4-1-1988

The Mocket, April 1988

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.law.villanova.edu/docket

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.law.villanova.edu/docket/139

This 1987-1988 is brought to you for free and open access by the Historical Archives at Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Docket by an authorized administrator of Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law Digital Repository.
A shocked Lou Sirico, head of Villanova Security has thus far been at a loss to explain the tragic mishap. The Villanova Legal Writing Program today still feels the tremors from the localized earthquake that struck just outside of Garey Hall earlier this semester. In the tragic mishap, a Villanova legal writing professor, Dr. Karen Garey, asserts: "We've done everything we can. We've driven the VLS Legal Writing Program, Officer Obie, who was in the parking lot guard building at the time of the accident, adds: "Tuition is cheaper, the schools receive state aid, and we'd be ranked in the top quartile," said one source close to the Porter case. Meanwhile, VLS administration officials are scrambling to forward the resumes they (200 Clubbers) have been putting in the resumes of candidates who this year began ordering the release of less violent prisoners to alleviate overcrowded prison conditions. "We're not going to bow to the requests of those liberal judges," he said. "This is America after all. If they want to release prisoners, let them do it."

Calumet classmate, Barry Bottomclass, Disgusted with the dearth of services rendered them by the Placement Office and their overall "second class" treatment vis-a-vis their colleagues here, members of the "200 Club" have voted to secede from the rest of the student body and transfer en masse to one of the nearby law schools. The only question now is which school. Temple and Delaware are two schools vying for the VLS "200 Club". Meanwhile, VLS administration officials are scrambling to persuade the group not to leave. "Their departure would cause a furor with those students at the top of the class who we do care about," confident one source close to the Dean's office. "Besides," he added, "someone's got to be at the bottom. That's what makes those at the top feel superior."

For its part, the Placement Office is promising to "go to bat" for a group it has long regarded as the school stepchild. "We're going to get in the trenches with Temple and Delaware and start schmoozing smaller firms the way we do larger ones," said one office worker. "We're starting to send out the resumes to firms the way we do large ones," said one office worker. "We're starting to send out the resumes to those firms who have long regarded us as the school stepchild."

Next in the Mocket:
Law Review Blockbuster:
Common Law Origins of The Infield Fly Rule
Past Indiscretions That Would Keep Selected Faculty Members Off the Supreme Court
Alternative Dispute Resolution:
Prof. Perritt Goes At It With Gorbachev
Student Lounge Captures Architectural Digest Award

THE VILLANOVA SCHOOL OF LAW
April 1, 1988
Vol. XXIV, No. 7

Students to Secess

by Barry Bottomclass

Disgusted with the dearth of services rendered them by the Placement Office and their overall "second class" treatment vis-a-vis their colleagues here, members of the "200 Club" have voted to secede from the rest of the student body and transfer en masse to one of the nearby law schools. The only question now is which school. Temple and Delaware are two schools vying for the VLS "200 Club". Meanwhile, VLS administration officials are scrambling to persuade the group not to leave. "Their departure would cause a furor with those students at the top of the class who we do care about," confident one source close to the Dean's office. "Besides," he added, "someone's got to be at the bottom. That's what makes those at the top feel superior."

For its part, the Placement Office is promising to "go to bat" for a group it has long regarded as the school stepchild. "We're going to get in the trenches with Temple and Delaware and start schmoozing smaller firms the way we do larger ones," said one office worker. "We're starting to send out the resumes to firms the way we do large ones," said one office worker. "We're starting to send out the resumes to those firms who have long regarded us as the school stepchild."

Not 'Frankino's Fault'

by M.I. Surprised

The Villanova Legal Writing Program today still feels the tremors from the localized earthquake that struck just outside of Garey Hall earlier this semester. In the tragic mishap, a Villanova legal writing professor, Dr. Karen Garey, asserts: "We've done everything we can. We've driven the VLS Legal Writing Program, Officer Obie, who was in the parking lot guard building at the time of the accident, adds: "Tuition is cheaper, the schools receive state aid, and we'd be ranked in the top quartile," said one source close to the Porter case. Meanwhile, VLS administration officials are scrambling to forward the resumes they (200 Clubbers) have been putting in the resumes of candidates who this year began ordering the release of less violent prisoners to alleviate overcrowded prison conditions. "We're not going to bow to the requests of those liberal judges," he said. "This is America after all. If they want to release prisoners, let them do it."

Calumet classmate, Barry Bottomclass, Disgusted with the dearth of services rendered them by the Placement Office and their overall "second class" treatment vis-a-vis their colleagues here, members of the "200 Club" have voted to secede from the rest of the student body and transfer en masse to one of the nearby law schools. The only question now is which school. Temple and Delaware are two schools vying for the VLS "200 Club". Meanwhile, VLS administration officials are scrambling to persuade the group not to leave. "Their departure would cause a furor with those students at the top of the class who we do care about," confident one source close to the Dean's office. "Besides," he added, "someone's got to be at the bottom. That's what makes those at the top feel superior."

For its part, the Placement Office is promising to "go to bat" for a group it has long regarded as the school stepchild. "We're going to get in the trenches with Temple and Delaware and start schmoozing smaller firms the way we do larger ones," said one office worker. "We're starting to send out the resumes to firms the way we do large ones," said one office worker. "We're starting to send out the resumes to those firms who have long regarded us as the school stepchild."

Students to Secess

by Barry Bottomclass

Disgusted with the dearth of services rendered them by the Placement Office and their overall "second class" treatment vis-a-vis their colleagues here, members of the "200 Club" have voted to secede from the rest of the student body and transfer en masse to one of the nearby law schools. The only question now is which school. Temple and Delaware are two schools vying for the VLS "200 Club". Meanwhile, VLS administration officials are scrambling to persuade the group not to leave. "Their departure would cause a furor with those students at the top of the class who we do care about," confident one source close to the Dean's office. "Besides," he added, "someone's got to be at the bottom. That's what makes those at the top feel superior."

For its part, the Placement Office is promising to "go to bat" for a group it has long regarded as the school stepchild. "We're going to get in the trenches with
The paper Chase

This world is already in one hell of a mess, and what are you doing about it? Did you ever really ask yourself that? Why are you in law school at all? Just so you can afford your Air Jordans for hoops and Fusen Glade for scoops? Here's how you can get your little buns in designer jeans, park your BMW, and park your BMW in the condo garage. Just so you can slave to

"I hardly ever hit the books, and when I do, I usually just slap them with an open hand to keep them in line."

Fondue Process

You can't just throw anything into a fondue, and you definitely can't just throw a fondue into anything. For instance, fondues travel poorly in thermoses. And if you try adding cornflakes to a fondue, this above all never, veufelina in a fancy fondue pot, you'll simply be planning on feeding it to the dog, or that woman with the hairstyle you keep getting your hands on. No dice, just isn't cutting the cheese, take two.

Mountain Dew Process

Hey, getta load of those great-looking blond kids on skateboards, they're exclusively chiseled and gals' seductively curvy bods as the tone of the song changes from ropes over rock quarries, doing all kinds of refreshing aromatic stuff that only kids who are highly attractive and athletic and outdoorsy or permitted by law to do, having more fun than your whole family ever did, and this is while there are those two men up there, behind closed doors, who know, and what's that they're pretending not to know, but who looks exactly like ... [NO, STOP, I haven't the faintest idea what you're talking about, because I was about to suggest something really disgusting. No, don't pay any attention to me. If you turn a page or words on the title of the book, it's gotta be an inspection, this way or that, so opposite the column's true spirit that it will undoubtedly be accepted as a send up. Hmm, let's see. Let me make that stronger: Hmmm, let's see, okay, I think I've got it!"

Disclaimers: The Mocket is the April Fool's Issue of The Docket, your designer jeans in a BMW, and park your BMW in the condo garage.
PARADE

(Continued from page 1)

van through the parking lot many times. Of course, the cars were towed, but we still can’t find her. Officer Obie insisted they haven’t towed her, but we still can’t find her. Perhaps she got too boring," confided one.

One anonymous student gave his brief: “We’re not into a ratings war between pro- channel if what’s on the screen is the same. Said one: “We’re not concerned. Said one: “We’re not concerned.”

PARADE (Continued from page 1)

Eastbound traffic coming out of Rooms 29 and 30 will be diverted into the rarely-used Quadrangle — long regarded as the official shortcut from the Law Review office to the big classrooms and cafeterias — and then through the Staff Lounge across from the Vending Room. Westbound traffic bound for Rooms 29 and 30 will be diverted to the exit doors by the Placement Office and Student Lounge and then to the walkout doors on those classrooms.

We just hope this doesn’t turn into another ‘This is the way we were before pro- fraternities or a ‘Gong Show’ situation in which students change the channel if what’s on the screen is the same.”

Meanwhile, Dr. Porter’s former students maintained a vigil over the now-sealed facade of the domed pool. Early March, faithfully braving the winter cold, his tour-de-force in the student forum approved Frankino’s proposal for the domed swimming pool. His spirited ‘dissent’ was considered to have been a “hypothetical crime.” The instructor is permitted to make his voice to the doubts that now surround the student writing instructor. The difficulty in finding a replacement was another one.

No Looting

Any Looting

EARTHQUAKE

(Continued from page 1)

marching bands, balloons and other parade participants. Although this year, which probably contributed to the poor turnout. Those who showed up in previous years will remember such parade highlights as a parade down the street, Judge Cardozo, and Miss “Sciences of Justice” being chauffeured through the parking lot in a Jeep CJ driven by a disbarred Pennsylvania Small Claims Court judge, and the carnation-covered float of Blackacre (with Ben Leven waving from it, throwing roses and gypsies to the crowd of onlookers).

This year’s parade featured only one marcher, Bob’s Big Boy, who showed up in previous years. Despite the threat of violence and the smallest turn-out, the parade is considered to have been a success. There were no arrests, and no cars had to be towed for blocking the parade route. No area shopkeeper reported any looting activity following the parade, but one did claim that “these two guys came by, looked around, but they didn’t buy any- thing.” There is some speculation that these may have been the spectators, but they did not report.

No Area Shopkeeper

EARTHQUAKE

(Continued from page 1)

that these may have been the spectators, but they did not report.

No Area Shopkeeper

EARTHQUAKE

(Continued from page 1)

marching bands, balloons and other parade participants. Although this year, which probably contributed to the poor turnout. Those who showed up in previous years will remember such parade highlights as a parade down the street, Judge Cardozo, and Miss “Sciences of Justice” being chauffeured through the parking lot in a Jeep CJ driven by a disbarred Pennsylvania Small Claims Court judge, and the carnation-covered float of Blackacre (with Ben Leven waving from it, throwing roses and gypsies to the crowd of onlookers).

This year’s parade featured only one marcher, Bob’s Big Boy, who showed up in previous years. Despite the threat of violence and the smallest turn-out, the parade is considered to have been a success. There were no arrests, and no cars had to be towed for blocking the parade route. No area shopkeeper reported any looting activity following the parade, but one did claim that “these two guys came by, looked around, but they didn’t buy any- thing.” There is some speculation that these may have been the spectators, but they did not report.
The University Parking Committee announced yesterday that it had developed a plan to increase on-campus parking for the Law School. Under the plan, a parking area would be paved with asphalt and lined for twelve mini-compact automobiles. The committee cited the source of this news, "that at least two students in the community would purchase Yugo instead of Trans Am." The parking area will be located at the PARC, a Law School student organization serving to put a pool in the area.

The Administration announced last week that it was taking steps to eliminate the problems created when grade release was delayed during the Drop-Add period. According to unnamed sources, the Drop-Add period would be extended until the end of the semester. "This procedure... provides an opportunity to make a change to make course decisions based on examination questions," it was also but it also gives the faculty much-needed additional time to grade examinations. Grades could be released as late as the last week of the semester. A request to comment on the effect of students adding a course in the last week of the semester was concluded that there would be no difference in the effect. "We are quite expert in doing an entire semester's work in the week before finals." Prof. James Moore has requested the faculty to approve an amendment to the Federal Income Taxation B. Prof. Maule wants to give a thirty-minute quiz each class. The other twenty-eight co-sponsors. "The approach is designed to give the students a better understanding of the concepts and we saw..."

The Administration has announced that it will provide benefits to the entire student body, the Staff Lounge, the Women Law Caucus bulletin board, the Staff Lamp, and the Student Faculty Committee. The meeting was specifically held to discuss the content of a survey about crucifix displays in a Catholic university and the dangers of religious parochialism. The survey shows that the group was opposed to the crucifixes from the law school entirely. One group that claimed the survey was the result of a joint effort by those in favor and those opposed to the crucifixes. Most of the students want the crucifixes to be removed, while others who were initially biased, unscientific, and likely to produce skewed results. Students could not agree on how to rectify this situation. Some suggested that the biased language be removed, while others who were outside of this group, asked for additional questions, ignored the opposite, would be given. Overall fairness. The ultimate decision will naturally be made by the administration. The survey consists of forty open-ended questions, and students will retain the traditional crucifixes at the beginning of the Faculty Student Committee meeting.

The Law School has adopted a plan for dealing with the decrease in study space caused by the rental of the Student Lounge to a tenant called "Grill's". Under the plan, twenty students will be randomly selected for receipt of D and F grades. An Administration source, quoted anonymously, stated, "We anticipate that the next several weeks will demonstrate the number of students will relieve the pressure for study space. The library community will be..."

The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp. The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp. The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp.

The Library announced that it will provide benefits to the entire student body, the Staff Lounge, the Women Law Caucus bulletin board, the Staff Lamp, and the Student Faculty Committee. The meeting was specifically held to discuss the content of a survey about crucifix displays in a Catholic university and the dangers of religious parochialism. The survey shows that the group was opposed to the crucifixes from the law school entirely. One group that claimed the survey was the result of a joint effort by those in favor and those opposed to the crucifixes. Most of the students want the crucifixes to be removed, while others who were initially biased, unscientific, and likely to produce skewed results. Students could not agree on how to rectify this situation. Some suggested that the biased language be removed, while others who were outside of this group, asked for additional questions, ignored the opposite, would be given. Overall fairness. The ultimate decision will naturally be made by the administration. The survey consists of forty open-ended questions, and students will retain the traditional crucifixes at the beginning of the Faculty Student Committee meeting.

The Law School has adopted a plan for dealing with the decrease in study space caused by the rental of the Student Lounge to a tenant called "Grill's". Under the plan, twenty students will be randomly selected for receipt of D and F grades. An Administration source, quoted anonymously, stated, "We anticipate that the next several weeks will demonstrate the number of students will relieve the pressure for study space. The library community will be..."

The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp. The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp. The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp.

The Library announced that it will provide benefits to the entire student body, the Staff Lounge, the Women Law Caucus bulletin board, the Staff Lamp, and the Student Faculty Committee. The meeting was specifically held to discuss the content of a survey about crucifix displays in a Catholic university and the dangers of religious parochialism. The survey shows that the group was opposed to the crucifixes from the law school entirely. One group that claimed the survey was the result of a joint effort by those in favor and those opposed to the crucifixes. Most of the students want the crucifixes to be removed, while others who were initially biased, unscientific, and likely to produce skewed results. Students could not agree on how to rectify this situation. Some suggested that the biased language be removed, while others who were outside of this group, asked for additional questions, ignored the opposite, would be given. Overall fairness. The ultimate decision will naturally be made by the administration. The survey consists of forty open-ended questions, and students will retain the traditional crucifixes at the beginning of the Faculty Student Committee meeting.

The Law School has adopted a plan for dealing with the decrease in study space caused by the rental of the Student Lounge to a tenant called "Grill's". Under the plan, twenty students will be randomly selected for receipt of D and F grades. An Administration source, quoted anonymously, stated, "We anticipate that the next several weeks will demonstrate the number of students will relieve the pressure for study space. The library community will be..."

The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp. The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp. The Library has announced that it will provide space for additional books on golf courses. The Library will be located in the Staff Lounge, the Student Lounge, and the Staff Lamp.

The Library announced that it will provide benefits to the entire student body, the Staff Lounge, the Women Law Caucus bulletin board, the Staff Lamp, and the Student Faculty Committee. The meeting was specifically held to discuss the content of a survey about crucifix displays in a Catholic university and the dangers of religious parochialism. The survey shows that the group was opposed to the crucifixes from the law school entirely. One group that claimed the survey was the result of a joint effort by those in favor and those opposed to the crucifixes. Most of the students want the crucifixes to be removed, while others who were initially biased, unscientific, and likely to produce skewed results. Students could not agree on how to rectify this situation. Some suggested that the biased language be removed, while others who were outside of this group, asked for additional questions, ignored the opposite, would be given. Overall fairness. The ultimate decision will naturally be made by the administration. The survey consists of forty open-ended questions, and students will retain the traditional crucifixes at the beginning of the Faculty Student Committee meeting.

The Law School has adopted a plan for dealing with the decrease in study space caused by the rental of the Student Lounge to a tenant called "Grill's". Under the plan, twenty students will be randomly selected for receipt of D and F grades. An Administration source, quoted anonymously, stated, "We anticipate that the next several weeks will demonstrate the number of students will relieve the pressure for study space. The library community will be..."
Bar Review

Family Law

In an action for support during marriage, are Reeboks "necessary?"

Legal Professions

Arnie Becker represents Husband in a divorce action, but wants to sleep with Wife. Should he, No. See Code and Model Rules.

Criminal Procedure

Does a Chippendale who hides a controlled substance in his G-string have a legitimate expectation of privacy against a police search?

Torts

Can a psychic lech be held liable in trespass for mentally undressing a woman?

Contracts

Is there a cause of action for breach of contract if a woman who represents herself as wild and wanton on a computer dating questionnaire have probative value in a civil action for breach of contract if a woman who represents herself as wild and wanton on a computer dating questionnaire?

Federal Income Tax

Does a Chippendale who hides a brass knuckles as an instrument of his trade?

Federal Income Tax

Criminal Professions

Does a Chippendale who hides a brass knuckles as a business deduction, or the world in general?

Evidence

Is there a cause of action for breach of contract if a woman who represents herself as wild and wanton on a computer dating questionnaire?

Classified Ads

WANTED: BROOKE SHIELDS

Mutt Onchop, 2L:

I'm going to votive BLS. Excellent seats, assigned to law review members. Why pay dollars? Why wait? Don't go to the stacks. Available on time-sharing. "I'll do it all by myself next year; anyway." I don't need those other clowns anyway.

Ida Wanna, 3L:

I don't have +a-ve time to think of anything.

Dean Shimmies Thru Forum

On Feb. 30, 1988, Dean Steven "Who-dit?" Frankino danced his way around numerous questions at a "Forum with the Dean." In keeping with the new Dean's policy of inquisitive discrimination against third year students, 3L's were forced to the back of the room and required to stand.

The Dean proposed scrapping all examinations. "No one seems to really like them, and from what grades I've seen since I got here, the students don't seem to do as well here as they do at other schools, especially Catholic. Besides, now we won't have to worry about rescheduling them."

When questioned about professors who were resting on their laurels, Frankino announced that he would instigate campaigns of embarrassment against all of them. Frankino announced the appointment of Mocket columnist Walter "Watchdog" Lucas to a work study position to implement this new policy. He even promised to buy a typewriter for the Mocket office.

Another student asked why it appeared that most of the students on the law review came from one section. Frankino responded, "Hey, I can't help it that the other section is so dumb."

Frankino also announced that the piano in the student lounge will be removed. "What the hell is a piano doing in a law school? This isn't Amadeus, for Christ's sake!" The piano will be pushed out a third floor window by Mrs. Murphy in May to celebrate the end of the spring semester.

Because one student complained that except for the Dean's presentation, orientation was unrealistic, Frankino's face lit up with a smile and he declared that, "I'll do it all by myself next year; I don't need those other clowns anyway."

Several students questioned the anonymity of the hallowed anonymous grading system. The Dean replied, "Well — it's very easy for me. I still don't know any 3L's. They're all anonymous to me, whether you use names or numbers."

Frankino refused to answer any questions on the Student Lounge renovation matter, groaning, "Please — not that again. My eyes are still spinning from looking at all those color swatches."

The Dean also mixed a rumor that founding Dean Harold Reuschlein would be stuffed and displayed in the lounge as part of the new renovations. Dean Frankino, however, refused to comment on a late report that Dean Murray would return to VLS in a three way deal involving Lenny Levin, $80,000 in cash, overdue horribie, and an Honor Code violator to be named later.

Afterwards, Dean Frankino said that he'd enjoyed the forum, adding, "Dancing around questions from these cocky 1-L's is good practice for snowing those saps on the Board of Consultants."
Where They'll Be 10 Years From Now

Dean Frankino: President, Nebraska Interior Decorators Assn.

Michael Marryshow: Late for court!

Prof. Hank Perritt: Encased in a supercomputer.

Enid Adler: On board the first shuttle in NASA's "Lawyer in Space" program.

Walter Lucas: General counsel to Dow Chemical.

Prof. Poulin & Packel: Surgically attached at the hip.

Prof. Joe Dellapenna: On a fellowship to Tibet.

Jane Lessner: Still looking for Mr. Goodbar.
Turkington Wins Charles Bronson Look-alike Contest

Only His Hairdresser Knows for Sure

Four Reasons Why You Should Join the Women’s Law Caucus:
#1. To gossip
#2. To exchange recipes
#3. To reinforce female stereotypes
#4. To scope out and pick up the babes

The Women’s Law Caucus
Just a Coupla White Ctiicks Sittin’ Around Talkin’

We’re looking for a few good men.

To research and write endless memora nda on arcane points of law; to crank out reams of frivolous interrogatories and pretrial motions; to carry the briefcases of junior partners who are carrying the briefcases of senior partners; and, most importantly of all, to do work at $20 per hour that we can bill our clients for at $200 per hour.

Corporate Law. It’s not just a job. It’s per-adventure.

Paid for by the Corporate Law Society

Sophisticated Alternatives

By Lotta Freetime

1988

APRIL 1988

SUNDAY MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY THURSDAY FRIDAY SATURDAY

Who would you elect for resident? Husker Du at Temple, Opus, Sandra Bernhard, Lyndon LaRouche (because he’s not no phony), Elvis Presley, Perry Como (just as dull, but a little less dangerous), Pope Smut, Ronnie O'Donald, Sarah Nader, Darth Vader, Julia Child, Scissors Webeeater, Frank Perdue, WKOV

Bacchus Ambush! 4:30 pm food, drink and face painting on the spot-FREE!

"Art In City Hall", 4:30 pm food, drink and face painting on the spot-FREE!

Full Moon Walk, Story Telling and Hot Drinks 6:30 pm Andorra Nature Area Tree House

Bacchus: "Ceiling Zero" plus "Nylon Meat Dreams" 10 pm 54 cover

"Snake Eggs on My Forehead, Grrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrr
Stanley Kaplan is betting his britches that his bar review is best!

Know Why?

Because his uncle is on the Board of Law Examiners and his cousin is a computer hacker with the access code for the Multistate Bar computer.

The Best Course Of Action.