, respiratory care practitioner, drugless therapist, acupuncturist or auxiliary personnel performing radiologic procedures on the premises of a medical doctor (Board regulated practitioner) as persons required to report.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1014 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 16.101. Definitions.

The commentators, including the Pennsylvania Medical Society, objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 16.101 (relating to definitions). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 16.102(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise Board regulated practitioners that a Board regulated practitioner who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these amendments.

§ 16.102. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 16.102 provides Board regulated practitioners with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested Board regulated practitioners be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 16.103. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 16.103 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 16.102(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 16.102(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by the section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 16.104. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 16.104 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner where a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify Board regulated practitioners.

Reporting by School Employes

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employes in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employes).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, a Board regulated practitioner would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of Board regulated practitioners as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1014, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

B. Statutory Authority

The amendments are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL (relating to education and training), section 2.1(k) of the Professional Nursing Law (63 P. S. § 212.1(k)) and section 17.6 of the Practical Nurse Law (63 P. S. § 667.6).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include registered nurses (RNs), licensed practical nurses (LPNs) and certified registered nurse practitioners (CRNPs).

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1017 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 21.501. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent, or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 21.501 (relating to definitions). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 21.502(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise RNs, LPNs or CRNPs that an RN, LPN or CRNP who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d. 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of the amendments.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 21.502 provide RNs, LPNs or CRNPs with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested RNs, LPNs or CRNPs be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 21.503. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 21.503 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 21.502(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 21.502(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 21.504. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 21.504 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner where a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify RNs, LPNs or CRNPs.

Reporting by School Employes

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employes in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employes).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, an RN, LPN or CRNP would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing all schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of RNs, LPNs or CRNPs as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1017, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the RN, LPN or CRNP shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of an RN, LPN or CRNP's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 21.506. Confidentiality—waived.

STATE BOARD OF OPTOMETRY
[49 PA. CODE CH. 23]
Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Optometry (Board), by this order amends § 23.1 (relating to definitions) and adopts §§ 23.111—23.116 (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These amendments are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

The amendments are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL and section 3(b)(14) of the Optometric Practice and Licensure Act (63 P. S. § 244.3(b)(14)).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include optometrists.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1023 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 23.1. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 23.1. For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 23.111(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise optometrists that an optometrist who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly,

DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these amendments.

§ 23.111. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 23.111 provide optometrists with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested optometrists be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)–(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 23.112. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 23.112 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 23.111(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 23.111(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by the section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 23.113. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 23.113 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify optometrists.

Reporting by School Employes

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employes in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employes).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, an optometrist would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The amendments which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The amendments may heighten awareness of optometrists as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1023, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

CHILD ABUSE REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

§ 23.111. Suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements.

(a) General rule. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6311 (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse), optometrists who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall report or cause a report to be made to the Department of Public Welfare when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse.

(b) Staff members of public or private agencies, institutions and facilities. Optometrists who are staff members of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, and who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall immediately notify the person in charge of the institution, school, facility or agency or the designated agent of the person in charge when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse. Upon notification by the optometrist, the person in charge or the designated agent shall assume the responsibility and have the legal obligation to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with subsections (a), (c) and (d).

(c) Reporting procedure. Reports of suspected child abuse shall be made by telephone and by written report.

- (2) Where the suspected abuse occurred.
- (3) The age and sex of the subjects of the report.
- (4) The nature and extent of the suspected child abuse including any evidence of prior abuse to the child or siblings of the child.
- (5) The name and relationship of the persons responsible for causing the suspected abuse, if known, and any evidence of prior abuse by those persons.
- (6) Family composition.
- (7) The source of the report.
- (8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.
- (9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.
- (10) Other information which the Department of Public Welfare may require by regulation.

§ 23.112. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

An optometrist may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. The county children and youth social service agency shall have access to actual photographs or duplicates and X-rays and may obtain them or duplicates of them upon request.

§ 23.113. Suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement.

An optometrist who has reasonable cause to suspect that a child died as a result of child abuse shall report that suspicion to the coroner of the county where death occurred or, in the case where the child is transported to another county for medical treatment, to the coroner of the county where the injuries were sustained.

§ 23.114. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability), an optometrist who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the optometrist's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the optometrist shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of an optometrist's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 23.115. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of this chapter take precedence over provisions of the act as defined in § 23.1 (relating to definitions) and other ethical principles or professional standards that might otherwise apply to optometrists.

§ 23.116. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. An optometrist who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 23.111—23.113 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 7(8), (10) and (11) of the act (63 P. S. § 244.7(8), (10) and (11)).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), an optometrist who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

[49 PA. CODE CH. 25]

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Osteopathic Medicine (Board), by this order adopts Chapter 25, Subchapter J (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

These regulations are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL and section 16 of the Osteopathic Medical Practice Act (63 P. S. § 271.16).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigative reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency where they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1027 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families, on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 25.401. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than § 25.401 (relating to definitions). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 25.411(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists that an osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to the disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d. 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these regulations.

§ 25.411. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 25.411 provide osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 25.412. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 25.412 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 25.411(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 25.411(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 25.413. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 25.413 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists.

Reporting by School Employes

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employes in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, an osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulation population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1027, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

CHILD ABUSE REPORTING REQUIREMENTS§ 25.411. Suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements.

(a) General rule. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6311 (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse), osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall report or cause a report to be made to the Department of Public Welfare when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse.

(b) Staff members of public or private agencies, institutions and facilities. Osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists who are staff members of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, and who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall immediately notify the person in charge of the institution, school, facility or agency or the designated agent of the person in charge when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse. Upon notification by the osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist, the person in charge or the designated agent shall assume the responsibility and have the legal obligation to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with subsections (a), (c) and (d).

(c) Reporting procedure. Reports of suspected child abuse shall be made by telephone and by written report.

(1) Oral reports. Oral reports of suspected child abuse shall be made immediately by telephone to ChildLine, (800) 932-0313.

(5) The name and relationship of the persons responsible for causing the suspected abuse, if known, and any evidence of prior abuse by those persons.

(6) Family composition.

(7) The source of the report.

(8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.

(9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.

(10) Other information which the Department of Public Welfare may require by regulation.

§ 25.412. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

An osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of an osteopathic physician's, physician assistant's or certified respiratory care therapist's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 25.411—25.413 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the confidentiality provisions in § 25.213(c) (relating to medical records) and any other ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply to osteopathic physicians, physician assistants or certified respiratory care therapists.

§ 25.416. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. An osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 25.411—25.413 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 15(a)(6) or (b)(7) of the act (63 P. S. § 271.15(a)(6) or (b)(7)).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), an osteopathic physician, physician assistant or certified respiratory care therapist who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF PODIATRY

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Podiatry (Board), by this order adopts §§ 29.91—29.97 (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

The regulations are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL and section 15 of the Podiatry Practice Act (63 P. S. § 42.15).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency where they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include podiatrists.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1047 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 29.91. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on county agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 29.91 (relating to definitions relating to child abuse reporting requirements). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of child abuse in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 29.92(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise podiatrists that a podiatrist who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J.R.W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYs agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these regulations.

§ 29.92. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 29.92 provide podiatrists with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested podiatrists be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 29.93. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 29.93 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 29.92(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 29.92(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 29.94. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 29.94 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify podiatrists.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees at Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employee mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, a podiatrist would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of podiatrists as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1047, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996, and were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

§ 29.91. Definitions relating to child abuse reporting requirements.

The following words and terms, when used in this section and §§ 29.92—29.97, have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

Child abuse—A term meaning any of the following:

(i) A recent act or failure to act by a perpetrator which causes nonaccidental serious physical injury to a child under 18 years of age.

(ii) An act or failure to act by a perpetrator which causes nonaccidental serious mental injury to or sexual abuse or sexual exploitation of a child under 18 years of age.

(iii) A recent act, failure to act or series of acts or failures to act by a perpetrator which creates an imminent risk of serious physical injury to or sexual abuse or sexual exploitation of a child under 18 years of age.

(iv) Serious physical neglect by a perpetrator constituting prolonged or repeated lack of supervision or the failure to provide the essentials of life, including adequate medical care, which endangers a child's life or development or impairs the child's functioning.

ChildLine—An organizational unit of the Department of Public Welfare which operates a 24-hour a day State-wide toll free telephone system for receiving reports of suspected child abuse, referring reports for investigation and maintaining the reports in the appropriate file.

Individual residing in the same home as the child—An individual who is 14 years of age or older and who resides in the same home as the child.

Perpetrator—A person who has committed child abuse and is a parent of the child, a person responsible for the welfare of a child, an individual residing in the same home as a child or a paramour of a child's parent.

Person responsible for the child's welfare—A person who provides permanent or temporary care, supervision, mental health diagnosis or treatment, training or control of a child in lieu of parental care, supervision and control. The term does not include a person who is employed by or provides services or programs in a public or private school, intermediate unit or area vocational-technical school.

Recent acts or omissions—Acts or omissions committed within 2 years of the date of the report to the Department of Public Welfare or county agency.

Serious mental injury—A psychological condition, as diagnosed by a physician or licensed psychologist, including the refusal of appropriate treatment, that does one or more of the following:

(ii) Seriously interferes with a child's ability to accomplish age-appropriate developmental and social tasks.

Serious physical injury—An injury that causes a child severe pain or significantly impairs a child's physical functioning, either temporarily or permanently.

Sexual abuse or exploitation—The employment, use, persuasion, inducement, enticement or coercion of a child to engage in or assist another person to engage in sexually explicit conduct or a simulation of sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing a visual depiction, including photographing, videotaping, computer depicting or filming, of sexually explicit conduct or the rape, sexual assault, involuntary deviate sexual intercourse, aggravated indecent assault, molestation, incest, indecent exposure, prostitution, statutory sexual assault or other form of sexual exploitation of children.

§ 29.92. Suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements.

(a) General rule. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6311 (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse), podiatrists who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall report or cause a report to be made to the Department of Public Welfare when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse.

(b) Staff members of public or private agencies, institutions and facilities. Podiatrists who are staff members of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, and who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall immediately notify the person in charge of the institution, school, facility or agency or the designated agent of the person in charge when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse. Upon notification by the podiatrist, the person in charge or the designated agent shall assume the responsibility and have the legal obligation to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with subsections (a), (c) and (d).

(c) Reporting procedure. Reports of suspected child abuse shall be made by telephone and by written report.

(1) Oral reports. Oral reports of suspected child abuse shall be made immediately by telephone to ChildLine, (800) 932-0313.

(2) Written reports. Written reports shall be made within 48 hours after the oral report is made by telephone. Written reports shall be made on forms available from a county children and youth social service agency.

(d) Written reports. Written reports shall be made in the manner and on forms prescribed by the Department of Public Welfare. The following information shall be included in the written reports, if available:

(1) The names and addresses of the child and the parents or other person responsible for the care of the child, if known.

(2) Where the suspected abuse occurred.

(3) The age and sex of the subjects of the report.

(4) The nature and extent of the suspected child abuse including any evidence of prior abuse to the child or siblings of the child.

(5) The name and relationship of the persons responsible for causing the suspected abuse, if known, and any evidence of prior abuse by those persons.

(6) Family composition.

(7) The source of the report.

(8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.

(9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.

(10) Other information which the Department of Public Welfare may require by regulation.

§ 29.93. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

A podiatrist may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. The county children and youth social service agency shall have access to actual photographs or duplicates and X-rays and may obtain them or duplicates of them upon request.

§ 29.94. Suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement.

A podiatrist who has reasonable cause to suspect that a child died as a result of child abuse shall report that suspicion to the coroner of the county where death occurred or, in the case where the child is transported to another county for medical treatment, to the coroner of the county where the injuries were sustained.

§ 29.95. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability) a podiatrist who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the podiatrist's actions. For the purpose of a civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the podiatrist shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a podiatrist's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 29.96. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 29.92—29.94 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the provisions of confidentiality in § 29.23 (relating to confidentiality) and any other ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply to podiatrists.

§ 29.97. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. A podiatrist who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 29.92—29.94 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 16 of the act (63 P. S. § 42.16).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), a podiatrist who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF DENTISTRY

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Dentistry (Board), by this order amends § 33.1 (relating to definitions) and adopts Subchapter C (relating to minimum standards of conduct and practice) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These amendments are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

The amendments are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)92) of the CPSL and section 3(o) of the Dental Law (63 P. S. § 122(o)).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL enumerates persons required to report as to "include, but . . . not limited to, any . . . dentists." In its proposed rulemaking, the Board has included dental hygienists, expanded function dental assistants or auxiliary personnel (Board regulated practitioners) as persons required to report.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to all boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1004. The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Response to these comments is organized by subject as follows.

§ 33.1. Definitions.

Several commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 1) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and the DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than § 33.1. For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 33.250(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise Board regulated practitioners that a Board regulated practitioner who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandatory reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d. 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these amendments.

The Pennsylvania Dental Hygienists' Association (PDHA) suggested that the Board delete the statutory definitions of section 6303 of the CPSL from the regulations and simply reference their location in the CPSL. The Board declines to adopt this suggestion inasmuch as one of the purposes of the rulemaking is to provide Board regulated practitioners with ready source of the statutory law as it pertains to mandatory reporters.

The PDHA suggested that the Board modify the definition of "Board regulated practitioner" by excluding auxiliary personnel and expanded function dental assistants. It is the position of the PDHA that only dentists and dental hygienists possess the requisite education to assess a patient consistent with the mandated reporting requirements. The PDHA also noted that auxiliary personnel and assistants work only under supervision. A review of the CPSL convinces the Board that the term mandated reporters should be broadly construed to include all Board regulated practitioners who come into contact with children in the course of their profession or employment. See section 6311(a) of the CPSL. The Board notes that one of the purposes of the 1994 amendments was to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. The Board believes all providers of dental services should be considered mandatory reporters while acknowledging PDHA's comment that dental services are provided in a dental office by multiskilled teams. Therefore, the suggested change has not been adopted.

The PDHA also requested that the Board consider providing guidance to the professionals regarding when a mandated reporter may not report owing to the environmental factors or the religious exception of the definition of child abuse. As discussed previously, Board regulated practitioners should report and exceptions should be determined by the CYS agency.

§ 33.250. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 33.250 provide Board regulated practitioners with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested Board regulated practitioners be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 33.251. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 33.251 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 33.250(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 33.250(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by the section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 33.252. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 33.252 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify Board regulated practitioners.

Reporting by School Employes

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employes in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employes).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, a Board regulated practitioner would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The amendments which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The amendments may heighten awareness of Board regulated practitioners as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1004, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

§ 33.253. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability), a Board regulated practitioner who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the Board regulated practitioner's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the Board regulated practitioner shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a Board regulated practitioner's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 33.254. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 33.250—33.252 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over any other ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply to a Board regulated practitioner.

STATE BOARD OF PHYSICAL THERAPY
Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Physical Therapy (Board), by this order adopts Chapter 40, Subchapter D (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency where they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include physical therapists, physical therapist assistants or certified athletic trainers.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1043 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 40.201. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 40.201 (relating to definitions). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 40.202(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise physical therapists, physical therapist assistants or certified athletic trainers that a physical therapist, physical therapist assistant or certified athletic trainer who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d. 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these regulations.

§ 40.202. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 40.202 provide physical therapists, physical therapist assistants or certified athletic trainers with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested physical therapists, physical therapist assistants or certified athletic trainers be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 40.203. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 40.203 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 40.202(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 40.202(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. The IRRC suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 40.204. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 40.204 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify physical therapists, physical therapist assistants or certified athletic trainers.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employee mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when he or she is a school employee because as a school employee, a physical therapist, physical therapist assistant or certified athletic trainer would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employees in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

§ 40.206. Confidentiality.

IRRC suggested that § 40.206 (relating to confidentiality—waived) contain a specific cross reference to any existing Board regulation which protects confidentiality or contains ethical principles or other professional standards. This suggestion has been incorporated in final rulemaking.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of physical therapists, physical therapist assistants or certified athletic trainers as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1043, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

(b) Staff members of public or private agencies, institutions and facilities. Physical therapists, physical therapist assistants and certified athletic trainers who are staff members of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, and who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall immediately notify the person in charge of the institution, school, facility or agency or the designated agent of the person in charge when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse. Upon notification by the physical therapist, physical therapist assistant or certified athletic trainer, the person in charge or the designated agent shall assume the responsibility and have the legal obligation to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with subsections (a), (c) and (d).

For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the physical therapist, physical therapist assistant or certified athletic trainer shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a physical therapist's, physical therapist assistant's or certified athletic trainer's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 40.206. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 40.202—40.204 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the provisions in § 40.52(2) (relating to unprofessional conduct; physical therapists) and any other client confidentiality, ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply.

STATE BOARD OF PSYCHOLOGY
[49 PA. CODE CH. 41]
Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Psychology (Board), by this order amends § 41.1 (relating to definitions) and adopts §§ 41.71—41.76 (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These amendments are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include psychologists.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1050 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 41.1. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 41.1. For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 41.71(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise psychologists that a psychologist who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these amendments.

§ 41.71. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 41.71 provide psychologists with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested psychologists be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 41.72. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 41.72 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 41.71(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 41.71(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 41.73. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 41.73 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify psychologists.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employee mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employee because as a school employee, a psychologist would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employees in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employees. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employees of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The amendments which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The amendments may heighten awareness of psychologists as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1050, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were deemed approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and deemed approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the final regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

(6) Family composition.

(7) The source of the report.

(8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.

(9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.

(10) Other information which the Department of Public Welfare may require by regulation.

§ 41.72. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

A psychologist may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. The county children and youth social service agency shall have access to actual photographs or duplicates and X-rays and may obtain them or duplicates of them upon request.

A psychologist who has reasonable cause to suspect that a child died as a result of child abuse shall report that suspicion to the coroner of the county where death occurred or, in the case where the child is transported to another county for medical treatment, to the coroner of the county where the injuries were sustained.

§ 41.74. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability), a psychologist who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the psychologist's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the psychologist shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a psychologist's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 41.75. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 41.71—41.73 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over provisions of Ethical Principle 5 (relating to confidentiality) in § 41.61 (relating to Code of Ethics) and any other ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply to psychologists.

§ 41.76. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. A psychologist who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 41.71—41.73 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 8(a) of the act (63 P. S. § 1208(a)).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), a psychologist who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY EDUCATION AND LICENSURE

[49 PA. CODE CH. 42]

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Occupational Therapy Education and Licensure (Board), by this order adopts §§ 42.41—42.47 (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

The amendments are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL and section 5 of the Occupational Therapists Practice Act (63 P. S. § 1505).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency where they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include occupational therapists or occupational therapist assistants.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1020 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 42.41. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to the Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 101) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than § 42.41 (relating to definitions relating to child abuse reporting requirements). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 42.42(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise occupational therapists or occupational therapist assistants that an occupational therapist or occupational therapist assistant who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to the disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to "bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents." See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d. 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh

Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of the regulation.

§ 42.42. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 42.42 provide occupational therapists or occupational therapist assistants with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested occupational therapists or occupational therapist assistants be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)–(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 42.43. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 42.43 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 42.42(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 42.42(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by this section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 42.44. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 42.44 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify occupational therapists or occupational therapist assistants.

Reporting by School Employes

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employes in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employes).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, an occupational therapist or occupational therapist assistant would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

§ 42.46. Confidentiality.

IRRC suggested that § 42.46 (relating to confidentiality—waived) contain a specific cross reference to any existing Board regulation which protects confidentiality or contains ethical principles or other professional standards. This suggestion has been incorporated in final rulemaking.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The amendments which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The amendments may heighten awareness of occupational therapists or occupational therapist assistants as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1020, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

§ 42.45. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability), an occupational therapist or occupational therapist assistant who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the occupational therapist's or occupational therapist assistant's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the occupational therapist or occupational therapist assistant shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of an occupational therapist's or occupational therapist assistant's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 42.46. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 42.42—42.44 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the provisions in § 42.24(1)(vi) (relating to code of ethics) and any other client confidentiality, ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply.

§ 42.47. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. An occupational therapist or occupational therapist assistant who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 42.42—42.44 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 16 of the act (63 P. S. § 1516).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), an occupational therapist or occupational therapist assistant who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE AND HEARING

[49 PA. CODE CH. 45]

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Examiners in Speech-Language and Hearing (Board), by this order adopts Chapter 45, Subchapter F (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

These regulations are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law)

(CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL and section 5 of the Speech-Language and Hearing Act (63 P. S. § 1705).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include licensees.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1008 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows.

§ 45.401. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. The IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care."

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O'Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators' view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on the CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with the Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child's family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators' concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than § 45.401 (relating to definitions). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of "child abuse" in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 45.402(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise licensees that a licensee who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC's recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC's suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board's view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes (relating to Statutory Construction Act) instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL's stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d. 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme and the purpose of these regulations.

§ 45.402. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 45.402 provide licensees with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested licensees be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)–(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 45.403. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 45.403 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 45.402(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 45.402(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by the section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 45.404. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 45.404 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify licensees.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employee mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when licensee is a school employee because as a school employee, a licensee would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employees in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employees. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employees of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

§ 45.406. Confidentiality.

IRRC suggested that § 45.406 (relating to confidentiality—waived) contain a specific cross reference to any existing Board regulation which protects confidentiality or contains ethical principles or other professional standards. This suggestion has been incorporated in final rulemaking.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of licensees as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1008, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations, the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were deemed approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and deemed approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

§ 45.402. Suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements.

(a) General rule. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6311 (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse), licensees who, in the course of their employment, occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children shall report or cause a report to be made to the Department of Public Welfare when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of professional or other training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is a victim of child abuse.

For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the licensee shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reason of a licensee's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 45.406. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 45.402—45.404 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the provisions in § 45.103(11) (relating to unprofessional conduct) and any client confidentiality, ethical principles or professional standard that might otherwise apply.

§ 45.407. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. A licensee who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 45.402—45.404 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 10 of the act (63 P. S. § 1710).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), a licensee who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

STATE BOARD OF SOCIAL WORK EXAMINERS

Child Abuse Reporting Requirements

The State Board of Social Work Examiners (Board), by this order adopts §§ 47.51—47.57 (relating to child abuse reporting requirements) to read as set forth in Annex A.

A. Effective Date

These regulations are effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

B. Statutory Authority

The regulations are adopted under the authority of 23 Pa.C.S. (relating to Child Protective Services Law) (CPSL) specifically section 6383(b)(2) of the CPSL and section 6 of the Social Workers' Practice Act (63 P. S. § 1906).

C. Background

The CPSL was enacted in 1975 to establish a comprehensive statutory scheme to identify and investigate reports of suspected child abuse and to provide child protective services by and through the Department of Public Welfare (DPW) and county children and youth social service (CYS) agencies.

A key element of the CPSL is section 6311 of the CPSL (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse). This section requires persons who come in contact with children as a part of their profession or occupation to report cases of suspected child abuse. These persons are commonly referred to as mandated reporters. Mandated reporters are identified as persons who, in their employment or occupation or practice of their profession, come into contact with children in a professional or official capacity. Mandated reporters shall, under section 6313 of the CPSL (relating to reporting procedures), file reports orally and in writing with the CYS agency when they have reasonable cause to suspect, based on medical, professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. Mandated reporters are given immunity from civil or criminal liability for reports made in good faith under section 6318 of the CPSL (relating to immunity from liability). Section 6311(b) of the CPSL defines mandated reporters to include licensed social workers.

In 1994, amendments were made to the CPSL. The purpose of the amendments was to, inter alia, encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. See section 6302(a) and (b) of the CPSL (relating to findings and purpose of chapter). Section 6383(b) of the CPSL was amended requiring the Department of State (Department) to make training and educational materials available to the licensing boards whose licensees are mandated reporters and requiring the licensing boards to promulgate regulations within 1 year of the effective date of the amendments, July 1, 1996, on the responsibilities of mandated reporters specifying that mandatory reporting requirements take precedence over a professional standard which might otherwise apply.

D. Summary of Comments and Responses on Proposed Rulemaking

Notice of proposed rulemaking was published at 26 Pa.B. 1053 (March 9, 1996). The Board received comments from several public commentators, Hon. Jo Ann R. Lawer, Deputy Secretary for Children, Youth and Families, on behalf of DPW, individual Legislators, the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC). Responses to these comments are organized by subject as follows:

§ 47.51. Definitions.

The commentators objected to the inclusion of a definition of "abused child," commenting that the definition itself was confusing and contrary to Legislative intent. The Board has agreed to delete the definition in final rulemaking and replace the term with "victim of child abuse" where "abused child" was used in the text of the proposed amendments.

The DPW and IRRC recommended, and the Board concurs, that the definition of "sexual abuse or exploitation" be amended in final rulemaking to be consistent with the statutory definition as amended by the act of March 31, 1995 (P. L. 985, No. 10) (Spec. Sess. No. 1).

The definition of "child abuse" was the subject of a comment of IRRC. IRRC questioned whether the Board's definition of "child abuse" is sufficiently complete and within the parameters of the CPSL. IRRC's concern is addressed to the proposal's omission in its definition of "child abuse" as stated in section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL. This paragraph of the CPSL provides:

"(2) No child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused based on injuries that result solely from environmental factors that are beyond the control of the parent or person responsible for the child's welfare, such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care.”

IRRC noted, in its comments, that it had suggested to the Legislative staffs of the House and Senate and the Department and DPW that section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be included in the regulatory definition. Both Senator Michael A. O’Pake and Representative Kevin Blaum, in response, wrote IRRC opposing the inclusion on the ground that to do so would be contrary to the purpose of the amendments to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse and to the overall statutory scheme, which in the Legislators’ view, was intended to place the responsibility for deciding whether environmental factors were the causative agents of the injury on CYS agencies, not mandated reporters.

Nonetheless, IRRC disagreed with Legislative commentary. IRRC expressed the view that excluding the exception of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL is inconsistent with the CPSL and enlarges the scope of what constitutes child abuse. IRRC disagreed with the conclusion that including the exception would conflict with the purpose of encouraging more complete reporting of suspected child abuse or that to so include the exceptions would require mandated reporters to make a determination without adequate information of a child’s family or living conditions. IRRC also expressed the view that the commentators’ concern that inclusion may encourage noncompliance is more properly addressed in enforcement through disciplinary actions rather than in § 47.51 (relating to definitions relating to child abuse reporting requirements). For these reasons, IRRC recommended that the language of section 6303(b)(2) of the CPSL be added to the definition of “child abuse” in the final rulemaking. IRRC also suggested a new § 47.52(e) (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) which would reiterate the statutory exception as a basis for not reporting, but advise licensed social workers that a licensed social worker who does not believe that environmental factors were the sole cause of the injury is subject to disciplinary action and criminal sanctions.

The DPW disagreed with IRRC’s recommendation. The DPW commented that the decision of whether or not the child is an abused child is the responsibility of the CYS agency which is responsible for taking into consideration environmental factors in determining whether or not the child is physically or mentally abused. The DPW expressed concern that IRRC’s suggestion would place the mandated reporter in the position of having to question the child and parents rather extensively to determine whether or not environmental factors were the cause for the abuse. The DPW views that result as contrary to one of the purposes of the CPSL which is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. Secondly, the DPW noted although some situations may not be abuse, there is often a need for other services which the CYS agency may be able to provide or arrange.

After a review of the comments, the Board has determined that no change to the definition should be made in final rulemaking.

In the Board’s view, a clear ambiguity exists as to whether or not the General Assembly intended the CYS agency to determine in either instance whether the exception would apply or whether the General Assembly intended mandated reporters to make the environmental factor determination.

Part V of Title 1 of the Pennsylvania Consolidated Statutes instructs that, in construing a statute, the primary purpose is to give effect to the intent of the General Assembly. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(a) (relating to legislative intent controls). In so doing, the practical results of a particular interpretation may be considered. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(6). Legislative intent may also be found in considering the occasion and necessity of the statute, the circumstances under which it was enacted, the objective to be attained, and Legislative and administrative interpretations of the statute. See 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(1), (2), (4) and (8).

The intention of the General Assembly is specifically spelled out in section 6302 of the CPSL. This section finds that abused children are in urgent need of an effective child protective service to prevent them from suffering further injury and impairment. One of the CPSL’s stated purposes is to encourage more complete reporting of suspected child abuse. A further purpose of the CPSL is to investigate reports swiftly and competently.

The purpose of the CPSL is to bring about quick and effective reporting of suspected child abuse and to serve as a means for providing protective services competently and to prevent further abuse of the children while providing rehabilitative services for them and the parents. See In Interest of J. R. W., 631 A.2d 1019 (Pa. Super. 1993). To accomplish this objective, the CPSL requires under the threat of criminal penalty, that health care professionals and others report suspected child abuse when they have reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of their professional training or experience, that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused child. The privileged communication between a professional person required to report and the patient or client of that person does not apply to situations involving child abuse and does not constitute grounds for failure to report as required. In turn, section 6318 of the CPSL, provides for immunity from liability for mandated reporters who participate in good faith in the making of a report and in cooperating with an investigation.

In construing this language, the appellate courts have held that the CPSL requires mandated reporters to immediately report suspected abuse. Courts have found that the urgency of prompt reporting is stressed throughout the provisions of the CPSL. Based on these findings, the courts have ruled that the CPSL may not envision any prereporting investigation conducted by mandated reporters, such as licensees of the Board, in order to give full effect to both a mandatory reporting provision and the immunity from liability. See Heinrich v. Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, 648 A.2d 53 (Pa. Super. 1994); Brozovich v. Circle C Group Homes, Inc., 548 A.2d 698 (Pa. Cmwlth. 1988).

To encourage reporting and give effect to the immunity provisions, mandated reporters should have specific criteria regarding the standards by which reporting should be made. To do so, a reporter should not have to question whether a reporting procedure should be followed. The practical consequences of a regulatory provision which would allow a mandated reporter to make an independent determination of the environmental factors are both a protracted time in filing reports and fewer reports made. It is also likely that there will be uncertainty as to the good faith immunity from liability for those persons who do report and uncertainty as to the nature and degree of inquiry or investigation prior to the determination to file a report.

The Board believes that the Legislative purpose of the amendments to encourage prompt reporting by protecting reporters from meritless lawsuits is furthered by a rule which allows the reporter to exercise his best professional judgment as to the condition of the child and to allow the CYS agencies to determine whether environmental factors are the sole cause of the child's condition. To adopt IRRC's position that a professional may determine whether environmental factors justify not reporting appears, on balance, to be contrary to the intent and stated purpose of the CPSL, the statutory scheme, and the purpose of the regulations.

Both IRRC and the DPW recommended that the Board use the definition of "serious mental injury" of the CPSL as "a psychological condition as diagnosed by a physician or licensed psychologist." As proposed, the Board would have defined "serious mental injury" as "a psychological condition, as diagnosed by a physician, licensed psychologist or licensed social worker." Based on a review of the CPSL and the Social Workers' Practice Act (63 P. S. §§ 1901—1922), the Board accepts the recommendation. It appears that under the CPSL, reporters, regardless of their statutory authority to render a diagnosis, have a duty to report when they have reasonable cause to suspect on the basis of their professional or other training and experience that a child coming before them in their professional capacity is an abused child. Therefore, a social worker who has reasonable cause to suspect, based on his training or experience that a psychological condition exists due to an act or the failure to act by a perpetrator, would have a reporting responsibility under both the CPSL and the Board's regulations.

§ 47.52. Mandated Reporting Requirements.

IRRC commented that proposed subsection (c) could be improved by restructuring the section to segregate the time frames for filing oral and written reports. The Board has adopted IRRC's suggested revised language.

Reporting requirements under § 47.52 provide licensed social workers with ready access to the statutory provisions of section 6313 of the CPSL. Proposed subsection (d) required written reports on forms prescribed by the DPW by regulation. IRRC suggested licensed social workers be informed as to how they could obtain forms. The Board has consulted with the DPW and inserted information in the textual form recommended by it. IRRC also suggested that the Board delete reference to DPW regulations which have not yet been promulgated. The Board concurs with the suggestion and has deleted this reference. IRRC also commented that subsection (d)(10), which mandates the reporting of information which the DPW may by regulation require, is vague and lacks specificity. This language is a statutory requirement and its inclusion parallels subsection (d)(1)—(9). Inclusion of the provisions of the CPSL pertaining to mandated reporters in the Board's regulations allows licensees ready access to statutory language. Therefore, no change in final rulemaking has been made.

§ 47.53. Photographs, Medical Tests and X-rays.

IRRC suggested an editorial change to § 47.53 (relating to photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report). The Board has made the change.

§ 47.52(b). Institutional Reporting Requirement.

IRRC also suggested an editorial change to the title of § 47.52(b) to more fully describe the entities covered by the section. IRRC's suggestion has been adopted in the final version.

§ 47.54. Suspected Death.

As proposed, § 47.54 (relating to suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirements) mirrored section 6317 of the CPSL (relating to mandatory reporting and post mortem investigation of deaths), which mandates reporting to the appropriate coroner when a mandated reporter has reasonable cause to suspect that a child has died as a result of child abuse.

IRRC suggested that the Board provide notice in the section to various provisions of the county codes which confer jurisdiction over coroner investigations to the situs of the death or the situs of the injury in the event death occurs in another county owing to a transfer for medical treatment.

The Board concurs with this suggestion and has added language to so notify licensed social workers.

Reporting by School Employees

A commentator suggested that licensing boards review the reporting requirements in the CPSL for public and private school employees in Subchapter C.1 of the CPSL (relating to students in public and private schools). The substance and procedure of filing mandatory reports is different for professional mandated reporters under section 6311 of the CPSL compared with school employe mandated reporters under section 6352 of the CPSL (relating to school employees).

IRRC commented that a serious gap exists in the proposal because it fails to address the licensee's duties when the licensee is a school employe because as a school employe, a licensed social worker would have: (a) a different standard to apply as to what must be reported; (b) a different standard as to who must be reported as to the suspected actor; and (c) different officials to whom reports must be made.

Owing to the substantial differences in the CPSL, IRRC recommended that the Board implement reporting requirements for licensees who are school employes in future proposed rulemaking. In reviewing this recommendation, the Board will continue to consult with the DPW concerning future proposed rulemaking covering school employes. Moreover, the Board has been informed that the Department of Education has issued an advisory bulletin informing schools that they are required to notify professional contractors or professional employes of their reporting obligations. Accordingly, the Board has agreed to defer further action on this issue in accordance with IRRC's suggestion.

E. Compliance with Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation

The Board reviewed this rulemaking and considered its purpose and likely impact upon the public and the regulated population under the directives of Executive Order 1996-1, Regulatory Review and Promulgation. The final regulations address a compelling public interest as described in this Preamble and otherwise comply with Executive Order 1996-1.

F. Fiscal Impact and Paperwork Requirements

1. Commonwealth—The regulations which provide for disciplinary action against a licensee who fails to make mandatory reports may cause an increase in disciplinary actions and hence may have a fiscal impact on the overall cost of Board operations. The net effect, however, is expected to be minimal because the 1994 amendments as they pertain to mandated reporters are intended to encourage compliance.

2. Political subdivisions—There should be no adverse fiscal impact or additional paperwork requirements on political subdivisions.

3. Private sector—The regulations may heighten awareness of licensed social workers as to the mandated reports required under the CPSL and may increase the number and completeness of filed reports, but should have no adverse fiscal impact.

G. Sunset Date

The Board continually monitors the effectiveness of its regulations through communications with the regulated population; accordingly, no sunset date has been set.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P. S. § 745.5(a)), the Board submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 26 Pa.B. 1053, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House Professional Licensure Committee and the Senate Consumer Protection and Professional Licensure Committee for review and comment. In compliance with section 5(b.1) of the Regulatory Review Act, the Board also provided IRRC and the Committees with copies of the comments received, as well as other documentation.

In preparing these final-form regulations the Board has considered the comments received from IRRC, the Committees, individual Legislators and the public.

These final-form regulations were approved by the House Committee on October 1, 1996, and approved by the Senate Committee on September 25, 1996. IRRC met on October 3, 1996, and approved the regulations in accordance with section 5(c) of the Regulatory Review Act.

J. Findings

The Board finds that:

(1) Public notice of proposed rulemaking was given under sections 201 and 202 of the act of July 31, 1968 (P. L. 769, No. 240) (45 P. S. §§ 1201 and 1202) and the regulations promulgated thereunder at 1 Pa. Code §§ 7.1 and 7.2.

(2) A public comment period was provided as required by law and all comments were considered.

(3) These amendments do not enlarge the purpose of proposed rulemaking published at 26 Pa.B. 1053.

(4) These amendments are necessary and appropriate for administration and enforcement of the authorizing acts identified in Part B of this Preamble.

K. Order

The Board, acting under its authorizing statutes, orders that:

(a) The regulations of the Board, 49 Pa. Code Chapter 47, are amended by adding §§ 47.51—47.57 to read as set forth in Annex A.

(b) The Board shall submit this order and Annex A to the Office of General Counsel and to the Office of Attorney General as required by law.

(c) The Board shall certify this order and Annex A and deposit them with the Legislative Reference Bureau as required by law.

(d) This order shall take effect on publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

(2) Where the suspected abuse occurred.

(3) The age and sex of the subjects of the report.

(4) The nature and extent of the suspected child abuse including any evidence of prior abuse to the child or siblings of the child.

(5) The name and relationship of the persons responsible for causing the suspected abuse, if known, and any evidence of prior abuse by those persons.

(6) Family composition.

(7) The source of the report.

(8) The person making the report and where that person can be reached.

(9) The actions taken by the reporting source, including the taking of photographs and X-rays, removal or keeping of the child or notifying the medical examiner or coroner.

§ 47.53. Photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report.

A licensed social worker may take or cause to be taken photographs of the child who is subject to a report and, if clinically indicated, cause to be performed a radiological examination and other medical tests on the child. Medical summaries or reports of the photographs, X-rays and relevant medical tests taken shall be sent to the county children and youth social service agency at the time the written report is sent or as soon thereafter as possible. § 47.55. Immunity from liability.

Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6318 (relating to immunity from liability) a licensed social worker who participates in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs shall have immunity from civil and criminal liability that might result by reason of the licensed social worker's actions. For the purpose of any civil or criminal proceeding, the good faith of the licensed social worker shall be presumed. The Board will uphold the same good faith presumption in any disciplinary proceeding that might result by reasons of a licensed social worker's actions in participating in good faith in the making of a report, cooperating with an investigation, testifying in a proceeding arising out of an instance of suspected child abuse or the taking of photographs.

§ 47.56. Confidentiality—waived.

To protect children from abuse, the reporting requirements of §§ 47.52—47.54 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) take precedence over the provisions of any client confidentiality, ethical principle or professional standard that might otherwise apply.

§ 47.57. Noncompliance.

(a) Disciplinary action. A licensed social worker who willfully fails to comply with the reporting requirements in §§ 47.52—47.54 (relating to suspected child abuse—mandated reporting requirements; photographs, medical tests and X-rays of child subject to report; and suspected death as a result of child abuse—mandated reporting requirement) will be subject to disciplinary action under section 11 of the act (63 P. S. § 1911).

(b) Criminal penalties. Under 23 Pa.C.S. § 6319 (relating to penalties for failure to report), a licensed social worker who is required to report a case of suspected child abuse who willfully fails to do so commits a summary offense for the first violation and a misdemeanor of the third degree for a second or subsequent violation.

Title 58—RECREATION

GAME COMMISSION

[58 PA. CODE CHS. 135, 141 and 143]

Lands and Buildings, Hunting and Trapping

To effectively manage the wildlife resources of this Commonwealth, the Game Commission (Commission), at its October 8, 1996, under the authority of 34 Pa.C.S. (relating to the Game and Wildlife Code) (code), adopted the following changes:

Amending § 135.48 (relative to State Game Lands) to provide additional recreational time to use specified roads on certain State Game Lands by individuals issued a Disabled Persons Permit under section 2923(a) of the code (relating to disabled person permits) and give those permitted individuals the opportunity to be accompanied by their properly licensed children.

Amending § 141.25 (relating to early and late goose hunting seasons) by removing the existing language in subsection (d) concerning the required permit since it no longer applies due to the issuance of the new migratory game bird license.

Amending Chapter 143 (relating to hunting and furtaking licenses) by the adding Subchapter J (relating to migratory game bird license). This new subchapter provides for the implementation of the new license authorized by the act.

Amendment to § 135.48

1. Introduction

During meetings held between representatives of the Commission and representatives of organizations of sportsmen with disabilities (Sportsmen), the Sportsmen requested changes to Commission regulations relating to disabled access to State Game Lands. After careful staff consideration of these requests, the Commission, at its June 25, 1996, meeting, proposed and at its October 8, 1996, meeting finally adopted an amendment changing § 135.48 relating to State Game Lands roads open to vehicular traffic for disabled persons, to permit additional access for sportsmen holding disabled permits. These changes are adopted under section 721(a) of the code (relating to control of property) and are consistent with the spirit of Title II of the Federal Americans with Disabilities Act.

2. Purpose and Authority

As was indicated in the Introduction, representatives of the Commission are regularly meeting with representatives of groups of sportsmen with disabilities to discuss matters of mutual concern. During one of these meetings, a request was made to open the designated roads on game lands prior to the hunting season to allow individuals holding disabled permits to scout for deer. At another meeting, a request was made to allow children, who cannot legally hunt alone, to accompany a disabled permit holder in addition to the one person currently authorized. After careful consideration, it was decided that both of these requests could be granted in the form of the proposed changes.

Section 721(a) of the code authorizes the Commission to promulgate regulations necessary to properly manage lands under its control. Section 2923 of the code provides for disabled person permits and allows individuals holding these permits to hunt from a vehicle.

3. Regulatory Requirements

Both of these changes relax current restrictions. Children accompanying a disabled permit holder would be required to hold a valid junior hunting or furtakers license.

4. Persons Affected

Individuals holding disabled person permits and their families will be affected by the changes.

5. Comment and Response

No written comments were received.

6. Cost and Paperwork Requirements

The changes will not involve an additional cost or paperwork.

Amendment to § 141.25

1. Introduction

By the act of April 4, 1996 (P. L. , No. 19) (Act 19), the General Assembly adopted changes to sections 102, 2705 and 2709 of the code (relating to definitions; classes of licenses; and license costs and fees) to provide for migratory game bird licenses. With the passage of Act 19, there is no longer a need for the special permit created for the early and late Canada goose seasons. As a result, the Commission at its meeting held on June 25, 1996, proposed and at its meeting held on October 8, 1996, finally adopted an amendment eliminating § 141.25(d). This action is being taken under section 2901(b) of the code (relating to regulations).

2. Purpose and Authority

The early and late Canada goose permit was created originally to obtain information with regard to goose harvests in the seasons involved. This information will now be obtained through return of survey cards completed as part of the migratory game bird license issuing process. The permit is therefore unnecessary and the Commission is proposing changes to the regulations to eliminate it. The permit was created under section 2901(b) of the code and is being eliminated under that same authority.

3. Regulatory Requirements

The change eliminates a requirement.

4. Persons Affected

Individuals hunting Canada geese in the early or late seasons will be affected.

5. Comments and Response

No written comments were received.

6. Cost and Paperwork Requirements

Current cost and paperwork requirements will be eliminated as a result of the change.

Amendment to Chapter 143

1. Introduction

By Act 19, the General Assembly adopted changes to sections 102, 2705 and 2709 of the code to provide for migratory game bird licenses. Section 2705(14) of the code specifically provides for such licenses to be “. . . subject to the regulations, requirements and conditions which the Commission shall establish.” At its meeting held on June 25, 1996, the Commission proposed and at its meeting held on October 8, 1996, finally adopted amendments adding Subchapter J relating to hunting and furtaker licenses, to provide for the implementing regulations.

2. Purpose and Authority

By final rule adopted by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service published in the Federal Register on August 18, 1995 (Vol. 60, No. 160), 50 CFR Part 20 was amended to provide for a Migratory Bird Harvest Information Program (Program). That regulation contemplated that the Commonwealth would start participating in the Program in 1996.

In order to implement the Commonwealth's participation in the Program, the General Assembly enacted Act 19, which changed the aforementioned sections of the code to provide for a migratory game bird license. Those revisions specifically contemplated the adoption by the Commission of implementing regulations. In addition, section 2721 of the code requires that license issuance be in accordance with regulations of the Commission. The amendments fulfill these purposes. In addition to providing procedures for the issuance of migratory game bird licenses, the amendments provide for submission of the survey cards required by the Federal program.

3. Regulatory Requirements

Act 19 requires the purchasing of a migratory game bird license in order to hunt migratory game birds. The amendments will provide detailed procedures and require return of the survey card under the Federal program.

4. Persons Affected

Individuals who wish to hunt migratory game birds in this Commonwealth and authorized hunting license issuing agents will be affected by the amendments.

5. Comments and Response

No written comments were received.

6. Cost and Paperwork Requirements

The only cost to the public for the migratory game bird license is 75¢ which is the hunting license issuing agent's fee. A simple application for the license and survey card would need to be completed prior to issuance. Hunting license issuing agents will be required to return completed survey cards directly to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service once per month. It is anticipated that costs of the program to the Commission will be approximately $59,000. The United States Fish and Wildlife Service should reimburse the Commission for all costs.

Effective Dates

These amendments are effective on final adoption and publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin and will remain in effect until changed by the Commission.

For further information on the amendments, contact James R. Fagan, Director, Bureau of Law Enforcement, 2001 Elmerton Avenue, Harrisburg, PA 17110-9797, (717) 783-6526.

Findings

The Commission finds that:

(1) Public notice of intention to adopt the administrative amendments adopted by this order has been given under sections 201 and 202 of the act of July 31, 1968 (P. L. 769, No. 240) (45 P.S. §§ 1201 and 1202) and the regulations thereunder, 1 Pa. Code §§ 7.1 and 7.2.

(2) The adoption of the amendments of the Commission in the manner provided in this order is necessary and appropriate for the administration and enforcement of the authorizing statute.

Order

The Commission, acting under authorizing statute, orders that:

(a) The regulations of the Commission, 58 Pa. Code Chapters 135, 141 and 143, are amended by amending §§ 135.48, 141.25 and adding §§ 143.181—143.188 to read as set forth at 26 Pa.B. 3645 (August 3, 1996).

(b) The Executive Director of the Commission shall certify this order and 26 Pa.B. 3645 and deposit them with the Legislative Reference Bureau as required by law.

(c) This order shall become effective upon final publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Game Lands and Goose Hunting

To effectively manage the wildlife resources of this Commonwealth, the Game Commission (Commission), at its October 8, 1996, meeting, proposed the following amendments:

Amend § 135.2 (relating to unlawful actions) to allow individuals permanently confined to wheelchairs to use electric powered wheelchairs on State Game Lands.

Amend § 141.25 (relating to early and late goose hunting seasons) by establishing new season dates with the guidelines approved by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and establishing new geographical boundaries for this season.

The amendments are made under 34 Pa. Code (relating to the Game and Wildlife Code) (code).

Proposed Amendment to § 135.2

1. Introduction

During meetings held between representatives of the Commission and representatives of organizations of sportsmen with disabilities (Sportsmen), the Sportsmen requested changes to Commission regulations relating to disabled access to State Game Lands. After careful staff consideration of these requests, the Commission, at its October 8, 1996, meeting, proposed changing § 135.2, relating to unlawful acts on State Game Lands, to permit additional access for Sportsmen permanently confined to wheelchairs. This change is adopted under section 721(a) of the code (relating to control of property) and is consistent with the spirit of Title II of the Federal Americans with Disabilities Act.

2. Purpose and Authority

As was indicated in the Introduction paragraph of this Preamble, representatives of the Commission are regularly meeting with representatives of groups of sportsmen with disabilities to discuss matters of mutual concern. During one meeting, a request was made to allow wheelchairs on State Game Lands. After staff consideration, it was decided that individuals permanently confined to wheelchairs could be permitted on game lands in electric wheelchairs without excessive damage to wildlife and wildlife habitat.

Section 721(a) of the code authorizes the Commission to promulgate regulations necessary to properly manage lands under its control. Section 2923 of the code (relating to disabled person permits) provides for disabled person permits and allows individuals holding these permits to hunt from a vehicle.

3. Regulatory Requirements

The proposed change relaxes current restrictions. Individuals taking advantage of this change must be permanently confined to a wheelchair and use an electric powered wheelchair.

4. Persons Affected

Individuals permanently confined to wheelchairs will be affected by the change.

5. Cost and Paperwork

The proposed change would not involve additional cost or paperwork.

6. Effective Dates

The proposed change would be effective on final adoption and publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin and would remain in effect until changed by the Commission.

Proposed Amendment to § 141.25

1. Introduction

To more effectively manage the wildlife resources of the Commonwealth, the Commission at its October 8, 1996, meeting proposed updating § 141.25 relating to early and late goose hunting seasons for 1997. The proposed change would provide for a late Canada goose hunting season from January 15 through February 15, 1997, in most of this Commonwealth with the exception of parts of the northwestern and southeastern regions.

These special seasons, which were originally adopted under sections 322(c)(1) and 2102(b)(1) of the code (relating to powers and duties of Commission; and regulations) would be established with the approval of the Atlantic Waterfowl Council (AWC) and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS). The primary purpose of the early and late seasons is to reduce resident Canada goose populations which should reduce crop damage and nuisance goose complaints.

2. Purpose and Authority

Resident Canada goose populations have been increasing in most of this Commonwealth since the 1970's. Associated with these increases have been increases in crop damage and nuisance complaints. The Commission has sought to direct harvest pressure at growing resident goose populations through longer seasons and larger bag limits. At the same time, the USFWS has closed the regular goose season because of concerns about migratory populations.

The early and late Canada goose seasons allowed in prior years were successful in harvesting nuisance geese and providing additional recreational opportunities. This solution to the nuisance resident goose problem can only work over a period of time, however. That is why the Commission has proposed a late season for 1997. Part of northwestern Pennsylvania has been excluded from the late season because the USFWS has allowed a regular goose season. Part of southeastern Pennsylvania has been excluded by the USFWS because of a concern that a high percentage of migratory geese may be harvested.

Section 322 of the code specifically empowers the Commission to "... fix seasons ... and daily, season, and possession limits for any species of game or wildlife." Section 2102(b) of the code mandates that the Commission promulgate regulations relating to seasons and bag limits. The authority for the permit aspects of the proposed amendment is section 2901(b) of the code (relating to authority to issue permits).

3. Regulatory Requirements

The proposed change would not involve regulatory requirements exceeding what is already in § 141.25. A migratory game bird license would be required to hunt Canada geese in the late season.

4. Persons Affected

Persons wishing to hunt Canada geese in this Commonwealth in the late season would be affected by this amendment. Farmers and others experiencing crop and other goose damage in the affected area would benefit from the reduction in populations.

5. Cost and Paperwork Requirements

There would be no additional cost or paperwork.

6. Effective Dates

(Editor's Note: A document amending § 141.25, which is proposed to be amended in this document, appears at 26 Pa.B. 5440 (November 9, 1996).)

tol Act (52 P. S. §§ 30.51—30.66); The Bituminous Mine Subsidence and Land Conservation Act (52 P. S. §§ 1406.1—1406.21). Mining activity permits issued in response to such applications will also address the applicable permitting requirements of the following statutes: the Air Pollution Control Act (35 P. S. §§ 4001—4015); the Dam Safety and Encroachments Act (32 P. S. §§ 693.1—693.27); and the Solid Waste Management Act (35 P. S. §§ 6018.101—6018.1003).

The following permit applications to conduct mining activities have been received by the Department of Environmental Protection. A copy of the application is available for inspection at the District mining office indicated above each application. Where a 401 water quality certification is needed for any aspect of a particular proposed mining activity, the submittal of the permit application will serve as the request for such certification.

Written comments or objections, or requests for informal conferences on applications, may be submitted by any person or any officer or head of any Federal, State or local government agency or authority to the Department at the same address within 30 days of this publication, or within 30 days after the last publication of the applicant's newspaper advertisement, as provided by 25 Pa. Code §§ 77.121—77.123 and 86.31—86.34 (relating to public notices of filing of permit applications, opportunity for comment, and informal conferences).

Where any of the mining activities listed below will have discharges of wastewater to streams, the Department will incorporate NPDES permits into the mining activity permits issued in response to these applications. Such NPDES permits will contain, at a minimum, technology-based effluent limitations (as described in the Department's regulations—25 Pa. Code §§ 77.522, 87.102, 88.92, 88.187, 88.242, 89.52 and 90.102) for iron, manganese, suspended solids, settleable solids, alkalinity and pH. In addition to the above, more restrictive effluent limitations, restrictions on discharge volume or restrictions on the extent of mining which may occur will be incorporated into a mining activity permit when necessary for compliance with water quality standards (in accordance with 25 Pa. Code Chs. 93 and 95). Persons or agencies which have requested review of the NPDES permit requirements for a particular mining activity within the above-mentioned public comment period will be provided with a 30-day period to review and submit comments on those requirements.

Written comments or objections should contain the name, address and telephone number of persons submitting comments or objections, application number and a statement of sufficient detail to inform the Department on the basis of comment or objection and relevant facts upon which it is based. Requests for an informal conference must contain the name, address and telephone number of requestor, application number, a brief summary of the issues to be raised by the requestor at the conference and a statement whether the requestor desires to have the conference conducted in the locality of the proposed mining activities.

Submission of Final Reports on Attainment of Background and Statewide Health Standards (Sections 302(e)(2) and 303(h)(2)).

The following final reports were submitted to the Department of Environmental Protection under the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (35 P. S. §§ 6026.101—6026.908).

Provisions of Chapter 3 of the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (act) require the Department of Environmental Protection to publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a notice of submission of any final reports. A final report is submitted to document cleanup of a release of a regulated substance at a site to one of the act's remediation standards. A final report provides a description of the site investigation to characterize the nature and extent of contaminants in environmental media, the basis for selecting the environmental media of concern, documentation supporting the selection of residential or nonresidential exposure factors, a description of the remediation performed, and summaries of sampling methodology and analytical results which demonstrate that the remediation has attained the cleanup standard selected.

For further information concerning the final report, please contact the Environmental Cleanup Program in the Department of Environmental Protection Regional Office under which the notice of receipt of a final report appears. If information concerning a final report is required in an alternative form, contact the community relations coordinator at the appropriate Regional Office listed. TDD users may telephone the Department through the AT&T Relay Service at 1 (800) 654-5984.

The Department has received the following final report:

Southcentral Regional Office, Environmental Cleanup Program Manager, One Ararat Boulevard, Harrisburg, PA 17110, (717) 657-4592.

Notice of Settlement Under the Hazardous Sites Cleanup Act

Industrial Solvents and Chemical Company
Newberry Township, York County

The Department of Environmental Protection (Department), under the authority of the Hazardous Sites Cleanup Act (HSCA) (35 P. S. §§ 6020.101—6020.1305), has entered into a proposed consent order and agreement with a group of Potentially Responsible Parties (the PRP Group) regarding work to be performed at the Industrial Solvents and Chemical Company (ISCC) site. The ISCC site is a 9-acre parcel of land in Newberry Township, York County, adjacent to Interstate 83. The surrounding area is primarily rural, although residential, commercial and industrial developments are located within a close vicinity of the site. A number of private residential wells have been contaminated by hazardous substances migrating from the ISCC site.

ISCC was involved in the reprocessing of used solvents. Because of violations of hazardous waste requirements, the Department on July 6, 1989, terminated ISCC's authority to operate a hazardous waste treatment and storage facility. The site was abandoned in 1990 when ISCC declared bankruptcy. A total of 996 parties potentially responsible for the hazardous substances located at the ISCC site were identified by the Department.

Because of the threat to human health and the environment posed by the ISCC site, the site was placed on the Pennsylvania Priority List for Remedial Response on October 26, 1991. The Department and a group of approximately 136 cooperating Potentially Responsible Parties have conducted a number of interim actions at the site to address the release or threat of release of hazardous substances. To date, the Department has incurred costs of approximately $3 million to implement and/or oversee these interim actions. A final remedial action for the groundwater and soil at the ISCC site will be selected by the Department and implemented in the future.

Under the terms of the proposed consent order and agreement, the PRP Group will provide connection to a public water supply to certain parcels with impacted groundwater. The work to be performed will comply with the Statement of Decision signed by the Department on May 23, 1996 (see 25 Pa.B. 5779 (December 16, 1995)).

This notice is provided under section 1113 of HSCA (35 P. S. § 6020.1113). This section provides that the settlement will become final upon the filing of the Department's response to any significant written comments. The proposed consent order and agreement that contains the specific terms of the settlement is available for public review and comment. The proposed consent order and agreement can be examined from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Department's office at One Ararat Boulevard, Harrisburg, PA 17110, by contacting Barbara Faletti at (717) 657-4592. A public comment period on the proposed consent order and agreement will extend for 60 days from today's date. Persons may submit written comments regarding the proposed consent order and agreement to the Department by January 9, 1997, by submitting them to Barbara Faletti at the above address.

No Cost Government Financed Reclamation Contracts Issued

The Ebensburg District Mining Office for the Department of Environmental Protection awarded a No Cost Government Financed Reclamation Contract to PBS Coals, Inc. on October 16, 1996, that will result in the removal and reclamation of 6.3 acres of coal refuse in Shade Township Somerset County, receiving stream Coal Run to Dark Shade Creek and unnamed tributary to Coal Run, application received November 27, 1995. Under the terms of the contract no reprocessing of the coal refuse may take place and no coal refuse materials may be returned to the site once removed. The contract requires total reclamation and revegetation of the project area. This project was made possible under a new program developed by DEP which allows for expedited removal and reclamation of old coal refuse piles which are generally eyesores as well as major sources of siltation and pollution to the streams of the Commonwealth.

The Department of Environmental Protection (Department) has taken the following actions on previously received permit applications, requests for Environmental Assessment Approval, and requests for Water Quality Certification under section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C.A. § 1341(a)).

Availability of Technical Guidance

Governor's Office List

Once a year on the first Saturday in August, the Governor's Office publishes a list of the nonregulatory guidance documents of all State agencies in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. The first publication of this list was in the August 3, 1996 edition of the Bulletin.

DEP's Technical Guidance Document Inventory

DEP publishes a list of its technical guidance documents in its Technical Guidance Document Inventory twice a year. The most recent Inventory was published June 1996. This Inventory is also posted on DEP's World Wide Web page. DEP's Web address is <http://www.dep.state.pa.us>. To go to the location of the Inventory once on the DEP home page, persons should choose Public Participation Center/Recently Finalized Regulations and Legislation/Technical Guidance Document Inventory (6/12/96).

Persons who have any questions or comments should call Nina Huizinga at (717) 783-8727.

Draft Technical Guidance

DEP ID: 383-3310-109 Title: Pennsylvania Drinking Water Information System (PADWIS) Inventory User's Manual Background: The computerized inventory of regulated public water supplies has changed from a batch system on a contractor's computer with paper forms providing data entry to a user-friendly, on-line SAS application on the Department's DEC computer. Also, numerous enhancements have been made to the inventory in response to program and user needs. The inventory user's manual is being revised accordingly. Deadline for Submittal of Comments: December 1, 1996 Contact: Barry Greenawald at (717) 772-4018.

Notice of Intent to Revise Technical Guidance—Revisions to Existing Guidance

Revisions to the Bureau of Water Quality Management's Technical Guidance

As part of DEP's Regulatory Basics Initiative, the Bureau reviewed all of its regulations and technical guidance. Where the Bureau proposes to revise a regulation and this revision will affect technical guidance, the Bureau will revise the guidance after the regulation has been changed. Where the Bureau proposes revisions to the guidance documents unrelated to changes in regulations, the Bureau anticipates the revisions to be completed by December 31, 1996. Persons who have questions about any of these documents should contact Lou Bercheni at (717) 787-4317.

DEP ID: 361-2000-002 Title: Evaluation & Process Thermal Discharges [316(a)] Federal Water Pollution Control Act Background: The document needs to be revised to reflect organizational changes in the Department and other resource agencies, and to conform to format requirements.

DEP ID: 361-2000-003 Title: Determining Water Quality Based Point Source Effluent Limits Background: The current document is (in some cases) redundant with other existing guidances and also lacks clarity because of the unrelated nature of many of the appendices.

DEP ID: 362-2000-001 Title: Permitting Background: Sections of the document addressing discharges to special protection waters and with reasons for denying issuance of an NPDES permit are based on regulations (Chapters 92 and 905) identified for revision as more stringent than Federal regulations. A section of the document which deals with permitting experimental treatment systems is based on a regulation (Chapter 91) identified for revisions as being prescriptive. These sections will be revised to conform to revisions to the regulations.

DEP ID: 362-2000-003 Title: Policy for Permitting Surface Water Diversions Background: Sections of the document relating to discharges to special protection waters, classification of all waters in the Commonwealth as potable water sources, and to parameters listed as necessary to protect water quality are based on regulations (Chapters 93 and 95) identified as more stringent than Federal regulations. Sections of the document requiring the use of Q7-10 flow for modeling are based on a regulation (Chapter 93) identified as being prescriptive. Similarly, sections of the document related to permitting discharges to special protection waters are based on a regulation (Chapter 95) identified as prescriptive. These sections will be revised to conform to revisions to the regulations. In addition, the Policy may be judged to impose disproportionate costs by requiring a permit for a diversion; however, a permit is required by a 1986 Commonwealth Court decision. Therefore, the policy should be retained.

DEP ID: 362-2183-001 Title: Technical Guidance for Permitting Landfill Leachate Discharges Background: Sections of the document dealing with classification of special protection waters, application of secondary treatment requirements, and grounds for denial of NPDES permits are based on regulations (Chapters 92 and 95) identified as being more stringent than Federal regulations. A section which sets out the policy for permitting discharges to special protection waters is based on a regulation (Chapter 95) identified as being prescriptive. The document is also prescriptive and inhibits green technologies in that it sets out specific treatment technologies to be used to meet the effluent limitations. The recommendation of specific technologies can be deleted from the document without a change in regulations. The remaining revisions will be made to conform to revisions in the regulations.

DEP ID: 362-2183-002 Title: Pollution Discharge Elimination/Petroleum Marketing Terminals Background: A section of the document for limiting discharges of oil and grease is based on a regulation (Chapter 97) identified as being more stringent than Federal regulations. However the Bureau has recommended retaining the regulation as written. If the regulation is changed, this document will also be changed. Another section of the document is based on a regulation (Chapter 97) identified as prescriptive and inhibiting green technologies. The regulation has been recommended for deletion. If the regulation is deleted, this document will be revised.

DEP ID: 362-2183-003 Title: Technology-Based Control Requirements for Water Treatment Plant Wastes Background: Sections of the document dealing with discharges to special protection waters, total residual chlorine discharges, and application of secondary treatment are based on a regulation (Chapter 95) identified as more stringent than Federal regulations. This document will be revised to conform to any revision to the regulation.

DEP ID: 362-2206-001 Title: Review and Coordination of Chapter 94 Reports and Act 537 Planning Background: This document needs to be updated to reflect changes as a result of Act 149 revisions to the Sewage Facilities Act. It also needs reformatting, including a new cover page.

DEP ID: 364-2207-004 Title: Impact/Subsurface Disposal on Ground Water Nitrate-Nitrogen Levels Background: This guidance needs to be revised to incorporate new technology into the list of available options. The document must also be reformatted.

DEP ID: 364-2208-002 Title: Municipal Guidance—Reconstructive Planning Background: This guidance must be revised as a result of the passage of Act 149 of 1994. In addition, formatting changes are needed.

(2) With the aid of mechanical or automatic drawing equipment, ten container codes will be selected. The codes will determine the containers from which the ten finalists' tickets will be ultimately selected. One winning finalist ticket will be drawn from the first container selected. One winning ticket will then be selected from the second selected container and this procedure will be repeated until ten finalists have been selected for each Grand Prize Drawing.

(2) The smaller wheel will contain designated amounts of $1 million—annuity, $100,000, $75,000 and $50,000.

(3) The wheels will be spun and when the wheels stop, the name of the finalist on the larger wheel will be identified as the Grand Prize Drawing winner and will be entitled to the prize indicated on the smaller wheel.

(4) The nine finalists whose names remain will receive a consolation prize of $5,000 each.

(5) The Grand Prize Drawing winner shall receive the amount indicated, and if that amount is the top grand prize of an annuity worth $1 million, that prize will be payable in 20 equal annual installments of $50,000. The payment of a top grand prize to a person who dies before receiving a prize or to a person 17 years of age or younger shall be paid according to 61 Pa. Finding

Clarion County

Under the provisions of section 2002(b) of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 512(b)), the Secretary of Transportation makes the following written finding:

The Department of Transportation (DOT) plans to replace the existing bridge carrying S. R. 28 over Redbank Creek in South Bethlehem Borough, Armstrong County and New Bethlehem Borough, Clarion County.

The project consists of the construction of a new three-lane bridge on a slight curve to replace the existing two-lane bridge, reconstruction of the intersection of S. R. 28 and Liberty Street in New Bethlehem Borough, and reconstruction of the intersection of S. R. 28 and S. R. 839 in South Bethlehem Borough.

The project will require the acquisition of the Craig House, which has been determined to be a contributing element of the National Register Eligible New Bethlehem Historic District. The effect of the project on the New Bethlehem Historic District will be mitigated by the following measures to minimize harm to the resource:

Prior to the demolition of the Craig House, which is a contributing element in the New Bethlehem Historic District, DOT will contact the Historical and Museum Commission (HMC) to determine what type and level of recordation is required for the property. Unless otherwise agreed to by the HMC, DOT will ensure that all documentation is completed and accepted by the HMC prior to demolition, and that copies of this documentation will be provided to HMC and the New Bethlehem Public Library.

The environmental, economic, social and other effects of the proposed project as enumerated in section 2002, subsection 18(b) of The Administrative Code of 1929 have been considered, and it is concluded that there is no feasible and prudent alternative to the project as designed, and that all reasonable steps have been taken to minimize such effect.

No adverse environmental effect is likely to result from the construction of this section of highway.

General Requirements and Information

Firms interested in performing any of the above services are invited to submit letters of interest to: Director, Consultant Selection Committee, Room 1118, Transportation and Safety Building, Harrisburg, PA 17120.

A separate letter of interest and required forms must be submitted for each project for which the applicant wishes to be considered. The letter of interest and required forms must be received within 13 calendar days of this notice. The deadline for receipt of a letter of interest at the above address is 4:30 p.m. of the thirteenth day.

If the project advertisement indicates that the Department will retain an engineering firm, letters of interest will only be accepted from individuals, firms or corporations duly authorized to engage in the practice of engineering. If an individual, firm or corporation not authorized to engage in the practice of engineering desires to submit a letter of interest, said individual, firm or corporation may do so as part of a joint venture with an individual, firm or corporation which is permitted under State law to engage in the practice of engineering.

If a Joint Venture responds to a project advertisement, the Department of Transportation will not accept separate Expressions of Interest from the Joint Venture constituents. A firm will not be permitted to submit on more than one Joint Venture for the same project advertisement. Also a firm that responds to a project advertisement as a prime may not be included as a designated subcontractor to another firm that responds as a prime to the project advertisement. Multiple responses under any of the foregoing situations will cause the rejection of all responses of the firm or firms involved. The above does not preclude a firm from being set forth as a designated subcontractor to more than one prime responding to the project advertisement.

If a goal for Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) participation is established for an advertised project, firms expressing interest in the project must agree to ensure that Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) firms as defined in the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 and currently certified by the Department of Transportation shall have the maximum opportunity to participate in any subcontracting or furnishing supplies or services approved under Form 442, Section 1.10(a). The act requires that firms owned and controlled by women (WBEs) be included, as a presumptive group, within the definition of Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE). The goal for DBE participation shall be as stated in the individual project advertisement. Responding firms shall make good faith efforts to meet the DBE goal using DBEs (as they were defined prior to the act), WBEs or combinations thereof. Proposed DBE firms must be certified at the time of submission of the letter of interest. If the selected firm fails to meet the goal established, it shall be required to demonstrate its good faith efforts to attain the goal. Failure to meet the goal and to demonstrate good faith efforts may result in being barred from Department contracts in the future.

Responses are encouraged by small engineering firms, disadvantaged business enterprise engineering firms and other engineering firms who have not previously performed work for the Department of Transportation.

Each letter of interest must include in the heading, the firm's Federal Identification Number and the Project Reference Number indicated in the advertisement. The letter of interest must also include the following:

1. Standard Form 255, "Architect-Engineer and Related Services Questionnaire for Specific Project."

2. Standard Form 254, "Architect-Engineer and Related Services Questionnaire" not more than 1 year old as of the date of this advertisement, must accompany each letter of interest for the firm, each party to a joint venture and for each subconsultant the firm or joint venture is proposing to use for the performance of professional services regardless of whether the subconsultant is an individual, a college professor or a company. Please disregard the statements on Standard Form 255 that indicate a Standard Form 254 is only required if not already on file with the contracting office. The Department does not maintain a file for Standard Form 254 for contracting purposes; therefore, this Form is required for the prime consultant and each subconsultant as stated above.

3. Two copies of the Department's Form D-427 (Rev. 6-89), "Current Workload" for the firm submitting the letter of interest. At least one copy of Form D-427 must remain free and not bound in any way to any other portion of the letter of interest or accompanying documentation. Copies of Form D-427 are available upon request from the above address or by contacting the Department's Consultant Agreement Division at (717) 783-9309.

4. Firms with out-of-State headquarters or corporations not incorporated in Pennsylvania must include with each letter of interest a copy of their registration to do business in the Commonwealth as provided by the Department of State. Firms who are not registered to do business in Pennsylvania at the time of this advertisement must document that they have applied for registration to the Department of State, Corporation Bureau. The telephone number for the Corporation Bureau is (717) 787-1057 or (717) 787-2004.

The Standard Form 255 must be filled out in its entirety including Item No. 6 listing the proposed subconsultants and the type of work or service they will perform on the project. If a Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) goal is specified for the project, the DBE must be presently certified by the Department of Transportation, and the name of the firm and the work to be performed must be indicated in Item 6. If a Women Business Enterprise (WBE) firm is substituted for the DBE, the WBE firm must also be presently certified by the Department of Transportation and indicated in Item 6.

The Standard Form 254 must be signed and dated and must be less than 1 year old as of the date of this advertisement. A Standard Form must accompany each letter of interest for the firm submitting the letter of interest, each party to a joint venture, and for each subconsultant shown under Item 6 of the Standard Form 255.

Unless other factors are identified under the individual project reference number, the following factors, listed in their order of importance, will be considered by the Committee during their evaluation of the firms submitting letters of interest:

a. Specialized experience and technical competence of firm.

b. Past record of performance with respect to cost control, work quality, and ability to meet schedules. The specific experience of individuals who constitute the firms shall be considered.

c. Current workload and capacity of firm to perform the work within the time limitations.

d. Location of consultant.

e. Special requirements of the project.

f. Other factors, if any, specific to the project.

The Department currently limits its participation in the remuneration of principals or consultant employees performing work on projects to $72,800 per annum or $35 per hour or their actual audited remuneration, whichever is less. The Department currently limits its participation in the consultant's indirect payroll costs (overhead) on design and miscellaneous projects to 130% of the direct payroll cost or the consultant's actual audited overhead rate, whichever is less. The Department currently limits its participation in the consultant's indirect payroll costs (overhead) on construction inspection projects to 85.2% of the direct payroll cost or the consultant's actual audited overhead rate, whichever is less. The Department's limitations will apply to the projects advertised above unless the Department policy is revised prior to the negotiation of an agreement or contract.

The assignment of the above services will be made to one of the firms responding to this notice, but the Committee reserves the right to reject all letters of interest submitted, to cancel the solicitations requested under this notice, and/or to readvertise solicitation for these services.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEARING BOARD

Antrim Mining, Inc. v. DEP; EHB Doc. Nos. 89-056-F, 89-184-F, 90-536-F, 91-290-F

The Department of Environmental Protection (Department) and Antrim Mining, Inc. (Antrim) have agreed to an amendment of the settlement in the above matters. The original settlement agreement dated December 31, 1991 was approved by the Environmental Hearing Board by an order dated January 14, 1992. The original agreement required, among other things, that Antrim use a treatment system described in the agreement to provide permanent treatment for two deep mine discharges located in Duncan Township, Tioga County. The agreement further provided that any amendments to the agreement must be set out in writing, signed by the parties, and approved by the Environmental Hearing Board. The parties have agreed to amend the settlement agreement to allow Antrim to modify the deep mine discharge treatment system in a manner that will simplify the system and reduce the amount of energy used in the treatment process. The major provisions of the amendment include:

1. Antrim will submit an application to the Department to amend the permit pertaining to the treatment of the deep mine discharges (NPDES Permit No. PA0596728).

2. If Antrim submits the permit amendment application and modifies the permanent treatment system in a timely manner, the effluent limits, monitoring requirements and requirements pertaining to maintenance of the modified system and emergency treatment shall be as specified in the amendment to the settlement agreement.

3. The date upon which Antrim must begin funding a trust to ensure long-term treatment of the two deep mine discharges is extended from December 31, 1996 to December 31, 1998. The period over which Antrim may fund the trust is extended from 8 years to 10 years. These extensions do not alter Antrim's obligation to provide treatment for the two deep mine discharges.

4. The method for calculating the corpus of the trust is modified to take into account any changes in the cost of treatment associated with the modification of the permanent treatment system.

5. The provisions governing release of reclamation bonds are modified to correspond to the extension of the period for funding the trust, so that each annual payment by Antrim into the trust results in the release of a proportionate amount of the remaining bonds.

Copies of the amendment to the settlement agreement are in the possession of:

Stephen C. Braverman, Esquire, Buchanan Ingersoll, P. C., 1200 Two Logan Square, 18th and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, PA 19103-6933, (215) 665-8700;

Kurt J. Weist, Assistant Counsel, DEP, 400 Market Street, 9th Floor, P. O. Box 8464, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8464, (717) 787-8790; and at the office of the Environmental Hearing Board, and may be reviewed by any interested party on request during normal business hours.

Persons who are aggrieved by the above settlement have a right to appeal to the Environmental Hearing Board, Second Floor, Rachel Carson State Office Building, 400 Market Street, P. O. Box 8457, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8457.

Appeals shall be filed within 20 days of this publication.

The Environmental Hearing Board is empowered to approve this settlement, which becomes final if no objection is timely made.

Products Registered by Manufacturers as Malt or Brewed Beverages

The Liquor Control Board publishes the following list to identify those products that have been registered by their manufacturers as "malt or brewed beverages" under Liquor Code section 445 (47 P. S. § 4-445). "Malt or brewed beverages" are defined as "any beer, lager beer, ale, porter or similar fermented malt beverage containing one-half of one per centum or more of alcohol by volume," (47 P. S. § 1-102).

The fact that a given product is not found on this list does not mean it is not a "malt or brewed beverage" as that term is used in the Liquor Code.

Chairperson
