

APPENDIX J

The Law Forum, 1955-1972

- |                             |  |
|-----------------------------|--|
| Henry J. Abraham —          | Thoughts on the Emerging Constitution, the Supreme Court in Leadership Role. |
| Arlin M. Adams —            | The Law and Social Change.   |
| Anne X. Alpern —            | The Unrealistic Approach to Criminals.                                       |
| William J. Banmiller —      | The Lawyer's Responsibility to the Offender.                                 |
| Melvin M. Belli —           | The Law Is Alive — What About the Lawyers?The Law Revolt                 |
| David Berger —              | Solving the Philadelphia Transportation Crisis.                              |
| Emile Zola Berman —         | For the Defense.   |
| Genevieve Blatt —           | Law and Public Service.  |
| Anthony T. Bouscaren —      | Imperialism, The Trek from the West and East.                                |
| Catherine Drinker Bowen —   | A Biographer Looks at the Law.   |
| Edward J. Burke —           | Forensic Chemistry.  |
| Victor H. Blank —           | The Wiretapping Controversy.   |
| John Rogers Carroll —       | The Wiretapping Controversy.   |
| Joseph S. Clark —           | A Lawyer in the Senate.  |
| Kenneth B. Clark —          | Sociology and the Law — Cooperation or Conflict.                             |
| William T. Coleman, Jr. —   | Present Frontiers of Constitutional Law.                                     |
| Richard J. Daley —          | The City Faces Its Problems.   |
| Samuel Dash —               | The Wiretapping Controversy.   |
| Robert Dechert —            | The Connally Reservation.  |
| Charles L. Decker —         | Streamlining the Administration of Justice.                                  |
| Richardson Dilworth —       | The City Faces Its Problems.   |
| Thomas J. Dodd —            | In Defense of Freedom.   |
| James B. Donovan —          | Defending the Unpopular Defendant.   |
| Laurance H. Eldredge —      | Recollections of British Courts.   |
| Abraham I. Freedman —       | The Art of Advocacy.   |
| Paul Goodman —              | De Facto Censorship, People or Automatons.                                   |
| Martha Griffiths —          | Legal Discrimination and the Effect of the Equal Rights Amendment.           |
| Bernard Grossman —          | Problems of International Law Practice.                                      |
| William H. Hastie —         | Some Realities of Our Contemporary Federalism.                               |
| Milton I. Hauser —          | Law Office Management.   |
| Frederick Heldring —        | International Liquidity.   |
| Stanley K. Hornbeck —       | China in Law and in Politics.  |
| Mark DeWolfe Howe —         | The Mind of Mr. Justice Holmes.  |
| Jacob K. Javits —           | The 1957 Civil Rights Act.   |
| James Jackson Kilpatrick —  | The Sovereign States.  |
| Theodore R. Kupferman —     | The Lawyer in the Entertainment Industry.                                    |
| Samual Marsh Lane —         | Thirty Years as a New York Trial Lawyer.                                     |
| Lee Loevinger —             | Enforcing the Antitrust Laws.  |
| Thurgood Marshall —         | The Struggle for Civil Rights.   |
| Joseph W. Martin, Jr. —     | The American Political Convention — Meaning, Mechanics, Memories.            |
| Will Maslow —               | Public School Desegregation in the North.                                    |
| Alpheus H. Mason —          | The Supreme Court and the Political Process.                                 |
| David O. Maxwell —          | Instant Solvency — Insured Disaster.   |
| Theodore R. McKeldin —      | What is Good Government?   |
| James H. McRandle —         | The Perception of Injustice in Totalitarian Society.                         |
| George S. Montgomery, Jr. — | The Connally Reservation.  |
| Robert Morris —             | The Decline and Fall of American Internal Security.                          |

John M. Murtagh —	Public Law and Private Morals.
Edmund S. Muskie —	A Senator in the Soviet.
Michael A. Musmanno —	The Eichmann Case.
Ralph Nader —	Consumer Protection and Products Liability.
James M. Quigley —	Inside Congress.
W. Allyn Rickett —	The Quest for Justice in Communist China.
Norman St. John-Stevas —	Law and the Christian Morality.
Godfrey P. Schmidt —	Monitors, Unions and Labor Democracy.
Bernard Schwartz —	The Supreme Court — Trends in the New Decisions.
Paul E. Sigmunds —	Ideologies of Political Development.
Louis B. Sohn —	Disarmament is not Enough: The Legal Framework for Peace.
Horace Stern —	The Law and Its Practice.
Robert Strausz-Hupe —	Strategy and the Political Imagination.
William Stringfellow —	Race, Poverty and the Law.
Joseph D. Tydings —	The National Judicial Relief Act.
M. Gerard de la Villesbrunne —	The Evolution of France in a Changing World.
John Patrick Walsh —	The Practice of Criminal Law.
Robert C. Weaver —	The City Faces Its Problems.
W. Wilson White —	The Jencks Case and F.B.I. File Security.
Edward Bennett Williams —	The Bar, and the Challenge of Change.
Sidney Wise —	Can Congress Save Itself?